WITNESSES TELL CIO TERRORISM IN FORD STRIKE

Hope Is Raised for End of Tieup.

BY SEYMOUR KORMAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Detroit, Mich., April 8.—Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner announced this evening that there had been a "meeting of minds" at a conference attended by Philip Murray, national president of the CIO, and Ford Motor company high officials. The governor indicated strongly that there may be a settlement of the seven day strike at the vast Ford River Rouge plant in a day or two.

Others at the meeting presided over by the governor were Harry Bennett, Ford personnel director, and James F. Dewey, federal labor conciliator. Murray flew here from Washington this morning after Van Wagoner requested his presence in a telephone conversation with President Roosevelt last night.

Sabotage Story Unfolded.

Another important development during the day was the unfolding of sensational stories of violence and sabotage by CIO men on the day of the strike. These stories were told by a parade of witnesses in federal court at a hearing on the company's petition to strengthen a temporary order restraining violence at River Rouge. Many details of the sabotage, charged by the company, were disclosed in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE this morning.

The indication from Gov. Van Wagoner that the strike may be near settlement was in his remark that he had sent a telegram to President Roosevelt today requesting that the President not approve certification of the Ford strike to the national labor mediation board before the governor had again telephoned the White House. Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins had planned to certify the case to the board, altho she was delaying her action until she heard from Murray.

Miss Perkins to Comply.

Later Miss Perkins sent word to Van Wagoner from Washington that she would comply with his request and not turn over the Ford dispute to the mediation board at this time.

"New developments today," the governor told newspapermen, "in the settlement of the strike are encouraging to all parties. A meeting in which Murray and Ford officials joined myself and Dewey began at 10:30 a. m. and ended at 2:30 p. m. Another meeting is being arranged to bring the company and union officials together around the conference table, and I am hopeful we shall make further progress yet today.

"There is a meeting of minds in the desire to have work resumed promptly. I consider current developments bringing us toward that object."

The governor would not reply to a query whether Henry Ford or his son, Edsel, rulers of the great automobile manufacturing empire, were at the conference.

Crowd Jams Courtroom.

The dramatic testimony of CIO violence and sabotage was presented before a crowd which jammed the court room of Federal Judge Arthur

BOMB EXPLODES IN NAZI CONSUL'S OFFICES IN CUBA

HAVANA, Cuba, April 8 (AP).—A bomb exploded tonight in the offices of the German consulate in the heart of Havana. Office furniture was damaged, but no casualties were reported. The offices of the "Fascist Legion" are located on the same fourth floor with the German consulate in the Manzana de Gomez building.

Police reported that cards bearing the name of the illegal revolutionary organization "Antonio Guiteras" were found near the door of the German consulate. They were similar to cards seized outside the residence of Minister of State José Manuel Cortina, where a small bomb exploded last week.

At that time, Lieut. Col. Manuel Benitez, chief of national police, hinted the possibility that the terroristic attempt against Minister Cortina might be the work of antidemocratic groups.

AN ACTOR WANTS TO SAY A WORD FOR 'AMERICA FIRST'; GAGGED

BY MARCIA WINN.

The question of whether a young actor of pioneer American stock has the right to make a five minute speech in behalf of "America First" lay last night in the hands of Oscar Serlin, New York producer of "Life with Father." The young actor is lanky, red headed O. Z. Whitehead, generally known as "Zebby," who plays the rôle of father's eldest son, Clarence Day Jr., in the show at the Blackstone theater here.

O. Z. Whitehead as he appears in stage rôle.

Yesterday noon Whitehead was supposed to make a five minute speech before a group of 200 women. He was to have appeared under the auspices of the America First committee. His speech—a brief, humble recital of the stand of a member of "that generation which if there is any fighting to do will have to do it"—was not given.

Gets Order from Manager.

Harry Kline, manager of the show, ordered him not to speak.

This is the story behind it:

A week ago the youth went to Frank Loesch, a family friend, who took him to Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, vice chairman of the America First committee. He told her he was no trained speaker, that he was only an actor in a minor rôle, but that he felt so strongly opposed to America's intervention in the European war that he wanted to help in the America First campaign. Mrs. Fairbank found a booking for him.

On Monday night, during an intermission in the play, Harry Kline, manager of the show, approached Whitehead.

"You can't make that speech for that America First crowd," Kline told him.

"Why not?" the youth asked.

"Your contract won't let you," Kline retorted.

Threatens to Call Equity.

"If you do, I'm going to call Equity [Actor's Equity] and prefer charges that you are speaking on a controversial subject and endangering business."

Whitehead pointed out that his speech was brief—in reality merely an informal talk—and that he had plenty of precedent for making it. He cited innumerable actors who had spoken or appeared in behalf of such controversial undertakings as the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies.

In this group such stage celebrities as Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne, Miriam Hopkins, Katharine Hepburn, Helen Gahagan, Tallulah Bankhead, and Alexander Woollcott have appeared. Douglas Fairbanks Jr. spoke before its massmeeting in Chicago in September.

Other Notables Appear.

Jack Benny and Ed Wynn spoke for Greek war relief in Chicago last week. Eddie Cantor served as auctioneer for a New York auction for British relief. Helen Hayes sponsored a ballet to aid Britain. Raymond Massey opened an art exhibition for the benefit of the British War Relief society.

Kline said: "The answer still is 'No.' I'm not going to have business hurt by your talking for America First."

There was nothing for Whitehead to do but obey his manager.

Kline, when asked why he had made this ruling, pleaded:

"Don't put me in a corner. Whitehead would violate his contract if he spoke. It says he can't make any other public appearance except with us. Ask Equity."

Equity Agent Explains Clause.

Frank Dare, Chicago representative of the Actors' Equity association, was asked about the clause.

"Why, that clause was put in to keep people from performing at cabarets and night clubs," he said. "As far as I know it never has been used to stop an actor from expressing his opinion. I can't conceive of Equity trying to muzzle an actor."

Kline, when told of this, replied:

"If any member of our company wants to talk for America First they'll have to get permission from Serlin [Oscar Serlin, producer]. We've had letters. . . . Maybe it's because it's Lent, I don't know, but business. . . ."

Business Manager's Comment.

Efforts to locate Serlin in New York were unsuccessful, but Wally Fried, general business manager of Oscar Serlin productions, was reached at the box office of the Empire theater.

"I'm glad the decision wasn't put up to me," he said with fervor. "I'm personally a good enough American to believe that everybody has a right to get up and say what he pleases whether I'm against it or not."

HITLER TROOPS TAKE 2 'KEYS' TO VARDAR VALLEY

BULLETIN.

SOFIA, Bulgaria, April 8 (AP).—Jugo-Slav troops attacked Bulgarian frontier posts in considerable force yesterday and last night, Premier Bogdan Philov said today. The outcome of the clashes was not stated.

BERLIN, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—The German commentary Dienst aus Deutschland today reported the Jugo-Slav military center Skoplje had been occupied by German troops, and news dispatches told of many prisoners being taken in the drives into Jugo-Slavia and Greece.

But an authorized spokesman emphasized that no high command authority had indicated anything definite about operations in the Skoplje region.

In addition to reporting large numbers of prisoners, German news dispatches said large quantities of munitions and cannon were being taken.

Capture of 2d Town Reported.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 8 (AP).—The German Balkan armies were reported tonight to have seized two vital military and communication centers at Jugo-Slavia's waist and to be threatening the Greek seaport of Salonika.

While the Nazis announced capture of the Banat region of northeast Jugo-Slavia, they claimed their greatest gains in the country's center and southeast.

In middle Jugo-Slavia the cities of Skoplje, which commands the head of the Vardar river valley, and Nish, Jugo-Slavia's most important railway junction, were declared occupied.

The break-thru toward Salonika on the left Greek flank made the position of Greek troops holding the Struma valley to the east highly critical.

Great Setback to Allies.

The reported German capture of Skoplje and Nish—the first was directly claimed by the Germans and the fall of Nish was reported in Hungarian dispatches—if confirmed would suggest to some observers a setback of almost catastrophic consequences to Britain and her Balkan allies. It would mean that in less than three days the Nazis had thrust 55 miles across mountainous country.

Nish controls all rail traffic between the north and south of the country and Skoplje is similarly important. Both are army headquarters. In German hands they would provide bases for a continued thrust west only 45 miles to join the Italians in Albania.

Duplicate of French Split.

Such a junction would mean that Jugo-Slavia would be cut off from her British and Greek allies—a duplicate of the situation in the west where the northern French, British, and Belgian armies were pocketed by the Nazi action which preceded Dunkirk.

Allied action during the day was mainly defensive except in Albania, where the Italians appeared menaced by a Jugo-Slav drive southward in an attempt to join the Greeks in North Albania and trap the Fascists.

In Albania 1,500 Italians had been captured by the Greeks in two days, an Athens broadcast said.

DEMANDS BRITAIN DISCLOSE PEACE AIM TO GERMANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 8.—The demand for the government to reveal its peace aims again was voiced in the house of commons today by Richard Stokes, Laborite.

"It is imperative that a statement be made in order that reasonable Germans might understand what we are driving at and to show that we do not want another Versailles," he said. "Our present methods [by radio] of attempting to disintegrate the unity of Germany are not likely to be successful."

Minister of Information Alfred Duff Cooper said the time is not ripe for a definite statement on peace aims.

Official Story of Battle

ATHENS, Greece, April 9, Wednesday (A.P.).—The Greek high command communique follows in part:

"A German armored division having penetrated thru Jugo-Slav territory succeeded Monday night in reaching Doiran on the Greek-Jugo-Slav border.

"This division since dawn on Tuesday invaded our territory thru a corridor east of the Vardar river. Very small mechanized Greek forces gave an unequal fight against much superior enemy units.

"This effort of delaying the enemy advance went on for many hours. Eventually, however, the enemy succeeded in advancing dangerously in the direction of Salonika, cutting communications between our forces in eastern Macedonia and the rest of the country."

Way Is Sought to Lend Danish Ships to British

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—President Roosevelt this afternoon announced he will send a message to congress on Thursday asking specific authority to purchase or charter the 39 Danish merchantmen seized by this government in American ports.

The vessels, he indicated, will be lent or leased to Great Britain to carry arms and supplies into the war zones from which American merchantmen are barred.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed that the move to acquire the Danish vessels has the approval of Henrik de Kauffman, Danish minister, with whom he conferred earlier in the day.

Mr. Roosevelt said he believes he has authority under the limited emergency to take over the 28 Italian and two German vessels which were taken into "protective custody" by this government 10 days ago.

If he does not have the power to act under the limited emergency, which he proclaimed at the outbreak of the war, Mr. Roosevelt said he will proclaim a full emergency in order to do so.

Advise "Full Emergency."

A number of White House intimates, notably William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France, have been urging Mr. Roosevelt to proclaim a full emergency as a further means of aiding Great Britain in her war against Germany.

The President emphasized that acquisition of the Danish and the axis owned vessels present widely different problems.

Mr. Roosevelt said he is confident that he can take over the German ships by forfeiture, saying that the Germans and Italians had violated American law by sabotaging some of their vessels while they were enjoying the protection of American ports.

The President did not explain his power to take over the German and Italian ships except by use of the word forfeiture. It was assumed that he will act under the world war espionage act, which provides for the forfeiture of any vessels of belligerent powers after sabotage attempts.

Criminal Action Under Way.

The department of justice has instituted criminal proceedings against the officers and crews of the sabotaged German and Italian vessels. The government has asked for the recall of the Italian naval attaché on the ground that he inspired the attempts to damage the Italian merchantmen. The Italian government has not yet acted on this request.

Once the officers and crews of the vessels are convicted, it is believed the department of justice will institute forfeiture proceedings. When these are concluded, the President probably will lend or lease the vessels to Great Britain or some other nation which may be fighting the Rome-Berlin-Tokio axis.

Send New Protests.

Germany and Italy have sent this country new notes protesting the ship seizures.

The German communication, which followed Secretary of State Cordell Hull's flat rejection of earlier axis protests, was said to have made more specific the charge that the seizures violated international law and a treaty of friendship. It also was said to have called for further information regarding the prosecution of German seamen for sabotage.

The Italian note complained that Italian seamen are being held in unsatisfactory prison quarters at Mobile, Ala., and Galveston, Tex. This complaint was referred to the justice department.

FRENCH GET FOOD U.S. SENDS: LEAHY

Satisfied by Distribution, Envoy Declares.

'Last' Food Sent

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—The two shiploads of food from America that have just reached France probably will be the last until the war is over, informed officials indicated today.

There appears to be little hope that the British will permit any more shipments of food thru the blockade because of new grievances against the Vichy government and their belief that it is dominated by Germany.

Britain and the Roosevelt administration resisted demands to send American food to unoccupied France until Admiral Jean Darlan, French vice premier, threatened to use warships to convoy food from French colonies. The blockade was then relaxed to pass two Red Cross food ships from the United States.

TOULON, France, April 8.—After hundreds of children waving American flags and shouting in chorus "merci, merci, merci [thanks]," had greeted Admiral William D. Leahy, American ambassador to France, here today, he made the following statement:

"After my observations in Marseilles yesterday and here in Toulon today, I am satisfied that all the supplies sent to unoccupied France by the American Red Cross are distributed only to the children for whom they are intended. The system of distribution is being improved every day. I have told the French that I hope this is only a beginning."

Thousands of Children Out.

The prefect of Var department, Jean la Hillonne, explained later that the packing of the American milk was so excellent that all the wrappers and the tinfoil would be saved and put to good use in the French free zone.

The reception given in Toulon to the American ambassador and Mrs. Leahy was essentially one by the children. Thousands of them, on an Easter vacation, turned out spontaneously in the bright sunshine.

Flags Fly Everywhere.

The town was so beflagged that one marveled that there could be found so many stars and stripes. There was a naval guard of honor and also a naval band to play the national anthems of France and America. Cheers for President Roosevelt were as numerous as those for America.

In one district center a boy read an address to Admiral Leahy. It ended: "For so much human kindness we want you to thank the children of your great country and to send them the good wishes of all the children of France."

The ambassador's party later went to Monte Carlo for a few days' rest.

STRUMA ARMY CUT OFF FROM REST OF LAND

BULLETIN.

LONDON, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—German troops have captured Komotine in Grecian Thrace, and Greek troops are retreating toward the Turkish frontier to the east, it was reported unofficially today by the British news agency Exchange Telegraph. The Greeks were fighting a rearguard action to cover their retreat to Alexandroupolis (Dede Agach), the agency dispatch from Ankara, Turkey, reported.

(Maps on back page.)

ATHENS, April 9 Wednesday (AP).—A German mechanized division smashing southward from the Jugo-Slav border "dangerously in the direction of Salonika" threatened to encircle Greek forces holding off Nazi onslaughts at the Struma river passes to the east, the high command said today.

Communications between the hard fighting Greeks in eastern Macedonia and other forces in the Vardar valley already have been cut by Germans, the communique said.

[Between 40,000 and 60,000 British infantry and mechanized troops have been sent into positions to face the German attack in the north of Greece, Winston Burdette, Columbia Broadcasting system correspondent at Ankara, Turkey, reported last night in a broadcast heard in America. Burdette said most of the British were massed in and around Katerine, southwest of Salonika and the Vardar river, "on the second line of defense," when the Germans began their attacks on Palm Sunday.]

Jugo-Slav Town Falls.

The encircling German thrust began at dawn on Tuesday after Doiran, a Jugo-Slav town near the junction of the Jugo-Slav-Greek-Bulgarian frontiers, had fallen.

Rolling thru a mountain pass east of Axioupolis, Greece, and the Vardar river valley leading down to Salonika, less than 50 miles away, the Germans pushed relentlessly on as outnumbered Greek defenders sought to delay them.

"Eventually, however, the enemy succeeded in pushing dangerously in the direction of Salonika, cutting communications between our forces in eastern Macedonia and the rest of the country," the communique said.

This break-thru by way of Jugo-Slavia apparently was caused when Jugo-Slav troops withdrew from the Doiran area to rush to Skoplje to defend that key Jugo-Slav city from the Nazi offensive. The Greek flank thus was exposed.

Hold Fast in Struma Valley.

On the right flank, along the Bulgarian frontier and particularly at the Struma river passes and on the plateau of Nevrokopi, great successes were claimed for the Greeks.

Seventy Nazi parachutists were captured and others wiped out, the communique said. One hundred and thirty had been captured and others killed the day before.

Attacked repeatedly by German tank charges and under a relentless hammering by heavy artillery, every Greek fort was said to be holding out.

One, the Greek fort of Davtavil, was captured by the Germans and held briefly. A Greek counterattack drove them out. German attackers were unable to withstand a terrific barrage laid down by the Greek fortress artillery, the communique declared.

Greeks Make Some Attacks.

But the Greeks as well as the Germans were doing the attacking, in some cases leaving their entrenchments to carry the fight to the Nazis, it was said.

Enormous German losses were suffered according to reports reaching here, and the fighting has been violent ever since the German attack began at dawn on Sunday.

The Rupel, Usita, Paliourone, Karata, and Lisse forts were mentioned by the high command as remaining

BRITISH QUESTION WISDOM OF AID GIVEN TO GREEKS

Suggest Troops Had More Value in Libya.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 8.—The scarcity of news of developments in the war in Jugo-Slavia and Greece has been a disquieting factor here. British newspapers, altho hopeful, caution their readers against false optimism.

Some skepticism even has been expressed as to the wisdom of British landings in Greece and suggestions made that it might have been better if the British had kept on with their campaign to wipe out the Italians entirely from Tripoli.

The Evening Standard's "Londoners' Diary," referring to this, assailed those now demanding an inquiry on Gen. Archibald P. Wavell's "failure to march on Tripoli." A month ago, the paper said, a certain section of the press clamored for the British army to support the Greeks.

Britons on the Struma?

"Now they've got it," the Standard continued, "but where did the new army of the Struma [river] come from? It is largely the old army of the Nile."

Altho stating that every responsible journalist has known the facts for more than three weeks, the Standard admitted there now is "some criticism of this move."

The Daily Mail was even more emphatic in attributing the sudden change in the outlook for Britain to the weakening of the forces in North Africa. "Such a rapid reversal of our fortunes is unpleasant," it stated. "The country now knows that it is due to the diversion of some of our forces from Cirenaica to the Balkans."

The Daily Telegraph, editorializing under the heading, "Critical Days," said the obscurity of the situation on the long, tortuous Balkan front must not disguise from us the fact that we are approaching a crisis which will determine the duration of the war."

Stress Critical Situation.

Other papers also stressed the critical nature of the struggle, which, while "not a decisive battle," would, if won by the British, definitely hasten the end of the hostilities.

The Daily Herald, urging that the public be given all possible news, stated:

"The British people have no illusions about the grim phase of the war which opened this week. They are prepared for news of setbacks as well as triumphs. But they do expect to be given news."

The News Chronicle introduced a new note by referring to the tremendous German strength, the lack of preparedness in Jugo-Slavia, and the absence of a unified command.

6 U. S. WARSHIPS ARRIVE AT NEW BASE IN BERMUDA

BERMUDA, April 8.—Explaining the reason for yesterday's haste in commissioning the United States naval base here, six American naval units—two cruisers, three destroyers, and an aircraft carrier—arrived here this morning. It is assumed they are to be operated more or less permanently from Bermuda as part of the newly formed Atlantic fleet. In this connection it was recalled that Maj. Frank S. Gilman of the United States marines, speaking at the Rotary club last week, said that it seemed to him the sooner the American bases were completed the sooner the British naval forces now in this vicinity could be released to England.

33D DIVISION HAS NO PLACE TO GO FOR RECREATION

Theaters, Service Club Not Completed.

BY CLAY GOWRAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Camp Forrest, Tenn., April 8 [Special].—The 10,700 men and officers of the 33d division, Illinois National Guard, are in their fourth week of training here at Camp Forrest. In those four weeks the only recreation available to them, outside of an occasional visit to the drab little village of Tullahoma, has been evenings spent in army canteens.

Camp Forrest has three large moving picture theaters, scheduled to be ready upon arrival of the first units of Illinois soldiers. The three theaters still are in process of completion.

The camp has a service club, with a cafeteria, library and dance floor, which eventually will be the central recreation building for the soldiers. At present, however, the cafeteria still is undergoing finishing touches and is not open. The library room is complete to the last nail and last dab of varnish, but it has no books or magazines for soldiers to read.

Explains Theater Delay.

Maj. Carl H. Breitweiser, constructing quartermaster for the army at Camp Forrest, explained today why not even one of the theaters is in operation.

"Our main theater, which seats 1,100 men, is done as far as construction goes," he said, "however, the war department will not send men out to install the projection and sound apparatus, which is already in camp, until the other two theaters are done. They will not be ready until April 15. The war department wants the experts to do all of the installations at one time."

Miss Martha LaGrone of Memphis, Tenn., the librarian assigned to Camp Forrest, said today that she hopes to receive her first shipment of books late this week or early next week. This first shipment probably will number about 1,000 volumes, she said.

Club Nearly Ready.

Mrs. Ann McClain of Chattanooga, Tenn., senior hostess at Camp Forrest, said that she will have the service club cafeteria in operation late this week. Kitchen and dining room equipment now is being installed.

The service club had its informal opening last Saturday night with a party attended by Illinois men and soldiers of the two Tennessee and one Colorado regiments stationed here. The formal opening will be held later.

Assisting Mrs. McClain in the operation of the service club and the adjoining guest house, where civilians will stay during visits to the camp, are two junior hostesses. Miss Gladys Addington of Knoxville, Tenn., is a former school teacher.

The other junior hostess, Miss Cumi Campbell of Knoxville, has had an especially interesting career before coming to Camp Forrest. A graduate of the University of Tennessee law school, she is the only woman ever to have been admitted to the 12 month police course at the Kansas police school in Wichita.

3,000 TROOPS SAIL FROM BROOKLYN FOR 3 OUTPOSTS

New York, April 8 [Special].—Carrying 3,000 regular army troops bound for Panama, Hawaii and the Philippines, the steamship Washington sailed from the army base in Brooklyn today on its maiden voyage as a United States army transport. This was the largest contingent of soldiers to debark at the base since world war days.

Chartered by the war department from the United States Lines, the Washington has undergone extensive reconstruction. The converted liner's identification now reads "U. S. Army Transport Washington." All funnels have been repainted a brilliant red, white and blue.

HOPE YOU WIN! SERB KING TOLD BY ROOSEVELT

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—President Roosevelt cheered on the fighting Jugo-Slavs today with a renewed pledge of material aid and with words of admiration for what he termed courageous resistance to a "criminal assault."

In a message to young King Peter II.—the first sent by the United States government since the attack on Jugo-Slavia—the President described the German invasion as "unprovoked and ruthless aggression."

Expressing the hope that the resistance would be successful, he said the people and government of the United States were "witnessing with admiration the courageous self-defense of the Jugo-Slav people.

HIT 'BLACKMAIL' TACTICS OF ICKES' ALASKA AGENTS

Fishermen Tell of Club Held Over Livelihood.

[This is the fourth of a series of articles describing conditions which caused the Alaskan legislature to demand that President Roosevelt oust Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes or transfer territorial supervision to another department.]

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

JUNEAU, Alaska, April 8.—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes' agents virtually "blackmail" Alaskan fishermen into pleading guilty to alleged violation of Ickes' fishing regulations, it was charged today by James V. Davis, Democratic member of the legislature, which is demanding that Ickes' rule over the territory be ended by President Roosevelt.

Interviews with fishermen disclosed much bitterness over the conditions cited by Representative Davis. They all agreed that the practice of impounding boats and gear after the trial of fishermen accused of violations is un-American and must be stopped.

Frequently, innocent men are thus robbed of an entire fishing season and their families compelled to go hungry or seek public relief, these workers in Alaska's largest industry said.

22 Per Cent Fall in Pack.

Under Ickes' control a decrease of 22 per cent in last year's salmon pack, compared with a five year average, has hit not only the pocketbooks of fishermen and cannery workers, but the territorial treasury, which relies for most of its revenue upon this industry.

"When Ickes' men arrest a man on a charge of illegal fishing they confiscate the boats and then inform him that if he will plead guilty and pay a fine the boats will be released," said Representative Davis.

"The fine is not the judgment of a court but is fixed by Ickes' bureau of fisheries. Because of the short season it is possible to deprive fishermen of an entire season of labor and income by tying up their boats and gear.

"It is penalizing the fisherman without giving him a real opportunity to defend himself. It is unfair for government officers in this way to blackmail our citizens into being criminals by having them plead guilty."

Fishermen Tell of Woes.

Down on the waterfront, Jeremiah Poole made sure that his visitor was not from Washington, D. C., before giving vent to wrathful resentment. Poole, hale and hearty at the age of 80, was born near Rockford, Ill., and came here a decade before the gold rush of 1898.

"We don't want those master heads up here smoking their big cigars," he boomed thru his walrus mustache. "Those guys with their fat jobs think we will be a bunch of Babylonian slaves, but we aren't going to take it! We cracked this country here—opened it up. We want you to tell the facts and we don't care who it hits.

"The tide puts you over into a closed area sometimes when the anchor drags. Those Ickes guys see the anchor and they know what happened. But they're big men you can't talk to and they grab your boat and tie it up."

Agents Assailed as "Hard."

John Wise, an Indian-Irish fisherman present with his full blooded Indian wife, had been nodding in agreement.

"Sometimes a man is arrested in July and he must wait until November for his trial," he said. "If he can't put up bond, he is kept in jail. If he gets bond, he goes out and tries to find work. It is tough because by then the fishing boats are full handed.

"Agents were not so hard before, but in the last year I noticed they were bad. What can we do?"

Sandy Stevens, fish buyer and also part Indian, said that last year the Ickes agents seized 75 boats in the Icy straits and Chatham straits, the main salmon fishing grounds near here.

"You're not guilty but they make you guilty," he said.

Harm to Industry Told.

The Tribune reporter interviewed the superintendents of three large salmon canneries who stopped here in coastal steamers on their spring trip to prepare for the season. They said that Ickes was harming their industry but pleaded that their names not be used because they were certain there would be retaliation in the form of rule changes affecting their districts.

"The rules were supposed to be settled at the last hearing, but just a day ago we got word that our fishing would be shortened 12 hours more a week," said one superintendent. "This, plus the fact that we are held to 20 per cent less gear than last year, means that our pack might be reduced by as much as 50 per cent, depending on how the salmon run."

"The whole thing is a mess," another said, "The agent in a given place has no power to regulate the season rules. By the time his telegram about actual conditions goes to Juneau and on to Washington and a reply goes to Juneau and back to us, at least five days pass. By that time the show is over because even one hour makes a big difference."

Alice Faye relaxing in deck chair aboard the liner America as it reached New York.

New York, April 8 [Special].—The United States liner America, the largest ship in the American merchant marine and the only vessel now being operated by the United States Lines, arrived today from San Francisco, Mexico, the Panama canal, and Havana with 400 passengers.

Among them was Alice Faye, blonde motion picture actress, who was divorced recently from Tony Martin, the singer. She admitted that she is "keeping steady company" with Phil Harris, orchestra leader. She was evasive, however, about reports that she and Harris are engaged. When asked about rumors of marriage she replied that Mr. Harris hasn't asked her—yet.

The America is the only luxury liner of the United States Lines in service, as the Washington has been taken for an army transport and the Manhattan is still recovering from its grounding off the coast of Florida.

New Envoys to Russia and China Named by France

VICHY, France, April 8 (AP).—Gaston Bergery, independent leftist deputy, today was appointed temporary ambassador to Moscow, replacing Eric Labonne. Louis de Robein was named ambassador to China, replacing Robert Cosme. Bergery married American born Bettina Shaw-Jones in 1934.

GERMANS MOVE 28 MILES A DAY IN JUGO-SLAVIA

Army Advances as Planes Bomb Serbs.

BERLIN, April 8 (AP). — German sources reported late today their troops had advanced from Bulgaria and Rumania to Skoplje, important Jugo-Slav military center commanding the head of the Vardar river valley and about 100 miles northwest of Salonika, Greece. The Germans said they were advancing about 28 miles a day. Skoplje, in south central Jugo-Slavia, is about 60 miles west of the Bulgarian frontier.

[The Jugo-Slav government was last reported to have been set up at Vranje, about half-way between Skoplje and Nish.]

A German spokesman, declaring there had been no clashes with British troops in this area, added, "perhaps we will have to issue a formal invitation for the British to come out and fight."

Speculate on Line of Attack.

If the Germans should elect to deliver such an "invitation" in person, their line of attack doubtless would be down the Vardar, avoiding the rougher terrain both east and west.

Or, disregarding the British expeditionary force temporarily, German troops could elect to push west from Skoplje, and establish contact with their Italian allies fighting the Greeks in Albania, military observers suggested.

In the opinion of the authoriative commentary, Dienst aus Deutschland, a westward move would separate the Greeks from the main body of the Jugo-Slav army.

Bomb Troop Trains.

Military circles said that the German air force assisted ground troops in taking Serbian border and bunker fortifications and later turned its attention to the hinterland.

"Bombers harassed a widely meshed rail network, derailing and destroying troop trains, blasting freight trains and toppling railroad bridges," these circles said.

The high command announced that the air force again had attacked fortifications at Belgrade, the Bulgarian capital, dropping incendiaries and explosives.

[German dispatches published in Budapest, Hungary, said German bombers had destroyed the Serpski Kralj, Belgrade's largest hotel, which, it was said, was being used as a general headquarters. Other points declared destroyed were barracks, the National theater, the radio station, and many important manufacturing plants.]

Thirty-two Jugo-Slav planes were reported destroyed on the ground.

"In the region around Skoplje our air force units bombed infantry and motorized columns and machine gunned them," a communique said.

GERMAN DRIVE IN MACEDONIA SPLITS GREEKS

Smash South to Menace Port of Salonika.

Their left flank exposed by the withdrawal of the Jugo-Slavs, the Greeks fought bitterly to hold the vital Rupel pass, a bloody angle along the Struma river.

Reminder of Thermopylae.

It was an action that appeared reminiscent of Thermopylae and other famous stands of history.

The Greek general staff's communique announced:

"Jugo-Slav troops fighting in southern Serbia withdrew, uncovering the left flank of our troops, who were heroically fighting on the border line. Despite this, our soldiers continue to fight with great self-sacrifice, defending the fatherland inch by inch."

The Greeks, who still were occupied also with the Italians to the west—in Albania—met the storming Nazis head-on at Rubel.

Among those standing at the head of the line at Rupel, said Greek accounts reaching here, was a "battalion of death"—men who had volunteered for the last perilous outpost service of dynamiting bridges.

Overwhelmed by Foe.

A group of 150 such desperate men was declared to have held off for 36 hours a German force 20 times as large. Several ravines are heaped with German bodies and dozens of smashed tanks and armored cars, dispatches from the front said.

In one valley, these accounts said, the Greeks let the Germans advance some distance without opposition and then opened with heavy artillery and machine gun fire from the forest.

British announcements dealt solely with air raids on various German concentration points.

The railway station at Gorni Dzumaya was bombed and several fires started, the RAF command said: At Simitli, "bombs straddling the railway and road exploded near sheds, causing many fires"; a motor convoy was machine gunned; Petrich was bombed so severely, it was stated, that the smoke from numerous fires prevented accurate observation of the damage.

Bombers, shielded by fighter planes, blasted at German motorized columns near Strumica, just inside Jugo-Slavia.

British Discount Salonika.

LONDON, April 8 (AP).—British sources tonight belittled the value of Salonika, Grecian debarkation point of the imperial expeditionary force in the Balkans, in a declaration which might indicate the British-Greek forces will make their main stand against the Nazi panzer [armored] divisions behind the Vardar river.

Salonika, Aegean seaport at the mouth of the Vardar, was declared officially "no longer necessarily important to military operations" because of its vulnerability to air attack.

Military circles said that perhaps British strategy would be to make a stand along the Vardar marshes and farther west of the river in the mountains. Such a move apparently would mean giving up the Struma river positions along which Greek troops have been fighting valiantly.

British military sources, admittedly in the dark as to Balkan strategy, conceded, however, that if Germany has captured Skoplje, Jugo-Slavia, "the situation in Jugo-Slavia might be unfavorable."

Say Serbs Poorly Equipped.

Speaking of Jugo-Slavia almost as a third party rather than an active ally in the European conflict, the British said initial German successes in Jugo-Slavia were possible because the Jugo-Slavs not only were outnumbered but were inadequately equipped and unable to provide themselves with effective air support.

The British said, that while Jugo-Slav airports were about the best in the Balkans, they apparently were weakly defended against German bombing.

Blames Husband

Countess Ethleene de Sakhnoffsky.

Count Alexis de Sakhnoffsky.

Los Angeles, Cal., April 8 (AP).—The American born wife of Count Alexis de Sakhnoffsky, airplane, automobile, and boat designer, charged today he left her three months ago for another woman, a "buxom and voluptuous blonde." The countess, suing for separate maintenance, asked $1,000 a month for support from the Russian born count, now a naturalized American.

She testified: "I found a letter in a garbage pail and when I pieced it together it was a reply to an advertisment reading: 'Companion wanted by continental gentleman with private means and open auto.' He said he got 50 replies. He told me my ideas on sex were old-fashioned, and that people should be discreet but modern, and take their love where they wanted it."

The count filed an answer resisting his wife's demands, but agreed to pay her $400 a month pending settlement of the suit. The court took the case under advisement.

The countess is the former Ethleene Frasier of Chicago.

Italians Enter a Corner of Jugo-Slavia.

ROME, April 8 (AP).—From the Albanian front, a correspondent for Il Lavoro Facista today said aerial scouts reported intense troop activity in the Jugo-Slav rear line and a withdrawal from air fields at Kicevo, 40 miles southwest of Skoplje, and at Tetovo, 25 miles west of Skoplje, and both near the Albanian frontier.

The dispatches said Italian troops set foot on Jugo-Slav soil on Monday on the eastern shore of Lake Ochrida, seven miles south of Struga after a machine gun and rifle skirmish with Jugo-Slav frontier forces.

The Italians were reported to have begun an offensive against the Greeks in an effort to join German forces pushing into Jugo-Slavia to the east.

Claim Greek Drive Crushed.

The official news agency Stefani said the Italians had crushed "desperate Greek attempts" to make contact with Jugo-Slav forces on a road along the Albanian shore of Lake Ochrida.

Stefani said the Greeks suffered heavy losses in today's fighting. "The defeats were bloody and prisoners filed in long lines behind our lines," the agency said.

While the departure of Jugo-Slav diplomats and journalists from Italy was indefinitely postponed until some place could be found for them to go, Stefani, Italian news agency, published a 10 months old appeal from Croatian nationalists asking Premier Mussolini to intervene "in the sacred and just cause of the Croat nation against the barbaric intrusion of Serbs and their allies."

The appeal, Stefani said, was dated Zagreb, June 10, 1940, and signed by delegates of 66 Croat nationalist committees.

[It was on that date that Italy entered the war against France and Great Britain.]

American Embassy Under Guard.

Italian troop detachments guarded the Jugo-Slav and Greek legations. The American embassy and consulate also were guarded as throngs demonstrated joyfully as Italian victories in Africa and the Balkans were reported.

Precautions at the American buildings presumably were taken in view of press attacks on the United States for taking Italian ships into custody and aiding Italy's foes.

Fascist party posters on Roman walls proclaimed:

"It is not for nothing that British and American people call themselves 'cousins.' Not only is their language identical but their instincts are the same and so are their actions. History will punish the 'cousins' as only it knows how to punish."

SERB MOUNTAIN TROOPS HARASS FLEEING ITALIANS

Capture 'New Positions' in Albania.

BERNE, Switzerland, April 8.—Pushing eastward up the Drin river from Scutari, Jugo-Slav mountain troops continued to harass the Italians in retreat southward and southwestward from that town captured yesterday, according to a report received here from "somewhere in Jugo-Slavia" today.

Other forces attacking from the eastern frontier of Albania captured almost 100 prisoners in the neighborhood of Kukas, also on the Drin river.

Further south, troops attacking from just north of Lake Ochrida advanced after heavy shelling and occupied "new positions." The exact location of other offensives or their extent was not divulged.

Shoot German Chute Troops.

In an attack on the neighborhood east of Skoplje, Jugo-Slavia, German parachutists equipped with flamethrowers attacked communication lines in advance of the German main body and "succeeded in doing nothing."

Jugo-Slav units, it was said, wiped out many of the attackers before they landed, while others were captured before much damage could be done.

A communique issued from Jugo-Slav general headquarters said that all attacks had been repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy and that "the situation was favorable to the defenders on all fronts."

Aerial activity was again intense on both sides, with Belgrade suffering another concentrated attack. There were reported to be many casualties, but no details were given. Four enemy planes were shot down by the anti-aircraft defenses and "several others" by Jugo-Slav planes.

Attack Nazis in 2 Countries.

The Jugo-Slav air force again attacked military objectives in Hungary and Bulgaria. Only three planes were reported to have been lost in these operations, which included raids on Pecs, Szeged, and Baja in Hungary and military concentrations in the Struma valley region. In one raid on the Struma region a direct hit was scored on an infantry column.

After a silence of more than two whole days the Belgrade radio returned to the air tonight. It said German bombers dropped their loads in the center of the capital on Sunday night. Parts of the city were said to be in ruins. Many were killed, including the Slovene Catholic party leader, Father Fran Kulovetz, whose funeral was held today in Ljubljana.

Searched by British

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

MRS. MARGARET S. STARR.

New York, April 8 [Special].—Mrs. Margaret S. Starr, 25 years old, a New York divorcee, said yesterday that British authorities stripped and searched her March 26 on the liner Evangeline shortly before the vessel left Nassau, Bahamas, for New York. She said they refused to explain their reasons for the search. The liner was delayed while the search was made.

29,630 CIVILIANS DIED IN RAIDS IN 10 MOS.: BRITAIN

LONDON, April 8 (AP).—Air raids on Britain have killed 29,630 civilians and injured 40,930 from June, 1940, thru March, the ministry of home security announced tonight. Of this total of 70,560 casualties it was estimated that one-fourth occurred in London. March's casualties were 9,816 of which 4,259 were killed. The heavy assault on Glasgow accounted alone for 1,100 deaths and 1,000 injuries in the March figures.

LET JUGO-SLAVIA FATE BE WARNING, NAZIS TELL SWISS

Aroused Over Criticism Voiced in Press.

BERLIN, April 8 (AP).—Switzerland was warned today by Karl Megerle [German commentator who sometimes voices the opinions of the foreign office] to take note of what has happened to Jugo-Slavia.

The journalist, writing in the Boersen Zeitung, called attention of the Swiss to results of inner unrest in Jugo-Slavia which, he said, "sabotaged a foreign policy of common sense." The article was entitled, "Once Again Nothing Is Learned."

Aroused by Swiss Paper.

Megerle directed attention to a recent article in the Swiss paper Thurgauer Zeitung which praised the honor and bravery of the Jugo-Slavs. He said the newspaper called on Swiss leaders to note that Switzerland might one day find herself in a position similar to that of Jugo-Slavia and should then exhibit the same courage and honor.

The German writer declared that the Swiss paper was sharply critical of Germany, altho the Swiss government is neutral.

"Wild" Press Assailed.

In modern Europe, Megerle said, the thesis that a government could be neutral while the press runs wild with partisanship could lead to nothing but "compromise and danger for the foreign policy of that land."

Statements like those of the Thurgauer Zeitung "unfortunately are not single derailments," Megerle wrote. Because of a "lack of understanding, there is resentment and enmity toward Germany."

With Switzerland, he said, Germany did not know whether she was dealing with a "loyal comrade or some shifty fellow."

Civilian Railway Traffic Virtually Halts in Hungary

BERNE, Switzerland, April 8.—Indicating the extent of the mobilization of Hungarian railways for the Germans' Balkan offensive, an official announcement in Budapest tonight proclaimed the virtual suspension of civilian railway traffic. Henceforth, it said, only five lines will run express trains, one daily in each direction—three to Germany, one to Russia, and one to Rumania. For all the other lines there will be but one train daily in each direction.

Berliners Speak Only of 'Serb' Army Now.

BY ALEX SMALL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, April 8.—News of the campaign in the Balkans as printed in Berlin is scanty, but the manner in which the fragments are presented indicates what future developments may be.

For instance, in semi-official circles today all reference to the "Jugo-Slav" army has been dropped. It is now simply the "Serbian" army.

One newspaper account of action along the northwest Jugo-Slav frontier said that "square kilometer by square kilometer the German army is conquering back ancient German land." The region referred to is that inhabited by the Slovenes, with its main city of Maribor, which the Germans call Marburg.

Shuffle of 1919 Recalled.

Most newspapers recall the fact that this region, as well as all the territory north of Belgrade, was part of the old Austro-Hungarian empire until 1919, when it was incorporated into the newly formed kingdom of the Serbs, Croats, and Slovenes, which later was named Jugo-Slavia.

Further, all papers print a resolution said to have been adopted by all Croats living in the protectorate of Bohemia-Moravia. The resolution blames Belgrade for its putsch, which "destroyed peace and brought war and bloodshed on itself. We Croats hope that the hour of liberation from the Serbian yoke will soon be found for us by means of the invasion of German troops."

Nazi Diplomats Busy.

BERLIN, April 8 (AP).—While the Nazi army was engaged in battle in the Balkans, German diplomacy was equally active today.

Concerning Hungary, Rumania, and Bulgaria, authoritative sources said they could make no statement. To observers of foreign office practices this indicated that important decisions in those quarters were in the offing.

The British rupture of relations with Hungary was regarded by these sources as anticipating the inevitable. "England has no business in the Balkans, not even diplomatically," they said.

When asked whether this applied to duration of the war only, or for all time, their rejoinder was, "At present we are talking about the war. What happens after the war depends on whether England still exists."

Turk Relations "Unchanged."

When further pressed as to whether this meant that English diplomats must disappear from Turkey also, these sources said Turkey wasn't part of the Balkans.

Replying to one correspondent's observation that the Turkish press and radio were decidedly critical of Germany, the spokesman observed, "The press and radio are instruments wherewith treaty obligations are fulfilled."

They declined to explain further this statement, but added that since the recent exchange of messages between Turkey's president, Ismet Inonu, and Adolf Hitler, the situation has not changed.

These sources were equally reserved regarding German relations with Russia.

Town in German Poland Orders Blackout at Once

BERLIN, April 8 (AP).—The newspaper at Litzmannstadt, formerly Lodz, in German occupied Poland, has published the orders of the police chief for a blackout of the district, effective at once.

Cash In at Court

Mrs. Ida Dell (left), the first wife, and Mrs. Rose Dell, the present wife of Earl Dell, in court yesterday.

Judge Rudolph Desort yesterday ordered Earl Dell, 43 years old, 1331 Addison street, to pay $20 a week temporary alimony to his present wife, Rose, 30, and awarded her predecessor, Ida, 39, a judgment for $150 support on which Dell is in arrears. The women, who became friends when Rose used to accompany Dell to Ida's home at 4057 Bernard street to make his support payments, came into court arm in arm. The present Mrs. Dell, who has a child, Catherine Anne, 5 months old, is suing Dell for divorce on a charge of drunkenness. She married him in 1938, eight years after Mrs. Ida Dell had divorced him.

Gas Station Owner Shot by Bandit, but Saves Cash

Abe Malovitz, part owner of a gas station at 2956 Roosevelt road, was slightly wounded last night but saved the station cash. He told Lieut. Edward Collopy of the Marquette street station that a bandit tried to hold him up after buying gasoline. Malovitz ran instead, was hit in midflight. He is in Mount Sinai hospital.

BRITAIN TO BUY AND DISTRIBUTE ALL VEGETABLES

Prices Will Be Fixed, Sales Controled.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, April 8.—The state, which now practically has supreme powers over man power, finance, and industry, today extended its authority to control all vegetable sales thruout the country.

Lord Woolton, minister of food, announced the setting up of a vegetable marketing company that will buy on behalf of his department and provide distribution of all home produced vegetables. It will deal first in onions and carrots. The growers' price will be fixed and the retail price controlled.

In guaranteeing prices to growers, the scheme is limited to persons who cultivate one acre or more and does not include private gardens.

In an attempt to prevent rising living costs and stabilize wages, the government is planning a wide extension of price controls and subsidies, it was disclosed. Shipping, freight, railway rates, electricity, coal, and gas charges, and the prices of boot and shoe repairs, furniture storage, laundering, etc., will be fixed.

Higher shipping charges in the future will not affect food prices, it is stated, but will be borne by the treasury. Railway freight rates and fares will be fixed at the present levels, despite the workers' claim for a 10 shilling [$2] weekly wage increase. Treasury aid will be given to railroads where necessary and it is hoped that a compromise can be reached with the workers.

Increases in retail prices will be limited, even where higher overheads and reduced trade may justify extra costs.

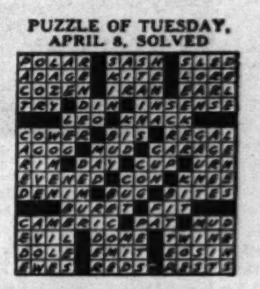
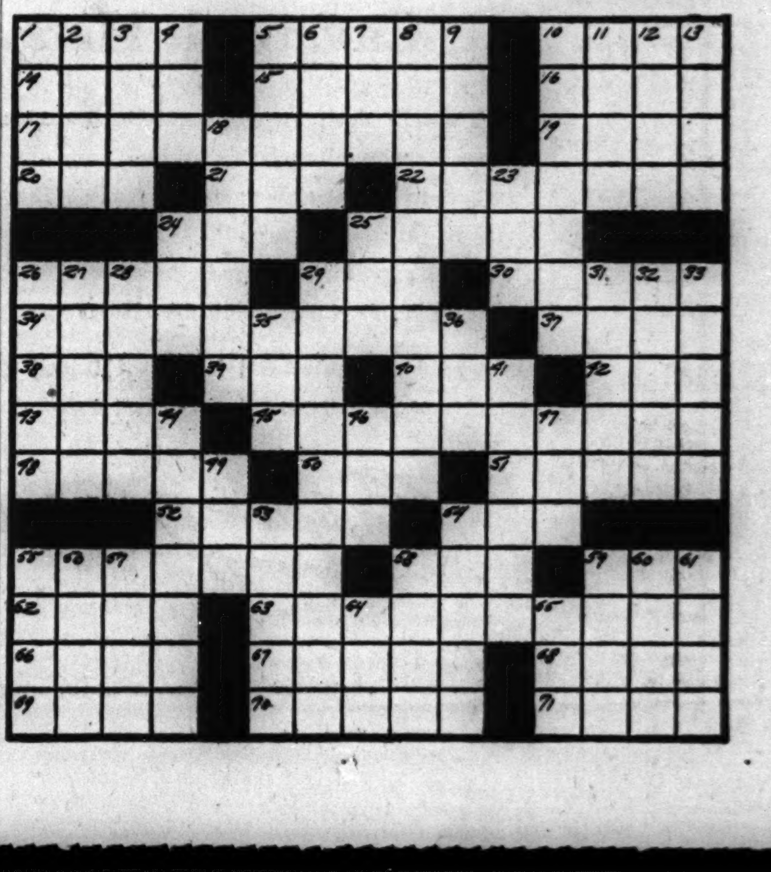
PUZZLE OF TUESDAY, APRIL 8, SOLVED





AXIS FORCE AIMS FOR TOBRUK AS BRITISH RETREAT

ROME, April 8 (AP).—The swift eastward push of axis forces in North Africa beyond the reoccupied Libyan port of Derna overshadowed in military circles tonight the Italian land operations in Jugo-Slavia. Dispatches from Jugo-Slavia called the operations minor patrol skirmishes.

Axis occupation of Tobruk, 100 miles east of Derna and only 75 miles from the Egyptian frontier, unofficially was reported to be imminent.

May Abandon East Libya.

Foreign military experts assumed that Sir Archibald P. Wavell, the British general, had decided to abandon eastern Libya and concentrate on the Balkans, counting on the intense heat of the waterless desert and rear guard actions to keep axis forces from penetrating far into Egypt.

[Berlin reports said axis troops including "strong panzer (armored) units" had advanced more than 150 miles beyond Bengazi, which they occupied April 4, recapturing Derna and moving on toward Egypt as far as Dsebel el Agbar.]

Italians noted that it took the British six days to capture Derna after they occupied Tobruk Jan. 30, and said the Italian-German advance was moving at a faster rate.

Dispatches from Libya indicated the British were retreating rapidly eastward after offering what the Italian high command called strong resistance.

British Down 14 Planes.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 8 (AP).—British and Australian airmen are waging ceaseless warfare in North Africa to cover the "strategic concentration" of land forces in new positions in eastern Libya, an RAF communique reported tonight.

They shot down 14 opposing planes "believed to be German" in one day alone, a communique said, and another day in the past week they shot down four. On neither day did they suffer any losses themselves, the communique reported.

Bombers and fighting craft have "attacked enemy motor transport and troop concentrations ceaselessly," the communique declared.

Report Situation "Fluid."

LONDON, April 8 (AP).—British military sources said today they lacked confirmation of Italian claims to reoccupation of Derna. They declared the north African situation was fluid and swift changes of position were possible "if our forces don't decide to make a stand at any particular point."

BRITISH SHOOT DOWN 6 GERMAN NIGHT BOMBERS

LONDON, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—British fighter planes shot down six German bombers during Nazi attacks last night on England, it was reported today. The information ministry announced British bombers smashed at the German naval base at Kiel during the night. The base also was heavily raided Monday night.

Raid Battered Town Twice.

A WEST MIDLANDS TOWN, ENGLAND, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—This severely battered town was attacked twice overnight. German bombers inflicted heavy damage and caused a number of casualties. However, it was said the raids fell short of the crushing attack made here in November.

[This virtually identifies the town as Coventry, nearly destroyed by Nazi raiders in November.]

German Coast Towns Raided.

BERLIN, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—British bombers raided northern German coastal towns last night, killing a number of persons, authorized sources said today. Four British planes were reported shot down. No noteworthy damage was caused to military objectives, the Germans claimed.

Meanwhile, the German air force attacked military objectives in Britain, causing heavy damage, DNB [German official news agency] reported.

SURGEON DENIES TALES OF HORROR IN NAZI PRISONS

New York, April 8 [Special].—A description of German prison camps indicating they were not quite the "chambers of horrors" they have been pictured was given today by Dr. Herbert A. Spencer, senior surgeon in the United States public health service, who toured most of the German camps in the last year.

As medical officer attached to the consular service, Dr. Spencer visited 70 prison camps. He said he found conditions "about as good as could be expected" and that the prison fare, tho meager, was sufficient for inactive men.

Dr. Spencer said he had learned of the maltreatment of prisoners in isolated instances. When the maltreatment was called to the attention of the German government, steps were taken to correct it, he stated.

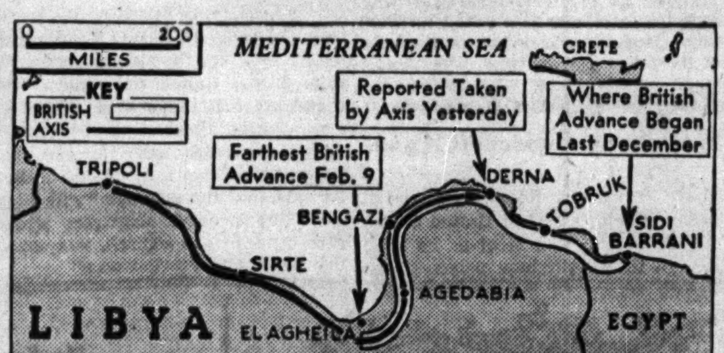
Nazis Report Advance in Libya

(Story in adjoining column.)



Map locates the extent of the British invasion of Italian Libya, and the progress of the axis drive back toward Egypt along the same route.

MATSUOKA WILL ADD 3 DAYS TO STAY IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, April 8 (AP).—Japan's foreign minister, Yosuke Matsuoka, decided today to prolong his stay in Russia three days. He will leave April 13, instead of April 10, for Tokio. This will give him more time in Moscow than he spent in Berlin or Rome, where he met axis leaders.

Matsuoka lunched for three hours with United States Ambassador Laurence A. Steinhardt in an atmosphere described as "extremely cordial."

Tonight both Matsuoka and Foreign Commissar-Premier Vyacheslav Molotov were guests of the Japanese ambassador, Yoshitsugu Tatekawa. Tomorrow night the Japanese will leave for Leningrad, where he passed the early part of his career.

ANOTHER CHANCE TO 'MAKE WORLD SAFE'—WALLACE

New York, April 8 (AP).—Saying that "the United States now has her second opportunity to make the world safe for democracy," Vice President Henry A. Wallace declared tonight that the Nazi ideology "must be so crushed that it can never rise."

Wallace said in an address to the Foreign Policy association that the nation's best chance to remain at peace "is to make these ruthless, treaty breaking nations understand that the American people are ready to go to war if their rights are transgressed at any vital point.

"It is one of the rights of the American people to defend democracy by helping Britain, China, Jugo-Slavia, and Greece to the limit with planes, ships, munitions, and food."

Wallace said the United States declined its opportunity to make the world safe for democracy after the first world war by adopting isolationist policies.

27 Japanese Planes Bomb China's End of Burma Road

HONGKONG, April 9, Wednesday (AP).—Twenty-seven Japanese planes made a devastating attack on Kunming, Chinese terminal of the Burma supply road, yesterday afternoon, starting three big fires and damaging the British consulate.

Swiss to Get Less Food Because of War in Balkans

BERNE, Switzerland, April 8 (AP).—Switzerland will get fewer eggs and less pork, gasoline and fodder because of the war in the Balkans, but reserves are expected to obviate stricter rationing for the present. Because of Germany's increasing trade in the Balkans, Switzerland's imports from Jugo-Slevia in the past few years have amounted to only one-twentieth of her total imports.

U.S. NAVY MOVES TO FIT EQUIPMENT TO BRITISH MOLD

Forrestal Going Abroad for Instructions.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Asst. Sec. Forrestal.

Washington, D. C., April 8.—James V. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, today was ordered to visit England for the purpose of establishing uniformity in British and American naval equipment in order to facilitate British purchases and the repair of British warships in this country.

Forrestal will leave for England almost immediately, navy officers said. He will remain two weeks.

In military circles the Forrestal assignment was seen as further evidence that the British are running the American government, particularly the army and navy departments. The purpose of the mission is to bring American equipment to British standards rather than to bring the British around to using what American naval experts consider best for the American fleet.

Roosevelt Mission Recalled.

It was recalled that during the world war, President Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, undertook a similar mission after this country entered the war.

During the world war, according to intimates of the President, Mr. Roosevelt practically ran the department. He has been given credit for formulating all the navy's policies in that struggle. Josephus Daniels, now ambassador to Mexico and then secretary of the navy, has been described as a mere figurehead.

In that war the American navy was made an arm of the British fleet. American vessels adopted British tactics and the British system of fire control. American vessels, which served with the British grand fleet, actually were under the command of British officers altho technically they were commanded by American admirals.

British Influence Grows.

Since the outbreak of the present war, the British influence on the American navy has mounted. In some quarters it has been said that the British virtually have the navy department in their hands. This is vigorously denied by naval officials.

It was reported in navy circles that the recent collision of four American destroyers was due to the fact they were practicing British tactics. Naval officials refused to discuss this report.

The British influence also has been felt in the army. The army has several officers engaged in working out British and American ordnance problems so that weapons of the two countries will be interchangeable. Recently the army was reported to have sent to Africa a colonel with a thoro schooling in all American arms for the purpose of ironing out ordnance problems. The war department denied such an assignment, but acknowledged that such a mission would be regarded as a military secret.

Hope to Use Material on Hand.

The Forrestal mission to England was described in naval circles as representing "a common effort to get together." It was said he will seek to untie some knots resulting from differences in British and American armament.

Naval officials said this country has ammunition available for Britain and wants to determine if Britain can use it, despite the fact it isn't standard equipment for British caliber guns.

The naval spokesman said Forrestal's mission will be to settle around a conference table what cannot be settled in formal dispatches between London and Washington, and that he will have the task of correlating efforts in armament production.

"It boils down to a problem of adjustments to see if we can speed our help," naval authorities said.

They expressed the belief that problems resulting from gun caliber variations can be worked out quickly and that aid from this country can be hastened by using existing ammunition stores.

FAMOUS NAZI U-BOAT COMMANDER SEIZED, BRITISH NAVY REVEALS

Otto Kretschmer.

LONDON, April 8 (AP).—The British admiralty declared tonight that Commander Otto Kretschmer, noted German submarine commander, was one of 450 prisoners they have taken from U-boats which have sunk.

[Germany on Dec. 16 announced that Kretschmer had sunk 250,000 tons of "enemy" ships.

While the admiralty announced British, allied and neutral shipping losses for the week ended March 30 were 20 ships totaling 77,575 tons, relatively low, it had to revise figures sharply upward for the weeks ended March 2 and March 16.

The year's high, 150,700 tons, was reached for the week ended March 2, the admiralty's amended figures showed, and close behind was the 146,098 tons for the week ended March 16.

CHARGES REGENT OF IRAQ PLOTS TO GRAB THE THRONE

Fleeing Prince Accused by New Cabinet.

CAIRO, Egypt, April 8 (AP).—The Iraq cabinet, formed recently after a coup d'etat by the nationalist military leader, Rashid Ali Al Gailani, has issued a statement, it was reported here today charging Prince Regent Abdul Ilah, with an attempt to usurp the throne. The regent has fled the country. He is reported to have sought refuge with his uncle, Emir Abdullah, at Amman, Transjordan.

A regency has been governing Iraq during the minority of King Feisal II., who will be 6 years old on May. 2.

[A dispatch from Beirut, Lebanon, to Vichy said Iraq troops on Monday night seized the British aviation base of Cineldebane, near Bagdad.]

Last Friday the regent broadcast charges that Iraq army officers who carried out the overthrow of the government were "instruments in the hands of foreigners. He asked that the new government be thrown out, altho the cabinet issued a statement of policy announcing Iraq would faithfully carry out the British-Iraq treaty of friendship and alliance. The British have not yet recognized the new régime.

U. S. Studies Situation.

Washington, D. C., April 8 [Special].—The state department is studying the situation produced by the military coup d'état last week in Iraq and the installing of a pro-German government, but it said today it was not yet in a position to say what its attitude would be. A London report that it had instructed the American legation at Bagdad to withhold recognition of the new government was denied.

The coup is considered as important in some ways as the one in Jugo-Slavia, altho not so sensational. Not only are the Mosul oil fields in Iraq, it was pointed out, but the trunk Bagdad railway line passes thru the country to the Persian gulf and is the main artery for the supplying of Turkey from the south.

It was stressed that if Germany conquers the Balkans and has a sympathetic government in Iraq strong axis pressure can be exerted on Turkey. Moreover, Iraq lies to the east of Suez.

King of Britain Receives Harriman, Roosevelt Agent

LONDON, April 8.—W. Averell Harriman, President Roosevelt's special agent here to expedite United States aid for Britain, was received by King George in Buckingham palace today.

Pope Will Read Peace Plea on Easter Sunday

ROME, April 8.—Pope Pius XII. will read a brief peace appeal to the world over the radio on Easter Sunday just before he gives the apostolic benediction, it was announced today. The broadcast will begin at 1 o'clock [5 a. m. Chicago time] on the 19.84 meter and 31.64 meter wave lengths, the latter the stronger. A Vatican authority said that the message "will enunciate the general principles which, according to the church, can establish peace and prevent war."

DON'T 'FEED' SUBS, HELP FIGHT THEM! ADM. LAND URGES

Building of Ships 'Merely Adding Fuel to Fire.'

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Rear Admiral Emory S. Land, retired, President Roosevelt's appointee as chairman of the maritime commission, suggested tonight that the United States consider aiding Great Britain in combating the submarine menace "rather than by concentrating most of our efforts on feeding it with fuel" by supplying more ships.

"There can be no question but that we want to give the greatest and most effective assistance possible to the British," he said, "but we might well ask ourselves in our all-out aid to Britain if we could not give greater help by aiding the British to put out the fire."

Land did not specify what this country might do to help "put out the fire."

Adding Fuel to the Fire.

In a radio speech Land said that in considering the demand for ships, "it seems to me we should stop to consider the cause for the demand."

"In the field of shipping aid to Britain," he continued, "there is a huge bonfire burning—the submarine menace. If we base our shipping aid to Britain solely on supplying her with more and more ships, we are merely adding more fuel to the fire. Are there not a number of ways of solving this problem by attempting to put out the fire?

"The submarine menace, like the common cold which afflicts human beings, is not capable of complete cure, but it is capable of amelioration and there is no doubt that the greatest efforts are now being made to ameliorate that disease.

Get at It at the Source.

"The best way to lick the submarine menace is to get it at the source; that is, to bomb the enemy shipbuilding plants. The next best is probably to bomb the repair and rest stations where the submarines go when not at sea. Other ameliorating influences would be:

"1. A greater number of British combatant ships in the convoy.

"2. British combat vessels convoying ships farther out on their outbound voyages.

"3. More British combat ships meeting convoys at greater distances out on their incoming voyages.

Convoy Only Slow Ships.

"4. Use of convoys for slow ships only. Under present conditions fast merchant ships have as good a chance, if not better, out of the convoy than in it.

"5. Destroy the communications between German aircraft and German submarines by destroying the German air patrol.

"6. Utilize an air patrol in the convoy."

Land said the United States is engaged in a supreme shipbuilding effort, an effort far more than twice as great as any ever before attempted.

Contracts now authorized call for about 950 merchant ships, while 913 naval vessels are under contract, not including more than 1,000 small craft.

Saved from Disaster

ANNA NEAGLE.

Hollywood, Cal., April 8 [Special].—Quick thinking on the part of an electrician on a sound stage today saved Anna Neagle, film star, from possible serious burns at the RKO-Radio studios.

A 30 foot neon sign spelling out the word "Sunny," the picture in which she is starring, crashed as Miss Neagle rode a white horse down a ramp into a streamlined circus ring. The electrician turned off the 80,000 volts igniting the sign, and Miss Neagle instinctively raised her arm to ward off the neon tubing which shattered about her and the horse. Her only injury was a bruised forearm.

The cameras were turning at the time and filmed the entire incident.

Costa Rica Spurns Italian Protest on Crew's Arrest

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 8 (AP).—Foreign Minister Alberto Echandi rejected today a protest by Enrico Menzinger, the Italian minister, against arrest of the crew of the Italian passenger ship Fella, which was set afire at Puntarenas by its own sailors March 31. A demand that the ship be freed also was turned down. Costa Rica previously rejected a German protest against arrest of crewmen of the German ship Eisenach, which also was set afire. Costa Rica has seized both ships.

GUNS TO BRISTLE ON N. Y. ROOFTOPS IF WAR ARRIVES

Officials Look Around for Arms, Shelters.

BY WILLIAM FULTON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, April 8.—Manhattan's downtown skyscraper roofs will blossom out with batteries of machine guns and medium sized antiaircraft weapons if war comes to this war minded metropolis, army air officials revealed today.

There are also plans for setting up guns on the Battery, at the southern tip of Manhattan, where the British mounted 92 cannon in 1693 when they thought the French were planning a raid.

Maj. Arthur Nicholson of the air defense command under Maj. Gen. James E. Chaney at Mitchel field, Long Island, denied reports that roofs of the city's tallest buildings were being reinforced to carry emplacements for heavy antiaircraft guns.

Reinforcing Not Necessary.

It is not necessary to strengthen the roofs for the smaller weapons which would be used to ward off low-flying planes in the event of an air raid, according to Maj. Nicholson. This equipment would consist of .50 caliber machine guns and antiaircraft cannon which hurl one pound shells.

"Mobility is extremely important in air defense," said Maj. Nicholson. "Heavier guns, of 3 inch caliber and better, will be placed in outlying areas. The theory is that they would ward off attacking planes with their barrage before they can reach their objectives."

Air defense of New York is still largely on paper since there are only a handful of antiaircraft weapons available.

Fire Department May Expand.

The New York city police department, spurred on by Mayor Fiorello La Guardia, a militant interventionist, is planning purchase of three mobile antiaircraft cannon, it was learned. The fire department is also considering a huge expansion in preparation for air raids.

A survey of the city's largest buildings with an eye to air raid shelter possibilities was completed by the WPA recently, but experts said the job was slipshod and valueless. Now civilian volunteers are doing it over.

The police department has constructed five subterranean short wave stations for use in relaying messages to cruising squad cars.

GEN. MALONY NAMED ASST. CHIEF OF STAFF; WILL DIRECT TRAINING

Brig. Gen. Malony. [A. P. Wirephoto.]

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—The appointment of Brig. Gen. Harry J. Malony as assistant chief of staff in charge of operations and training was announced today by the war department. Gen. Malony since last October has been the senior army member of a board appointed to handle the acquisition of army and navy bases from Britain. He returned recently from London. Gen. Malony was born in Lakemont, N. Y., on Aug. 24, 1889.

GERMANS USING NEW HEAVY GUN FOR AIR DEFENSE

Develop Heavier Weapon than U. S. Model.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—American ordnance experts have learned that Germany has developed a new and heavier antiaircraft gun of 130 mm. [5.118 inches]. Reports of the effectiveness of the new weapon are being awaited.

Military experts have recognized that antiaircraft guns have failed to clear the skies of aircraft as their advocates had promised.

The United States pinned its faith on 3 inch guns, which were found to be almost useless, and just has begun to build 105 mm. [4.134 inches] guns, which were advocated by civilian artillery experts. It also built a great many 37 mm. [1.457 inches] antiaircraft guns, which are effective only against ground strafing planes.

Early German Gun Efficient.

The standard German antiaircraft gun at the outbreak of the war was the 88 mm. [3.455 inches] gun, somewhat heavier than the American 3 inch gun. This weapon has a greater range and a greater area of destruction than the American 3 inch gun or the 105 mm. gun.

Germany evidently has found this weapon now is too light and has developed the 130 mm. gun. This gun has a barrel 20 feet long and fires a shell weighing 66 pounds at a muzzle velocity of more than 2,970 feet per second. No data is available on the range of the weapon.

The American 3 inch antiaircraft gun fires a 12.7 pound shell at a rate of 25 a minute. The vertical range is 9,700 yards and horizontal range is 14,200 yards. The American 105 mm. antiaircraft gun fires a 33 pound projectile vertically about 14,000 yards and horizontally about 21,000 yards.

British Install Plane Cannons.

American ordnance experts have also learned that the British fighting planes are now being equipped with cannon. It is believed that the cannon is of 37 mm. caliber similar to those carried by the American Airocobra fighters. The gun is mounted to fire thru the propeller hub.

The British fighters were armed with cannon because it has been found increasingly difficult to bring down German planes with machine gun fire since they increased their armor. Beyond a strictly limited range, it was found that trajectory of the British machine gun bullets dropped sharply.

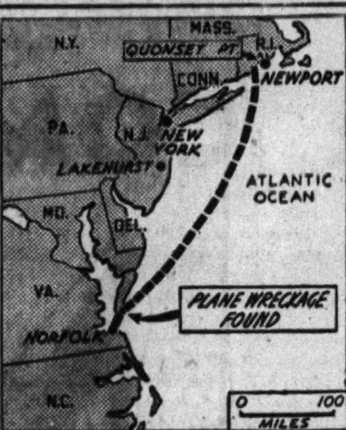
AMERICA FIRST FOES RAKED FOR NAME CALLING

Persons who attack the principles of the America First committee are either misinformed or bent on deception, Dr. Anton J. Carlson, University of Chicago professor, charged last night in an address before an antiwar rally in the Winnetka community house. Three North Shore America First chapters sponsored it.

He asserted that leaders of the committee are both wise and courageous Americans. "At any other time," he said, "such charges as 'appeasers' and 'aids of Hitler' would look funny when applied to such citizens as Gen. Robert E. Wood, Gen. Thomas S. Hammond, Gen. Hugh Johnson, Mrs. Janet Ayer Fairbank, Mrs. Bennett Champ Clark, Mrs. Alice Longworth, Mrs. Charles Wheeler, Frank O. Lowden, and Edward L. Ryerson.

"It makes very little difference what anybody calls me, as long as my record and conscience are clear," Dr. Carlson said. "I am not a pacifist. I am not an isolationist. I think my neighbors, my students, and my colleagues in this and other lands will tell you that I am not a 'transmission belt' for Hilter, Mussolini, Stalin, the mikado, or the British Empire. I am an American."

Where Plane Fell



The wreckage of the bomber was found northeast of Norfolk, a few miles from starting point of projected flight (broken line).

Norfolk, Va., April 8.—Hope for the survival of 10 naval airmen who disappeared with their 15 ton patrol bomber 24 hours ago, was abandoned tonight when a destroyer, which had been dragging the sea bottom two miles off Great Michipongo inlet [45 miles northeast of the air base here], recovered the body of one of the flyers.

The commandant of the Norfolk naval base said tonight that the scene where the bomber crashed has been marked with a buoy and the dragging is to continue.

The plane left the Norfolk base at 7 o'clock Monday morning for a four hour flight to Quonset Point, R. I. When about 10 minutes out the station here received a routine progress report, but nothing further. Eight hours later. A message reported the plane was down at sea.

UNITED PROTEST WILL GUARD U. S. PEACE, SAYS NYE

Americans Monkeys if They Fight, He Adds.

Seattle, Wash., April 8 [Special].—If United States enters the European conflict it will be the first time in history that any of our wars could properly be called a President's war, Senator Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.] said here tonight in a speech on behalf of America First committee.

Nye characterized as madness the President's proposal to bring freedom of speech, press, and freedom from fear everywhere in the world.

"If we enter war," he said, "we will be writing chapters which must some day be printed in the comic section of every history book. And after it is over every American who did not raise his voice against it should hunt a coconut tree and climb up with the rest of the monkeys.

Calls for United Protest.

"We can prevent our entering this war by uniting in protest, and by substituting the truth for the fears and hatreds which are being aroused by the same propaganda pattern which got us into the last war. We are being told to hate aggressors. But England, which in 1937 was bombing civilians in Arabia, is the greatest aggressor and built the world's greatest empire by force.

"We do not have to love England nor hate Hitler to be good Americans. There should be less emotion about the English, a people who have been inviting, century after century, what now is being visited upon their shores. We must admire their courage, but we should also remember that altho this is the first war to touch their land it is only one of their many wars.

Foreign Trade Negligible.

"We are beginning to fear that if Hitler should win he would give us an economic new deal; that he would wipe us off the seas and end our foreign trade. If he did we would lose only 3 per cent of our total business.

"We are underwriting the British empire. We voted to give them seven billion dollars, but congress did not stop to investigate whether England still had credit in this country.

"After the last war England called us shylock for asking the return of our loans. They would not pay, they said, but at the same time English investors were bringing billions of dollars here to invest in American bonds. And it will happen again."

TEAMSTER UNION ELECTS HANLEY TO TRUSTEESHIP

Delegates to the joint council of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters last night elected Will Witt] Hanley, secretary-treasurer of the Commission Drivers' union, a trustee for a five year term. The vote was 158 for Hanley and 90 for Larry Monahan, president of the Excavating, Grading, and Asphalt Teamsters and Chauffeurs. The executive board of the joint counsel, headed by L. G. Goudie, had recommended Monahan. It was said to have been the first time in the history of the council that the board's advice had been rejected.

PRESIDENT O. K.'S KNOX SYSTEM OF KEEPING SECRETS

'Voluntary Censorship' Violators Hit.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—President Roosevelt today backed up Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox in imposing a voluntary censorship of the press and radio but stated that he does not contemplate establishing a mandatory censorship at this time.

The Knox censorship was established by his request to newspapers, radio broadcasters and photographic agencies to withhold publication of news of the presence of British warships in American ports for repairs under the terms of the lend-lease act because such information would be of benefit to the Germans.

The first test of the Knox censorship occurred last Sunday when the British battleship Malaya steamed into New York harbor in broad daylight with a gaping hole in her armor. Altho the warship was seen by thousands of persons, including German agents who were at liberty to cable or radio the news to Berlin, Knox refused to sanction publication of the information.

Several metropolitan newspapers did publish it, taking the position that the Knox censorship scheme accomplishes nothing but the withholding of news from the American public without keeping it away from the Germans.

Supports Knox Stand.

At his press conference today the President was asked if he supported the Knox censorship move and indorsed a statement the secretary issued yesterday which, by implication, rebuked those newspapers which revealed the Malaya's arrival.

Mr. Roosevelt replied with a vigorous affirmative. Then he said the editorials published today by the newspapers that printed the story to justify their disregard of the Knox request were about the lamest excuses to get square that he ever had seen. He also noticed that some of these newspapers proposed in editorials that the government substitute for the Knox voluntary censorship a thorogoing mandatory censorship. That suggestion, he thought, should prove extremely interesting to the vast majority of newspaper editors who do not want a mandatory censorship.

Knows Best, He Says.

New York, April 7 (AP).—Naval Secretary Frank Knox said in New York tonight he had no thought of censorship when he made his recent request that newspapers refrain from publishing stories of British warships in American waters.

"We are going to have a lot of ships coming over right along," Knox said. "Don't you think the Germans would like to make use of that information? I'm not making all this stir over one ship. I know what is best for our friends—the British."

Even tho ships arriving in this country were in full view of the public, Knox said, he felt that no news about them should be published.

Illinois Draftees Arrive at South Carolina Camp

Spartansburg, S. C., April 8 [Special].—Troop arrivals from Illinois centers were renewed here today when 160 draftees from Ft. Sheridan, Ill., reached Camp Croft to begin a year's military training as members of the 36th training battalion.

Does Your Breath Broadcast— "I WEAR FALSE TEETH"?

Play Safe—Be Sure—Use Polident

People who wear plates or bridges often suffer from a special kind of bad breath. Dentists call it—"denture breath."

You won't know if you have it—but it can spoil your happiness. Friends will shudder—people avoid you! And the worst of it is that ordinary brushing may not prevent it. Neither will mouth washes. For the odor comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum soaks up germs and decay bacteria and causes a vile odor that you cannot detect.

One thing that definitely stops "denture breath" is daily use of Polident! This new brushless cleaner has won the approval of thousands of dentists and users. Polident not only purifies false teeth—but also removes all stain, tarnish and food deposits. Makes breath sweeter—plates look better and feel better. Costs only 30¢ at any drug store and lasts for many weeks. Money back if not delighted.

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic
Do this daily: Add a little Polident powder to ½ glass water. Stir. Then put in plate or bridge for 10 to 15 minutes —Rinse—and it's ready to use!

WITNESSES TELL CIO TERRORISM IN FORD STRIKE

Hope Is Raised for Early Solution of Tieup.

J. Tuttle. It was preceded by a biting remark by the judge concerning Gov. Van Wagoner.

Attorneys for both the Ford company and the union asked for an adjournment until tomorrow, when the company would ask for a temporary injunction against CIO violence and the union would demand dismissal of the case. [Last Thursday the judge had issued a temporary restraining order, which, technically, is not as forceful as a temporary injunction, altho it usually serves the same purpose.]

The lawyers said that Gov. Van Wagoner had asked a 24 hour adjournment in the interest of expediting the strike settlement.

"We were only trying to respect the governor's wishes," said William Henry Gallagher, union counsel.

"You can respect his wishes if you want to," Judge Tuttle retorted, "but I don't have to. Governors come and go in this state, but I'm on the bench all the time."

Company Witnesses Called.

Company attorneys, headed by Buell Doelle, then began calling witnesses.

Melvin Bartling, a timekeeping department employé at Ford, was one of those on the stand.

"Last Wednesday [first day of the strike]," he said, "I started to work, but turned back when I saw CIO pickets armed with knives, sticks, bricks, and iron clubs at the gates, and barricading the roads with automobiles.

"That afternoon the company telephoned and told me to report the next morning. I did. State police at the gates told me I'd better not try to go thru the pickets. A few minutes later 15 of the CIO men jumped on me and beat me into unconsciousness. As I was falling, I saw at least 20 policemen standing only 50 feet away, but they made no effort to help me. When I recovered consciousness, I was being treated in the company hospital."

Bartling's face still bore evidence of the meeting, a scar being particularly noticeable near his mouth.

Charges Union Kidnaping.

Howard Braden, a slim young man of 23, employed in the steam maintenance department, told of the strong arm methods used to coerce him into joining the union.

"I left the plant Friday morning," he testified, "after having been inside since Tuesday night. Four big pickets greeted me outside. One had a baseball bat, another a blackjack, a third a wooden stick.

"They marched me to their automobile, then took me to a room above a vacant store. Thirty other CIO men were there. They called me a scab and cursed me for staying in the plant. One of them said: 'Either you join the union or we'll work on you.'

"Then they took me over to the union headquarters [the union is local 600, United Automobile Workers]. The fellow with the blackjack and the one with the baseball bat stood on each side of me. I said I had no grievance with the Ford company, and didn't think joining their union was the best thing for me.

Quotes Captor's Threat.

"'Do you want to join us now or not?' another man, apparently a leader, asked me. He also said, 'We can use the baseball bat if necessary.' I was so frightened by then that I said I'd join anything, but only had $1.80 in my pocket. This leader took the money and, still guarded with the baseball bat and the blackjack, I was taken into another room and signed up. They told me to report for picket duty, but I never have."

Other employés who were witnesses today included three attractive women, Mrs. Leila Hayes, Miss Elizabeth Julia Perkins, and Miss Pearl Lee Evans.

Mrs. Hayes, a widow with four children, is a clerk in the Ford mailing department. She told of being jostled by intoxicated pickets when she tried to enter the plant Wednesday morning.

"One of them shouted, 'Don't let that ——— get by,' and there were other unmentionable remarks," she said. "I saw men with sticks, clubs, pieces of hose, and bricks. I was so mad that I determined to get in the gates, and I did after a half hour."

Describes Pickets' Abuses.

Miss Perkins and Miss Lee also told of being shoved around by the pickets. Miss Lee said a string of oaths were loosed at her and she was hit on the shoulder.

Additional witnesses during the day were Ford supervisory men and department heads.

Joseph Durling, in charge of the tool and die building, said that nearly 2,000 windows in that building were smashed. He added that he did not see the actual vandalism, but had been told it was done by CIO rioters.

Durling also told of seeing damage to a crankshaft balancing machine and the marring of delicate precision plates. This machinery was stored in the tool and die building for removal later to the Pratt & Whitney aircraft engine factory, under construction on the grounds. This involves some of the work the Ford company has under 150 million dollars of government armaments contracts.

Damage to Cars Told.

Stewart Evans, superintendent of assembly lines, told of sabotage in a period preceding the strike.

"On March 24," he said, "we found car cushions slashed as these cars came to us for final inspection. On some 20 other cars radiator and heater shells had been punctured. We called in agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation to look into the matter."

John Lasanen, Detroit policeman, told of being assaulted near the plant Wednesday while he was on his way to a veterans' hospital for treatment.

"Somebody grabbed me from behind," he testified, "and another man took my badge and gun. They also took 60 cents, all I had. I haven't gotten anything back."

Police Officials Testify.

The last witnesses called today were Capt. Laurence A. Lyon, superintendent of the uniformed division of the state police, and Charles W. Slamer, police inspector in Dearborn, where the River Rouge plant in located.

"I didn't want to take too strong measures against the pickets," Lyon said, "for fear that 300 or 400 people might be killed. I wanted to avoid such a blot on the community."

Slamer said that if there should be another big outbreak of violence, he did not believe the combined forces of the state and Dearborn police and the Wayne county [Detroit] sheriff's office could cope with it.

The case was continued until tomorrow morning after Judge Tuttle announced the temporary restraining order will remain in effect during the hearing.

Subpena Communist Chief.

The company, which charges the strike is communist inspired to wreck the nation's rearmament program, today obtained subpenas for William Z. Foster, national communist leader, and eight local CIO organizers, who, it is charged, are communists or fellow travelers.

The union, in its answer to the company's injunction petition, charged the company has "pursued a policy of engendering and stimulating racial hatred and prejudice" and added that evidence will adduce whether the "company's failure to proceed with defense production is due to its determination to injure its employés because of their union affiliation, or to its disapproval of the furtherance of the defense program because of sympathy with the so-called axis powers."

Ford Grandson Is Placed in Class 1 by Draft Board

Detroit, Mich., April 8 (AP).—Henry Ford II., grandson of the founder of the Ford Motor company, has been tentatively placed in class one under the selective service act and will be ordered to report in due course for medical examination, Wayne county board No. 57 announced today.

Woll Will List 15 Men for Draft Appeal Posts

J. Albert Woll, United States attorney, will submit a list of 15 men qualified to hear appeals of conscientious objectors to the selective service act to the department of justice today. The appeal officers will have quasi judicial powers and will make recommendations to the local appeal boards after hearing evidence both from the government and from the conscientious objectors. They will hear evidence on no other kind of appeal. Announcement of the final selection of the appeal officers, and of the number to be appointed, probably will be made next week, Woll said.

CIO Hands Out Pamphlets at Carnegie Steel Plant

Two hundred members of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee [CIO] last night canvassed the 1,200 workers on the 11 p. m. shift of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation south works plant, 2439 East 89th street. The SWOC members handed out pamphlets at each of the seven entrance gates. Eighty policemen under Capt. John Prendergast, chief of the uniformed force, were detailed to the plant. No violence was reported.

LOW BIDDER ON DREDGE JOB.

The American Aggregate company of Greenville, O., with $110,880, was low bidder on a contract to dredge the Illinois river between Starved Rock and Grafton, Ill., when bids were opened yesterday in the office of Gen. Charles Keller, United States district engineer in charge here.

FARMERS REFUTE FEARS OF DAIRY FOODS SHORTAGE

There will be no shortage in dairy food products, despite government fears. This was the promise of the American Dairy association as expressed yesterday at its annual meeting in the Morrison hotel.

"Dairy farmers are today well equipped to produce a sufficient quantity of milk and other dairy products to meet the requirements of the American people and those of other nations who may now be dependent upon America for dairy products," a resolution stated. Officials said there are more cows in the United States than ever before and that production could be stepped up 10 per cent with ease.

O. M. Richards, director of advertising, told of plans for spending $500,000 this year to promote the use of dairy products. W. H. Olson, director of organization, revealed that Illinois farmers, who are joining the group for the first time, would contribute $75,000.

Dan. T. Carlson of Wilmar, Minn., was reëlected president. Chicagoans elected to the executive committee include A. H. Lauterbach, Milton Hult,, and Wilfred Shaw.

2 NEW DEAL AIDS INDIFFERENT TO RED ARMS TIEUPS

Both Oppose New Laws to Prevent Strikes.

BY CHESLY MANLY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., April 8.—Representatives of the two major agencies created by President Roosevelt to expedite the 40 million dollar armaments program told the house military affairs committee today that they will not concern themselves with subversive influences in labor disturbances.

William H. Davis.

The witnesses were William H. Davis, vice chairman of the national defense mediation board, and Sidney Hillman, associate director of the Office of Production Management and director of its labor division. They took the position that subversive activities in arms production is a matter for the justice department to consider. Both stated emphatically that they will not inquire into the extent to which communists have fomented strikes.

Denies General Strike Plot.

Questioned by Representative J. Parnell Thomas [R., N. J.], who is a member of the Dies committee investigating un-American activities, Hillman denied any knowledge of a reported communist-CIO plot to organize a general strike if Harry Bridges, alien communist CIO leader on the west coast, is deported. Hillman is a former vice president of the CIO and still is president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' union [CIO] at $12,500 a year.

Thomas asserted in questioning Hillman that investigators for the Dies committee have obtained letters written by Lee Pressman, general counsel of the CIO, and Joseph Curran, head of the CIO maritime workers' union. The letters, Thomas said, "ask the membership of these organizations what their attitude will be in relation to a general strike to cripple national defense if Bridges is deported."

Voices Confidence in Murray.

Hillman said he never had heard of the letters. "I don't believe," he added, "that Mr. Murray [Phillip Murray, president of the CIO] would for one moment tolerate a strike affecting the defense program on such an issue."

Questioned further by Representative Thomas, Hillman denied vehemently that he is or ever has been a communist. He said he was born in Lithuania, visited Russia in 1921, 1923 and 1925, organized a corporation for the payment in American dollars of funds sent to persons in Russia, and met the late Nicolai Lenin, Dictator Stalin's predecessor, but always opposed communism.

In general, Hillman and Davis presented an account of almost unprecedented industrial tranquility and record breaking production of armaments. Astonished members of the committee suggested that reports in the newspapers indicated the existence of a good many pretty serious strikes, but the witnesses minimized their importance.

Both opposed legislation to curb strike interference with armament production, such as compulsory arbitration of labor disputes. The present mediation board, relying on the bolstering effect of public opinion, is the final solution to the labor problem, according to Davis and Hillman.

Davis essayed a quotation from Plato in opposition to compulsion: "The creation of the civilized world is the victory of persuasion over force."

"As soon as you bring in force, you have retarded civilization in a democracy," the witness said.

Representative Charles I. Faddis [D., Pa.] asked Davis whether ballot stuffing by the CIO union had any bearing on the Allis-Chalmers strike, which the mediation board has just settled. Faddis referred to the finding of the Wisconsin Labor Relations board that 2,200 fraudulent ballots were used in voting to strike.

"We made no investigation as to the truth or falsity of those charges," Davis said.

Public Entitled to Facts.

Representative Faddis protested that the public is entitled to know the facts so it may determine for itself the merits of the issues in a labor controversy. Davis replied that the public may be entitled to the facts, but that it is not his duty to present them.

Faddis next asked the witness about subversive influences in labor disturbances.

"We're not going to perform the functions of the FBI," Davis retorted.

Faddis wanted to know how the board could "justly mediate without knowing the facts." Davis responded with a remark about Jesus Christ being a mediator who mediated "without knowing all the evils the penitent had committed."

BOEING PLANT LOCAL SUSPENDED BY UNION AS UNDER REDS' RULE

Seattle, Wash., April 8 (AP).—Charging the Boeing aircraft employés' Aeronautical Mechanics' union [AFL] "has been a long suffering victim of communist strategy," Harvey W. Brown, grand lodge president, suspended the local today from the parent International Association of Machinists.

In announcing the action against the local, which has jurisdiction over some 10,000 Boeing plant employés, Brown declared that disruptive groups had tried for five months to prevent a trial committee from functioning according to the lodge constitution. The trial body was set up to consider charges of communistic activity against nearly a score of members.

Brown said meetings of the lodge and the executive board are forbidden until the grand lodge executive council can investigate circumstances leading to the suspension. The trial committee recommended that the local find three members guilty of communistic activities. The union complied in one case but refused in the others.

SHEPPARD, DEAN OF CONGRESS, IS CRITICALLY ILL

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Senator Morris Sheppard of Texas, father of the prohibition amendment and 65 year old dean of congress, is critically ill following an intracranial hemorrhage, it was disclosed tonight.

Senator Sheppard.

The senator suffered the attack Friday morning and became unconscious later in the day. He remained at home in care of his physician until Sunday, when he was taken to Walter Reed hospital.

Sheppard, who is chairman of the important senate military affairs committee, was said to have "shown the effects of overwork and strain for several weeks." A Democrat, he has served in the house and senate for 39 years.

REVIEW IS DENIED IN $243,000 SUIT ON HARVEY BONDS

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals refused yesterday to review its own decision of Feb. 28 which cleared the way for John G. Getz Jr., an investment counselor of Detroit, Mich., to collect full face value on $243,000 worth of water fund certificates issued by the city of Harvey. The suit was remanded to the federal District court.

The decision reversed a District court ruling under which the city would have paid at the rate of 70 cents on a dollar. It also affirmed the finding of the District court that the city of Harvey had a legal right to issue the certificates and must honor them as a valid obligation. Getz charged in his suit that officials of Harvey were diverting and manipulating funds of the water department in such a way as to depreciate the value of his securities. The city based its defense on the contention that the certificates issued in 1927 were illegal in that the city had exceeded its powers by issuing them.

Ready...

● The advent of unprecedented demands for power brought on by defense production finds the facilities for generating and distributing electricity in Chicago and outlying northern Illinois ready.

Year in and year out, our business is to plan ahead for men, money and machines so that both normal and unusual requirements for electric power can be met.

With defense operations accelerating, we have more available capacity than ever before . . . capacity well in excess of present demands. To keep ahead of these demands new generators have been added, and more are being built. Miles of steel tower transmission lines span the area, connecting the generating stations of our integrated system, and a network of distribution lines makes power available wherever it is needed. Our trained engineering staff—experienced men who know power and its efficient and economical application to industrial needs—also stands ready to assist in the power problems of production.

And in back of the generating stations, the turbines and the transmission towers is an organization of men and women schooled to do a good job together, inspired by traditions of resourcefulness and cooperation which naturally grow with those engaged in a public service.

We deeply appreciate our responsibilities and welcome the opportunity to make available to industry our power resources and the services of our technical experts.

BETHLEHEM HEAD PROMISES LABOR ORGANIZING RIGHT

Defines Policy as NLRB Charges Contempt.

Wilmington, Del., April 8 (AP).—Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel company, declared today in enunciating the company's labor policy that its employés "may have whatever representation, whatever form of collective bargaining they want just so long as it meets the law and is valid under the law."

Grace made his statement after the National Labor Relations board announced in Washington that it had filed contempt proceedings in Boston against the Bethlehem company for its alleged failure to cease dominating employé organizations at its Fore River shipbuilding yards in Quincy, Mass.

Debating sharply with three critics at the annual meeting of stockholders, Grace asserted "we recognize all employés until a majority is established by law."

Cites Management Problems.

Saying "I know there is a great deal of misunderstanding in respect to Bethlehem's labor policy," he added it is because the public does not understand that the management cannot deal with its employés until an agency has been selected by law to act as a bargaining agency. Every action of the management at this time, Grace said, is directed toward increasing the efficiency of the Bethlehem mills and shipyards, working on 1 billion 130 million dollars worth of armaments orders.

The NLRB contempt action, filed in federal Circuit court in Boston, named Grace and other company officers. The board asked that the company show why it should not be held in contempt of court for slighting an NLRB order of Feb. 10, 1939, by recognizing a company dominated union.

Copper Strike Certified.

Labor developments in other parts of the nation were:

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins today certified to the national mediation board the two day old CIO strike at the Phelps-Dodge Copper Products corporation at Elizabeth, N. J., which employs 1,800 and has armaments orders totaling 30 million dollars. CIO's United Electrical, Radio, and Machine Workers' union called the strike in a dispute over a new contract on wages, hours, and a union shop.

CLEVELAND, O.—Operations returned to normal late today at the Aluminum Company of America's Sand Foundry after a 13 hour slowdown which ended with a change of shifts. Alex Balint, organizer for a CIO die casters' union, attributed the slowdown to the company's alleged "stalling" over rehiring of a discharged employé and on wage demands. He estimated about 2,500 workers were affected.

Calls Walkout Illegal.

COATESVILLE, Pa.—R. W. Wolcott, president of the Lukens Steel company, charged today that a walkout of 130 machinists is a "flagrant and illegal violation of the Steel Workers' Organizing committee of its written contract with the company." CIO Organizer Arthur Johnson said the rest of the plant's 4,100 employés will be called out unless an agreement is reached soon on union demands for wage increases, union dues checkoff, and elimination of a bonus system. The plant has army and navy contracts.

EAST ALTON, Ill.—Chemical workers union local No. 22,574 [AFL] has voted labor leaders authority to call a strike at the smokeless powder division of the Western Cartridge company plant in East Alton, it was disclosed today by Fred G. Olds, East St Louis organizer for the AFL. Spokesmen for the company said its position is that Olds' group does not represent a proper bargaining unit.

UNION ENJOINED FROM TERRORISM DURING STRIKE

Circuit Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday issued a temporary injunction restraining members of the International Ladies Garment Workers' union, local No. 76, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, from engaging in terrorism at the plant of the New York Handkerchief Manufacturing company, 1015 Adams street.

Lewis Jacobson, counsel for the company, said a strike last Saturday is holding up an order for $150,000 worth of handkerchiefs for the navy. He charged that stones had been thrown at trucks entering the plant and at nonstrikers. The union was specifically enjoined from obstructing the trucks.

Warrants for the arrest of three men strikers accused of beating three women nonstrikers were issued Monday in the Municipal court.

The original policy was worth $7,500, but Mrs. Mahoney renewed her policy and subscription each year, automatically increasing its value to the maximum of $11,250.

Last Saturday Mrs. Mahoney died in the Woodlawn hospital of injuries suffered in a collision at 61st street and Ellis avenue. She was riding in a taxicab.

Yesterday L. J. Leahy, city manager of the Federal Life Insurance company, thru which the insurance is carried, handed a check for $11,250 to Geraldine Brown, Mrs. Mahoney's daughter by a former marriage.

SURETY COMPANY SUES EX-CLERK OF NO. CHICAGO

The Aetna Casualty and Surety company filed suit in the Lake county circuit court at Waukegan yesterday to recover $1,462 from Henry Strobbe, who was city clerk of North Chicago from 1927 to 1931. In the petition it was alleged that on his retirement from office Strobbe failed to turn over to his successor, Michael Opeka, $2,319 of public funds and that he also failed to pay the state of Illinois $918 for hunting and fishing licenses sold. The surety company, it was related, paid the city and state claims for a total of $3,237. It was admitted that Strobbe had repaid the company all he owed it except the $1,462.

PARTIAL ACCORD REACHED IN COAL STRIKE PARLEYS

Efforts to Continue, Says U. S. Conciliator.

New York, April 8 (AP).—Chief Federal Conciliator John R. Steelman announced tonight that a part of the nation's important bituminous coal industry has reached "substantial agreement" on a new union labor contract, but that "desperate" efforts to reach industry-wide accord has delayed reopening of the mines.

Without referring specifically to a schism between the northern and southern Appalachian operators over demands of the CIO United Mine Workers of America to eliminate a wage differential between the two sections, Steelman said: "We are trying desperately to effectuate a complete accord and to stabilize this backbone industry for a period of two years."

For several days northern operators in the eight state Appalachian area have been reported willing to accept union demands for a $1 a day increase in wages for 330,000 miners in their region.

Southerners Want Differential.

They also are ready, it was understood, to eliminate a 40 cents a day differential between the north and south, but southern operators in southern West Virgina, eastern Kentucky, Tennessee, and Virginia announced they could not take part in such a contract.

Elimination of the differential would increase wages $1 a day in the north and $1.40 in the south. The basic wage in the contract which expired March 31 provided $6 in the north and $5.60 in the south.

Negotiators, deadlocked for nearly a month, agreed to meet again at 11 a. m. tomorrow.

Meanwhile Pennsylvania hard coal operators offered to renew their contract with the United Mine Workers for another two years "with only slight modifications." The proposal followed a UMW demand for wage increases of $1 a day. The present two year agreement expires April 30.

Steel Outlook Hopeful.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 8 (AP).—The sudden move by Ernest T. Weir in granting 10 cents an hour pay increase to 20,000 wage earners of the National Steel corporation was credited today in informed circles of both steel and labor with paving the way for a quick understanding now between the CIO and United States Steel corporation.

These sources also were in agreement that the entire industry is likely to accept the move, made yesterday, which would jump minimum pay to 72½ cents an hour and boost the pay roll more than 150 million dollars annually.

Negotiations between the Steel Workers Organizing committee and representatives of the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation, largest operating unit of United States Steel, were adjourned over today until tomorrow.

$9,212 PERSONALTY TAXES COLLECTED.

Sheriff Thomas J. O'Brien and his deputies yesterday collected $9,212 in taxes from 22 firms on whom they served writs of execution based on personal property tax judgments entered by the Circuit court.

WORK RESUMED AT FULL BLAST IN ALLIS PLANT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Milwaukee, Wis., April 8.—The Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing company, the largest employer in Wisconsin, was back in operation full blast today after a 76 day strike by the CIO United Automobile Workers' union that held up 45 million dollars worth of armaments orders and kept 7,800 production workers idle. The plant will operate on a 24 hour basis in an effort to catch up on orders for the army and navy.

The general feeling among the workers was one of relief at being back on the job. Meanwhile company and union officials prepared to discuss wage increases and will begin their joint meetings Thursday. Under the terms of the agreement which the union ratified yesterday and by previous offers of the company, any wages granted will date from the reopening of the plant.

Both sides also are considering their nominations for the impartial referee agreed on in the settlement.

Save Our Republic

SENATOR WHEELER'S MESSAGE.

The success which has attended Senator Wheeler's speech-making tour on behalf of America First is easily explained. He is telling his audiences something which they have been waiting long to hear from their public men.

Mr. Wheeler is not anti-British or pro-Hitler. As he told his Detroit audience, he has only admiration for the wholehearted patriotism of the British. He wishes that American public officials were equally devoted to the welfare of their nation and their people. If our policies were as rationally related to our interests as British policies are to British interests our government would not be rushing toward a war which was started without consulting us and the aims of which have never been stated except in the vaguest terms.

The success thus far of the propaganda for war can be explained in large part by the fact that the people of this country have been distracted by an administration which for eight years has been inventing and promoting emergencies and crises. The consequence of all this effort to frighten the American people has been to shake their confidence in free government, in a free economy, and more especially in themselves. They have been told so often that they are the miserable victims of circumstances beyond their control that many of them have come to believe it. Eight years of agitation against constitutional restraints, eight years of financial irresponsibility, eight years of promoted unrest, have left their mark. Courage, confidence, and buoyancy have been replaced by timidity and dread. Ours is the strongest country in the world but its affairs are being conducted as if it were weak and dependent.

Divisive forces have been encouraged for the sake of political advantage. In a country such as this, in which only the Indians are more than a few hundred years removed from a foreign attachment, the folly of promoting hyphenism ought to be manifest. To the extent that it succeeds it can only transplant to our shores the age-old feuds which periodically rip Europe to pieces. Yet in official opinion today those who climb into the imperial bed to bundle with Britannia are the best Americans. Such men as Col. Lindbergh, who first exposed the strength of the German air force and who now demonstrates that America has nothing to fear from any nation or any combination of nations, are reviled by the bundlers as fifth columnists and defeatists.

This country has been weakened also by the encouragement which official Washington has given to the spread of communism in this country. The people have seen the pictures of rioters armed with baseball bats and lengths of iron pipe which were being used to crack the skulls of men who wished to work on armament orders. News of the destruction of intricate and costly machinery has become commonplace. Public officials have accepted such incidents as if they were inevitable. The fact is that these acts of violence in the armament industries have taken place because the administration has deliberately encouraged communists to gain control of great armies of workmen. Official Washington and official Moscow have chosen opposite sides in the war, but the communists here are now so strongly intrenched in the labor movement and in the government that our government, even if it had the courage to do so, could not easily free American labor from the control which has been fastened upon it.

The American people have been waiting long for a leadership which will tell them that their country can be strong and that divisive forces should not be allowed to weaken it and at the same time to betray it into war. Senator Wheeler as a spokesman for the America First committee is performing a most useful service. The enthusiasm with which he is being greeted wherever he goes is evidence that there is need in this country for a pro-American movement dedicated to the preservation of our peace, our independence, and our liberties.

PHYSICAL STANDARDS IN THE DRAFT.

Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general of the United States public health service, says that it is a national disgrace that between 30 and 40 per cent of the men otherwise eligible for military service have been given deferred draft status because of physical defects.

Dr. Parran's statement, at first glance, gives cause for mild consternation. On second thought, however, the fact that more than a third of the draftees cannot pass the army physical examination suggests that there may be something wrong with the examination standards.

While it was a small volunteer force the army was extremely choosy in picking its recruits, and rightly so. It would have none but perfect physical specimens. In raising an army of millions these standards can and should be relaxed to some extent.

Apparently they have not been relaxed or have not been relaxed enough. The baseball industry, for instance, has experienced some unpleasant publicity because some of its star athletes have gone before draft board physicians who have delivered the verdict that these supposedly perfect physical specimens were coming apart at the seams.

We haven't been following the case of Hank Greenberg as closely as do Editor Malcolm Bingay and his brother maniacs in Detroit, but at one stage in the proceedings we noted that Hank was reported to have flat feet. What of it? There are a lot of riding jobs in the modern army. Our own White Sox's John Rigney is reported to have a mild case of tin ear, undoubtedly contracted by sitting too close to Jimmy Dykes. Just picking a spot at random, it would seem that the air corps could use his coördination and keen eyesight behind a bomb release, impaired hearing and all.

The army could well afford to devote a little trouble to vocational placement, putting men with minor physical defects in positions where those defects will be immaterial. If the present physical standards are maintained rigidly it will only mean that the standards for other grounds of deferment, such as the support of dependents or essential occupations, will have to be lowered, with consequent dislocations of the national economy.

RUNNING FOR OBLIVION.

Most professional politicians find that the only safe way to stay in office is to keep running for office every day of the year. Those who fail to learn this lesson usually wake up some morning after an election and discover to their consternation that they have been running for oblivion. This latter situation seems to be the one in which County Treasurer Toman finds himself, in his feeble attempts to collect personal property taxes.

Early in February the treasurer announced that he intended to revive the simple and workable procedure of making distress levies on the property of delinquent personal property taxpayers. Under the law he has power to seize and sell their goods for taxes. On Feb. 21 he sent letters to 19 taxpayers, threatening to make such levies if they did not pay their bills. He made no further move, except to issue press releases, until March 10, when he sent out 20 more letters. On March 18 he made public a list of 46 delinquents against whom he threatened, in the newspapers, to proceed, but did not even send them letters of warning.

Of the taxpayers to whom the first 19 letters were sent one was already subject to a suit for collection by the state's attorney. That case has been adjudicated and the taxes paid, but thru no effort on the part of the treasurer. Of the remaining 18 taxpayers 7 paid in full, 2 made partial payments, and 9 made promises to pay which they had not fulfilled at a recent date, and which the treasurer has made no move to enforce.

The treasurer has made but one levy. That taxpayer paid $171 on bills totaling $1,652 and the sale of the property to satisfy the balance of the bill was abandoned on a promise of instalment payments that will not be finished for 19 months. In recent weeks he has been more prolific of excuses than of action.

Such success as the treasurer has had in making collections thru his threats of distress levies has been due to the coöperation given him by the newspapers of Chicago. That publicity will be effective only so long as the impression prevails that the treasurer means business.

Mr. Toman was elected county treasurer after a term in the sheriff's office, in which his administration was better than average. His success there was largely attributable to his shrewdness or good fortune in finding several capable assistants. He does not seem to have been so fortunate in the treasurer's office. Its slack administration indicates that he is badly in need of some assistants who can get things done.

STILL 80 PROOF.

The revenuers don't appear to be making any progress locating the hillbilly stills. Four bits will still buy a pint of "cawn," free of all taxes, in several of the less densely populated parts of the country. Last summer in a state-wide referendum South Carolina voted 3 to 2 against permitting legal whisky to be sold in competition with the bootleggers.

Two plans have been offered to cope with illicit whisky. The first, which seemed to acquire a following for a while last year, was to cut down the size of the bottle. It was argued that a buyer of bootleg would be won over to the McCoy by the resulting price reduction, and that he would not miss the extra liquor.

Stewart Berkshire, deputy commissioner of the treasury's tax unit of alcohol, thought that the extra whisky would be missed, and as the government gets a half billion dollars a year indirectly out of whisky drinkers, they ought to be protected from the evil of smaller bottles. But he didn't like the sale of all that bootleg whisky without the government getting a cut.

And so late last summer Mr. Berkshire put forth a counter proposal. Bootleg liquor usually runs around 60 proof. The genuine is 80 or higher. Instead of cutting the bottle, Mr. Berkshire would cut the potency of the McCoy down to that of the illicit—that is from 80 proof to 60.

Nothing was done at once about the weak whisky suggestion. Prof. Yandell Henderson of Yale has taken up the idea as a step in the direction of temperance, and last month argued in favor of it at a hearing in the treasury department. The distillers were unanimously against it. The treasury department can act independently of them, but so far hasn't. The result is that if whisky is potent, the chances are it isn't moonshine.

BALD-HEADED WOMEN.

[Providence (R. I.) Bulletin.]

The specter of baldness rises to confront our women. Dr. Patricia Drant of Philadelphia attributes the calamity to strain. Mental strain. "Great demands are made on women who compete in the business and professional worlds," she told the Atlantic Dermatological conference in Boston. "The strain is taking its toll." Toll of hair. Bales of it.

The dermatologists can probably salvage a few heads. But if women are going in for manly competition they must suffer the consequences. And they'll do it manfully. We've implicit confidence in them.

The dermatologists, throwing their strength in with the barbers, may be able to mitigate the shock somewhat in semibald hair designs: Ben Franklin fringes, for example, and Philip the Bald swirls, and Shakespearean crawls. And after the last hair has vanished an Indian summer of wigs might follow, rivaling in beauty the days of Madame Pompadour or those even more entrancing days when hair dressers mounted stepladders and wrought garden designs or marvelous confections on the top of women's heads.

But at length we will all reach a sensible point of view about womanly baldness. We'll rationalize it into a sign of wisdom and an indication of advancing civilization. After all, hair is a characteristic of barbarism.

And to those men who say that women will have very little to do when they cannot visit the hair dresser we say that the increasing strain of business competition will more than take up the slack. And there's no good moaning over it. The women themselves have made the choice, and we see no way out of it but for them to bow their bald heads gracefully to the inevitable.

SAYING IT WITH GRUNTS.

We've been having some fun among the ready writers of the Tribune staff, asking how they spelled the affirmative and negative grunts with which American speech is garnished. All kinds of answers were given, in an uncertain manner, so we took an appeal to Old Man Webster's latest edition, and found a variety of spellings there.

For the affirmative, the dictionary gives "uh-huh," "unh-hunh," "um-hum," and "m-hum"; for the negative, "unh-unh," which is "pronounced with a strong glottal accent before each vowel," if you know what that means.

Then we interviewed a Frenchman and a German to see if their mother tongues contained anything similar. From their testimony it appears that French lacks our grunts but German has them. So it is apparent that our "uh-huh" does not come from the famous Indian grunt of assent, "ugh," also in the dictionary.

We continued our research into the language of horses. French has "dia" for turn left, "hurhau" for turn right, and "hue" for go ahead. German has "huet" for turn left and "hot" for turn right, and a lot of dialect stuff in addition.

* * *

Our "gee," "haw," and "whoa" are in the dictionary, and for urging horses to hustle Webster favors "gee up" instead of the "giddap" of the dialect writers. English seems to be weak in getting speed out of horses, but there is power in the French "hue," which was in constant use when we studied the cart-drivers of Paris. It sounds something like "whee" shouted thru a saxophone. . . . The most violent teamster we ever met was a Wyoming ranch foreman [not a dude], who urged his beasts with "hike" and profane addresses as the wagon bumped along the old ruts of the Overland trail.

PROPHECY FOR A LEADER.

Prince, you hav patterned, proud & brite
the empire of your dreaming:
across a continente tonite
your joyeful flags are streaming.

Kingdoms hav crumbled, kings confessed your iron federation, while home to your enamored breast flies menny a wayward nation.

In all your realm no courteous lippe
but hastens to adore you:
& well-instructed children skippe to scatter flowers before you:

Who yet hav harbored, nite & daye, within your priviest roome
the daintie toye that ticks away remorselessly your doome.

(Tear her hands from her jewelled face!
shatter her, rend her, twist her:
in every cottaje and marketplace
O Prince, she has a sister.)

Explanation of Indian Boundary Lines.

Mention of the Indian boundary lines in the Line caused me to renew my search for the origin of the name and its meaning. For years I have seen the name on maps and in legal descriptions of real estate, and have searched thru many histories of Chicago without finding any mention of it or its origin. But now, at last, I have found it—in a volume called "Chicago's Highways, Old and New," by Milo M. Quaife. [D. F. Keller & Co., Chicago, 1923.]

There are two Indian boundary lines. The northern one begins on the shore of Lake Michigan at the center line of Rogers avenue and follows the direction of Rogers avenue straight to the Des Plaines river. There it makes a slight angle to the south and follows a straight line to Aux Sable creek in Kendall county, where it turns slightly west in a straight line to the Fox river, thence down the Fox to its junction with the Illinois river at the site of the present city of Ottawa.

The southern line begins at the mouth of the Calumet river and runs straight southwest to the Kankakee river, thence down the Kankakee and the Illinois to the mouth of the Fox river.

The land between the two lines was ceded to the United States government by the allied tribes of Chippewa, Ottawa, and Potawatami in a treaty negotiated at Portage des Sioux, Mo., in August, 1816, by William Clark, Ninian Edwards, and August Chouteau. The government acquired the strip of land for the purpose of building a canal across the "Chicago Portage" to provide a continuous water route between the Great Lakes and the Mississippi.

A WILLOW WHISTLE.

Something about the blueness of the sky,
The way the coaxing warm south wind is blowing,
Manner in which the quivering shadows lie
Give to his eager heart a certain knowing:
The river-willows have attained their prime
Of golden sap, the bark and wood are ready
For whittling and for willow whistle time
With melodies exuberant and heady.

He knows exactly just the twig to choose.
Just how to pound the pulpy bark for slipping;
Deftly he makes the notches, then in hues
Of brilliancy his piping tunes are tripping.
Glad is his heart, and lost each wintry sting;
He feels upon his lips the whole of spring.

Stop Me if You've Heard This One.

While walking home from the "L" station a few days ago, I was amazed to see a man, obviously a hobo, sauntering along with a familiar looking rug tossed over his shoulder. It was my rug. I stopped the man and gently screamed, "Where did you get that carpet?"

"I dunno what reely happint, buddy," he said, "I went up to the house there an' ast the lady fer somthin' to eat, an' she ga' me this rug and said to beat it."

CLEANLINESS REDUCES THE MICROBE MENACE.

THE other day a friend said to me: "What are these bugs you keep talking about—the streptococci? Where do they come from? One of the men in my office is out now with a 'strep' sore throat and, I understand, is quite ill."

Naturally, I was not only willing, but glad to reply, explaining that some of us harbor these bacteria within the nasal passage, on the skin, or about the clothing. Those who allow the germs to linger in the throat or about the tonsils and teeth may discharge them with every cough or sneeze. After settling to the floor they may live for days and be stirred up by currents of air whenever one walks across a room. Thus they are relatively common in the dust of insanitary homes, public conveyances, theaters, and other areas where large groups congregate. Scrupulous cleanliness in our living and working quarters, therefore, must be the rule.

Let us observe an expert who is making a demonstration. He takes a bit of sterile cotton wrapped around a thin stick, moistens it in a weak salt solution, and then draws it gently over the epidermis or the garments which he wishes to test. The swab is then placed in a special broth, which remains in an incubator for 24 to 48 hours. At the end of that time, if a drop of the bouillon is examined under a powerful microscope, numerous microbes will be seen. Some may be dangerous to life.

It is well known that even after a bath some areas of the body—particularly the anal region—may show the presence of organisms. A recent study of 180 subjects, conducted by the University of Toronto, disclosed 17 strains of the "strep" family recovered from the skin.

Of course, the daily tub not only reduces the number but may eradicate completely invaders that lie on the surface. But this does not signify that contamination may not occur within an hour thereafter. Those who bathe infrequently, on the contrary, will usually show profuse growths.

Certain types of streptococci are far more harmful than others. The examination referred to merely determines whether or not parasites are a part of the population without differentiating between those that are menacing and those that are relatively mild. If the organisms are found in the throat they will also exist in the nose, the hair, about the corners of the mouth, on the lapels of the coat, the hands, the handkerchief, and the pocket wherein it is kept.

This means that the person in question is a "carrier," that is, he may distribute his menagerie to others. He himself may not be indisposed because his immunity is high. Altho he is not vulnerable to attack—after a sojourn in a crowded room—a dozen guests may be afflicted because of his generosity in barking or talking into their faces. Those who receive his offerings may suffer a siege of illness that is anything but pleasant.

This is the reason why—during house cleaning—we renovate carpets and drapes, wash woodwork, and rout dirt and grime from every conceivable nook. Débris from the vacuum cleaner [a sanitary instrument of great value] should not be thrown into the garbage can or scattered about the yard. It should be burned always. This is the only safe way to prevent pollution of the premises.

It should be clear, then, that many microbes are spread by people. They may be sown widely about the living room by a "carrier," and if the housekeeping is slovenly they may become a hazard to others. The adoption of sound, hygienic habits affords all the protection we require.

SKIN IRRITATION.

STUDENT writes: I love swimming, but am affected by the chlorine in the pool. Besides giving up the sport, what else can I do?

REPLY.

Before donning your bathing suit, coat the body with a thin layer of a neutral fat, such as cold cream. Petroleum jelly should be effective likewise, but it is more difficult to remove.

MISNOMER.

E. M. writes: What is athlete's heart?

REPLY.

There really is no such thing. Strenuous exercise is rarely responsible for heart injury. Some slight enlargement, however, is not uncommon.

THE SMEAR CAMPAIGN.

Chicago, April 5.—All the sophistications conjured up with the intent to nullify Dr. Robert Hutchins' efforts at exposing the Pharisaism of our Anglo-American war mongers are no better than the purpose which causes them.

Dr. Hutchins is attacked and vilified for the same reasons that Col. Lindbergh is attacked and vilified. They both embody the indomitable spirit of Americanism. Both love America first and witness with anxiety the speedily progressing betrayal of our people into the European maelstrom. Both know the ruin which our involvement in the war would bring to America and have done their utmost to help prevent it.

It seems that the war mongers' foremost idea of procedure is that the lights must be smudged first.

EASTER CHICKS.

Chicago, April 2.—Easter will soon be here. It is all too often marred by the sale of bunnies and chicks as gifts to children, who frequently lack the proper facilities and knowledge for their feeding and care.

Courts in some states have ruled that the selling of dyed chicks is punishable. All small creatures suffer from being mauled and mishandled, and soon die from injuries and neglect. The stores are full of attractive toys at very reasonable prices, and humane organizations urge parents to substitute one of these for a live gift to their little ones this Eastertime.

FOOD FOR CHILDREN.

Chicago, April 4.—We see many pitiful appeals for help for British children, and no doubt they are in need of it, but how about the children in Finland, Poland, Norway, Holland, Belgium, and France? How will people in these countries feel toward us and toward the British, even if the war is won, if in the meantime they have watched their children starve to death? If we give all-out aid to Britain, should we not have something to say about the inhuman blockade against food? Must everything be done just the way England says it must be done, and is it proved that feeding these people must necessarily help Germany? Many intelligent people think Hoover's plan could at least be given a trial.

TALE OF A VAGRANT DUCK.

Chicago, April 7.—I have a friend that has a duck. This duck has run away several times. One time he was in the next block. The duck chased the two children, a dog, and a cat out of their yard and started playing by himself.

He has always been friendly with Fred's dog, but fought with all other dogs.

BUD HOLLAND.

P. S.: He has only run away since his friend, Fred's dog, got run over. Before he was satisfied in his own yard. The duck has just run away again.

FARMER'S COMPLAINT.

Rockford, April 4.—I see that our addle-headed national administration has decided to buy Argentine beef for the navy if a supply is not available at a reasonable price in the United States. I wonder if a reasonable price is to be judged on South American or United States living standards?

It seems funny that the master minds in Washington should think of economy on defense now when they allowed the hoodlum dominated labor unions to raise excessively the cost of building army camps thruout the country by demanding unreasonable fees from the construction workers and laborers before they were allowed to work.

Then, too, if the American farmer has to compete with South American peons, I wonder if Washington will continue to encourage and condone the raising of farm machinery prices by the communistic tactics of the farm equipment workers unions?

However, I really shouldn't be surprised, as we farmers have learned not to expect much from Roosevelt and Wallace.

STANLEY PETERSON.

JELLYFISH.

Chicago, April 7.—In the name of humanity do these people who tell us it is useless to try and stay out of this war realize what they are doing? Isn't there some way of shocking them into a realization of the result of that defeatist attitude on the part of so many otherwise sensible intelligent Americans?

These people are literally plunging a dagger into the backs of those courageous Americans who are determined that American boys shall not again be slaughtered on Europe's bloody battlefields. It is easier to fight an outright enemy than these spineless, cowardly, hopeless jellyfish who say, "there's nothing we can do about it. It's no use." A far cry indeed from the stanch hearts that built this nation.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION.

Chicago, April 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. Can any person quit his position for no reason and get paid by Illinois compensation?

2. Can a mother collect unemployment compensation for her daughter if out of city?

3. What would happen to an employer if he made a false statement about employé being laid off?

L. M.

1. No. In the sense that there would be a waiting period.

2. Do you mean that the daughter would employ her mother to act as the agent? We suggest that you take the matter up with the officials in charge.

3. He might receive a prison sentence.

The Illinois unemployment compensation act [as amended in 1939] defines "base period" as "the 12 consecutive month period ending Dec. 31, immediately preceding the first day of a benefit year." [Sec. 2 (1)].

Section 4 [b] states that "an individual's 'weekly benefit amount' shall be an amount equal to 5 per centum of his total wages for insured work during that quarter of his base period in which such total wages were highest," but not more than $16 nor less than $7.

Section 4 [c] fixes a maximum per year of "whichever is the lesser of 16 times his weekly benefit amount or one-fourth of the wages earned by him for insured work during his base period." In both cases odd cents are increased to make even dollars.

The act applies only to employers of eight or more thru 1939, or of 6 or more in 1940 and thereafter [Sec. 2 (E)].

An employé who quits without good cause must wait five weeks. [Sec. 7.]

Excepted occupations are similar to the lists in the federal social security act. There is a waiting period of two weeks before benefit payments begin [Sec. 6 (d)]. The act is administered by the state department of labor, 222 West North Bank drive. There are 19 local and suburban offices in the Chicago area.

WINDSHIELD STICKERS.

Chicago, April 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—If I am correctly informed, we have two conflicting statutes:

1. Namely, one requiring a city vehicle sticker and a safety lane sticker to be displayed on the windshield of an automobile.

2. And one prohibiting any stickers, etc., being placed on any window of an automobile.

3. I will appreciate advice from you as to whether I have been correctly informed and if so what to do.

Z. H.

1. The city code, section 29-7 requires the sticker in the lower right hand corner.

2. The Ill. Revised Statutes, Chapter 95½, Sec. 215, prohibits material on the windshield that "obstructs the driver's clear view of the highway."

3. Since the sticker in the lower corner does not obstruct clear view of the highway, there is no conflict. You can comply with both.

CUT 10 MILLIONS FROM TENTATIVE BUDGET FIGURES

Green Has Difficulty in Keeping Pledge.

Gov. Green's broadcast of his budget plans will be carried by W-G-N today at 12 noon.

BY PARKE BROWN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—Drastic trimming of the state budget—much of it in places where it hurt—was reported to have reached 10 million dollars tonight with the limit still not reached. The reduction was the result of an agreement among Gov. Dwight Green and Republican members of the general assembly.

The governor announced early today that the $503,953,422 figure set tentatively last week would be cut considerably below the half billion mark and finance department experts were making the changes tonight so the new figures may be used in an 18-station broadcast by Gov. Green tomorrow noon.

Large Cuts Necessary.

As matters now stand it is probable that most of the big cuts will hit increases which had been agreed upon in a long series of conferences between Gov. Green and the budgetary commission of the assembly. But they will not stop there if the determination now announced is followed. Some branches of government may be given less money than they now have for operations.

The decision to revise downward was reached at what became almost an all night conference at the executive mansion. With the governor sat the big eight of the legislature—the presiding officer of each house, its majority leader, and the chairman of its appropriations and executive committees.

As one of the conferees described it, there was a reluctant conclusion that the Republicans must trim their sails to meet an impending storm of protest because economy had been omitted from the appropriation plan.

Many Items Must Stand.

Having recognized for weeks that relief, old age assistance, and similar funds from general revenue could not be trimmed, the conference went a step further and agreed, with something like unanimity, that increases in prospect for the public education field—the University of Illinois, the state normal schools, and the public school distributive fund, totaling nearly $3,500,000—must stand, the search for reducible funds was begun.

The tentative conclusion was that such projects as the voting of substantial sums to collect several times that amount in delinquent sales taxes probably must be eliminated.

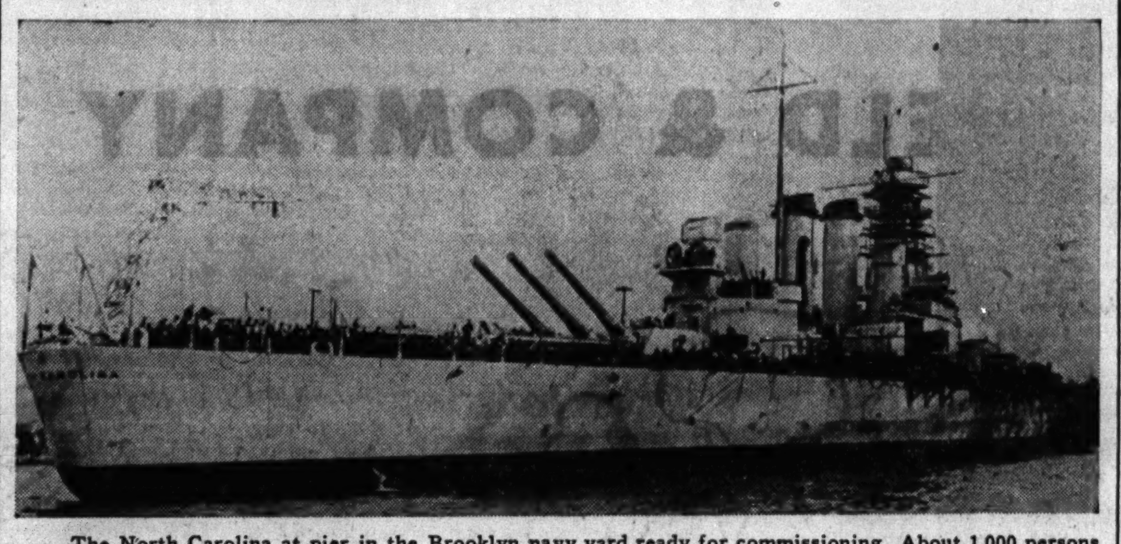
On that basis the early agreement was that the finance department appropriation would be increased $500,000 for the biennium and that an increase of $474,580 for Attorney General George F. Barrett would be used largely in this activity.

The finance department boost has been erased and notice has been served on Barrett that there can be no increase in his appropriation. Similar notice was given to Auditor Arthur C. Lueder and Treasurer Warren Wright that their promised increases of $225,000 and $16,000, respectively, are not forthcoming.

Similarly an early decision that $2,879,682 will be needed in the next two years to care for inmates of the welfare institutions because of their increasing number and the rising cost of food, clothing, and other necessities will be reduced materially. If vital need in this field appears later, there will be deficiency appropriations.

The decision to cut, no matter what the hurt, was said to have been strengthened by information that in addition to the bills to be included in the budget there are pending in the two houses at this moment appropriation bills totaling 86 million dollars. In some instances there are duplicate bills in the two houses, but precedent is said to indicate that on its own initiative the legislature will vote at least 20 million dollars, thereby threatening an all time high for appropriations by any one session.

Commission 35,000 Ton Battleship Today



The North Carolina at pier in the Brooklyn navy yard ready for commissioning. About 1,000 persons will attend the private ceremonies. [Acme Telephoto.]

Ahead of Schedule

New York, April 8 [Special].—Believed to be the most powerful fighting ship in the world, the U. S. S. North Carolina will be commissioned tomorrow in the New York navy yard at Brooklyn, where the 35,000 ton battleship was built. The ceremony will not be public, but about 1,000 persons, including high ranking naval officers, are to attend.

The North Carolina's keel was laid on Oct. 27, 1937, and she is being launched ahead of schedule at a cost of about $70,000,000. Supporting the battleship's description as the world's mightiest, observers compare her armament and equipment with those of the new King George V. class of the British navy. The British warships of that class have ten 14-inch guns, but the North Carolina has nine 16-inch guns in her main battery.

The American ship, 704 feet long, with a beam of 108 feet, possesses a secondary battery more deadly than that of comparable British fighters. Her geared turbine engines are calculated to produce 115,000 horse power. She is the first of 17 new battleships now on order.

TEACHER, CALM, LEADS OUT 11 AS SCHOOL BURNS

Miss Melva Jean Leitner is in her first year as a teacher. When a man rapped on the door of her school yesterday and whispered into her ear: "The whole roof's in flames," she remembered that a good teacher never gets excited.

She looked at the six boys and five girls in her charge and said: "It's such a sunny day that we'll take a recess. Let's all go outside." The pupils, all of the second to seventh grades, walked out. And then they discovered that their school, in North Plato, Kane county, was rapidly burning down.

The man who gave the warning is John Rohrsen of the Plato township soil conservation committee. He and farmers who ran to the scene saved the pupils' hats and coats. The nearest fire department, from Burlington, tried in vain to save the 60 year old frame school. Miss Leitner, who is 20 years old, announced before she went home to Hampshire that there'll be school as usual this morning—in St. Peter's Lutheran church across the road from the burned building.

GREEN, BROOKS AT REPUBLICAN PARTY DINNER

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—Gov. Dwight Green and Senator Wayland Brooks joined Republican state representatives at a dinner tonight at which it was stipulated nothing serious should be said.

The governor accepted kidding from the toastmaster, Edward P. Saltiel of Chicago, on the slowness of job distribution and returned a little of it when his turn came to speak.

Senator Brooks told the house members he had returned home to learn how his conduct in Washington was meeting with the approval of his constituents and the applause which met this semiquery seemed to indicate that the legislators were in thoro approval.

Later the governor and senator had a private conversation at which next year's elections were discussed. Brooks arrived here tonight and may remain a day or two.

Park District Engineer Wins Medal for Rescue

Vernon Hupp, Chicago park district engineer, has been awarded the president's medal of the National Safety council, it was announced yesterday by Robert J. Dunham, president of the board of commissioners. Hupp, who lives at 10127 Lafayette avenue, was ill at his home yesterday and presentation of the medal was delayed until he recovers. Dunham said Hupp rescued Hjalmer Swanson, 64 years old, from the lake March 25, 1940, and applied artificial respiration until a park district policeman arrived. The policeman, Charles Koester, was awarded a sustaining certificate by the council.

WOMAN FATALLY BURNED.

Mrs. Annie Genchoff, 58 years old, died in County hospital yesterday of burns suffered when she attempted to prime a stove fire with kerosene in her home at 1113 18th place. Her husband, Edward, beat out the flames after her clothing was ignited.

STREET CAR MEN TO ASK PAY HIKE IN NEW CONTRACT

Members of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employés met last night and approved an outline of demands the union would make of the Chicago Surface lines to replace their present contract expiring May 31. A raise of 10 cents an hour in basic wage rates, certain changes in working conditions, longer vacations and inauguration of a pension system were included.

The present basic wage for trainmen is 80 cents an hour. Men working at night receive 2 cents over the scale. The new scale would call for 90 cents and night men would be raised to $1.04 if the demands are met.

The surface lines employés also want two weeks vacations with pay for 120 hours instead of one week as at present and pay for 48 hours. The pension proposal is that $75 a month be provided for men over 65 with more than 20 years service. About 14,000 workers would be affected by any changes.

STEAL GEMS FROM STOVE.

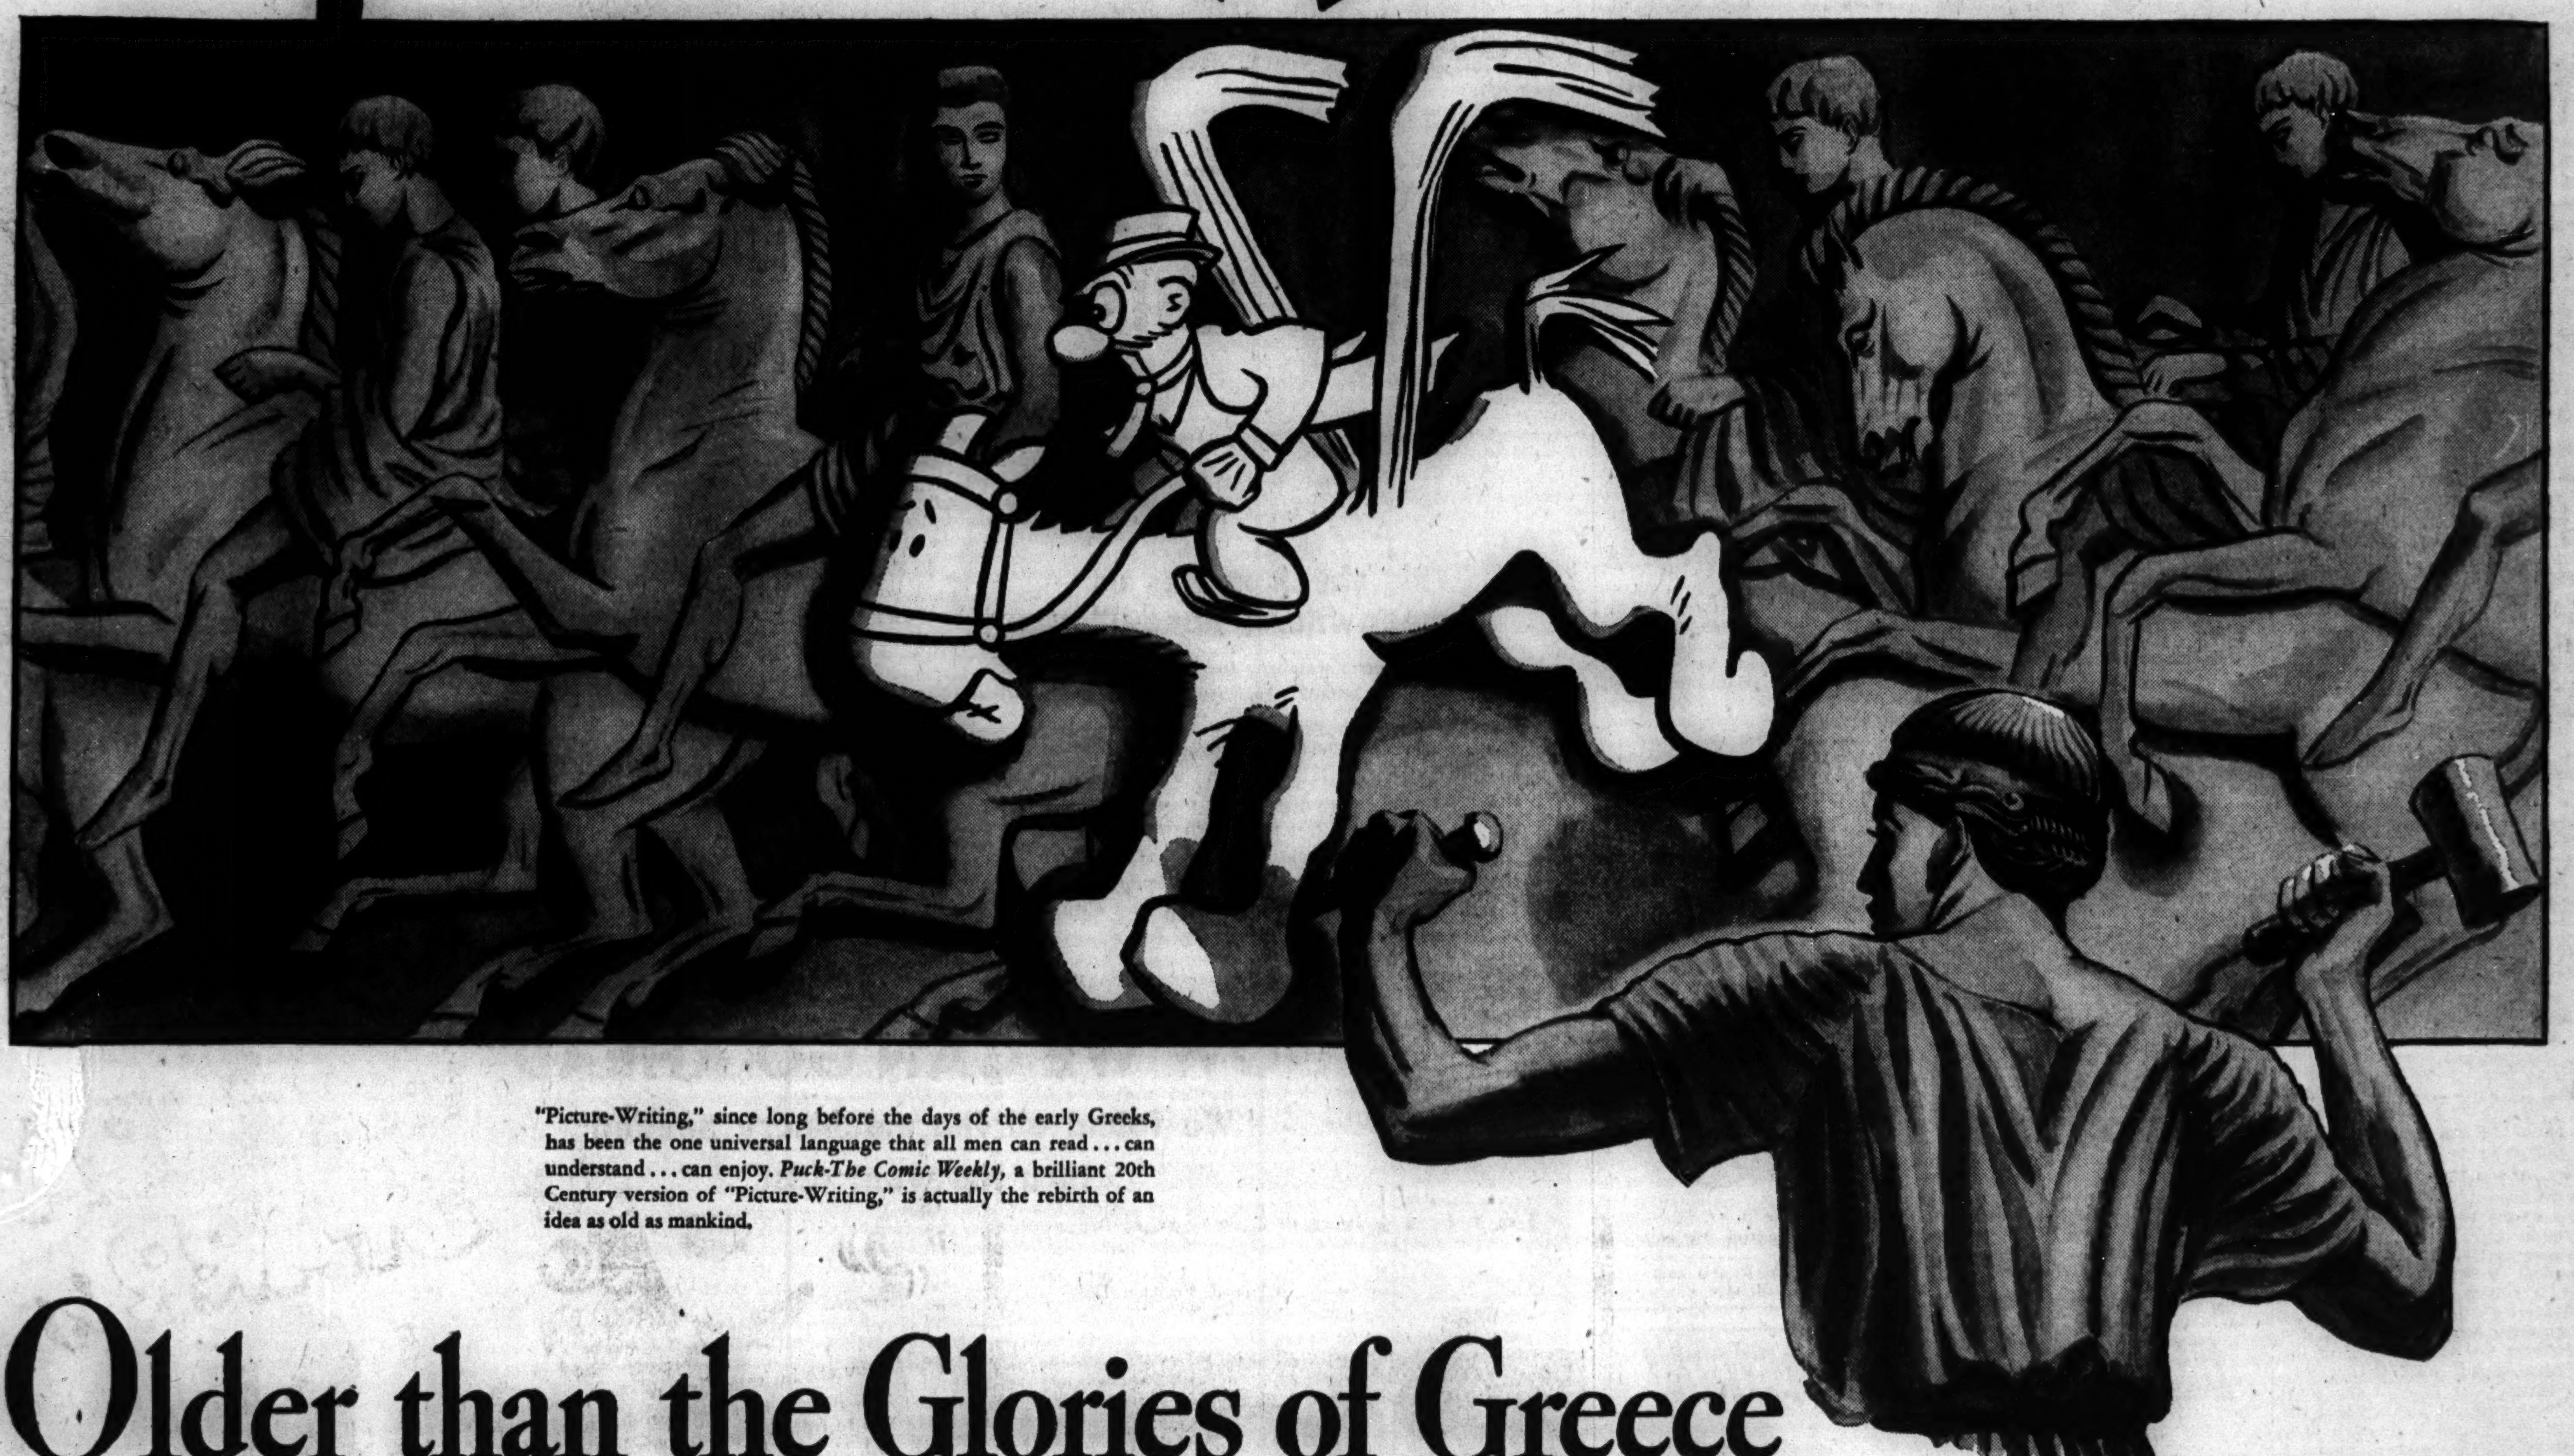
PICTURE-WRITING?



"Picture-Writing," since long before the days of the early Greeks, has been the one universal language that all men can read . . . can understand . . . can enjoy. Puck-The Comic Weekly, a brilliant 20th Century version of "Picture-Writing," is actually the rebirth of an idea as old as mankind.

Older than the Glories of Greece

. . . yet Today's Greatest Thriller!

HUMAN . . . warm . . . alive . . . understandable . . . the editorial philosophy of Puck-The Comic Weekly is based on the oldest appeal in the world—and the newest—"Picture-Writing."

Today Puck is the Great Melting Pot of America, where class and creed are forgotten, where old and young are fused in common interest.

Professor H. A. Overstreet, in his famous work on psychology entitled, Influencing Human Behavior, wrote: "There must be movement, if we are to hold attention very long."

Movement is the essence of Puck's "Picture-Writing." But that is only one of the reasons why Puck's All Star Cast—Popeye, Jiggs and Maggie, Blondie, Skippy, Flash Gordon, the Little King, Barney Google, Snuffy Smith and all the others attract and hold a larger and more loyal audience than any single group of entertainers in the world—animate or inanimate.

Puck is not only devoured from cover to cover by 12,000,000 adults (over 18)—but it is the only national publication seen and read by practically every boy and every girl (from 3 to 18) in every one of the 5,500,000 homes into which it goes every week. A sales-active bonus of millions and millions of juveniles.

Now in its 11th year as a general advertising medium, Puck's phenomenal rise can be chalked up to this one fact: it gets more results at less cost.

As the "World's Best Seller," Puck does more than flag readers . . . it moves merchandise. If it didn't, 100 leading advertisers would not have invested millions of their advertising dollars in Puck through the years.

Any executive interested in making two sales flourish where one grew before can see "Picture-Writing," Puck's new presentation, by telephoning COlumbus 5-2642, New York, or FRAnklin 0033, Chicago.

"The Big Meal in the Big Can" Breaks the National Trail in Puck

Two years ago the Dinty Moore line—five fine food products—was the junior of the Geo. A. Hormel & Co. family.

Tests showed that Dinty Moore responded quickly to mass displays in key metropolitan markets. The line was clearly ripe for promotion. But the Hormel policy of maintaining high quality at low price left only a small margin for advertising. So the problem was what kind of advertising would be effective enough right from the jump-off to pay its way.

Due consideration suggested a test in Puck-The Comic Weekly. So test they did—just a few insertions of four-color ⅓ pages the first year.

Mass displays backed by reader traffic of Puck helped these good displays do their job and Dinty Moore products began a steady march to consumers.

So this year Hormel has doubled Dinty Moore's advertising budget. And what publication is out in front carrying the heaviest assignment? You're right! It's PUCK-THE COMIC WEEKLY, says Geo. A. Hormel & Co.

"What fools these Mortals be!"

BARR BILL BARS GIRLS FROM BARS UNTIL THEY'RE 21

Passed by Senate, 31 to 3, Despite Ridicule.

BY PERCY WOOD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 8 [Special].—Girls of Illinois may marry when they reach the age of 18 years, but the senate agreed today that they shouldn't be permitted to buy a drink until they become 21.

This attitude was recorded by a vote of 31 to 3 in approving a measure sponsored by the veteran Republican senator from Joliet, Richard J. Barr, who appears to be the spokesman for the Anti-Saloon league this session.

Harold G. Ward of Chicago, Democratic minority leader and a teetotalar, snorted at Barr's bill, asserting that it was no business of the senate's if a girl bought a drink after she was 18. "We let them marry at 18 and manage their own affairs," Ward declared; "we have no right to tell them they can't drink."

Girls in Saloons.

"Who would have thought a few years ago," Barr replied in almost a sepulchral tone, "that the open saloon would be back? Yet it is back and they're there," meaning the 18 year olds he was so solicitous about.

The senate also went to considerable length to establish its opposition to repeal of the law requiring three day notice of intention to wed. It passed two bills to reduce the waiting period to one day.

Both measures now go to the house, as does the Barr liquor bill. One of the marriage bills originated in the house, but in the form it reached the senate it would have abolished any notice.

The senate demurred, holding with William G. Knox [R., Chicago] that since no constitutional test has been made of the Saltiel premarital examination bill, which provides a delay and therefore operates against hasty marriages, the three day notice should not be entirely wiped out. Knox amended the measure with a one day clause.

This section put the house bill in the same form as one introduced by Senator Richard J. Daley [D., Chicago]. Today both were approved. The house bill won approval, 39 to 1, and Daley's by 38 to 3.

Action Up to House.

If the house concurs in the amendments to the house bill, which was sponsored by Representative Sam Schaumleffel [R., Monmouth] at the request of the County Clerk's association, it will go to Gov. Green for signature.

Continuing down the calendar, the senate also extended the life of the legislative council until Oct. 1, 1945. This matter was debated for some time, with arguments raised that the council has become a research body rather than the session planning agency which many senators thought it was intended to be.

Senator Ray Paddock [R., Round Lake] thought that senators were intelligent enough to do their own research, while Senator Ward held it would be a good idea to combine it with the legislative reference bureau. Both ideas were sidetracked, however, and the vote for continuance of the council as a separate agency was 36 to 8.

JUDGE WILL RULE ON ST. CHARLES SLAYING BONDS

Circuit Judge William J. Fulton yesterday took under advisement in Aurora a motion to release two guards at the St. Charles School for Boys on bond pending a hearing on a murder indictment. The two, Robert Adams, 33 years old, and William Laird, 27, have been held since the fatal beating Feb. 13 of a colored inmate, James Williams, 16, of Chicago. Their attorneys, George D. Carbary and Ralph Eaton, contend that manslaughter is the most severe charge that can be brought against them. Judge Fulton will rule on the motion Friday.

1 IN 43 EXAMINED IN DRAFT SHOWS SYPHILIS TAINT

Springfield, Ill., April 8 (AP).—The state health department announced today that one of every 43 selective service registrants examined in Illinois during January and February showed evidence of syphilis infection.

The analysis of laboratory tests also indicated that one of every 90 expectant mothers whose blood specimens were tested during 1940 had a positive syphilis reaction.

During the first three and one half years of the Illinois hygienic marriage law's effectiveness, the ratio of syphilis found in marriage candidates was one of every 71.

Translated to ratio per 1,000 tested, the health department said, the rates were: For draft registrants, 23; for expectant mothers, 11, and for marriage candidates from 11 to 19.

WIFE AWARDED DIVORCE IN MIKE SNOOPING CASE

Mrs. Edith Feiler, 24 years old, of 8855 Lowe avenue, was granted a default divorce on grounds of cruelty yesterday by Judge Rudolph Desort after the cross-bill of her husband, Lawrence, 27, charging misconduct, was dismissed. Mrs. Feiler was granted custody of a daughter, Jean, 4, and an agreement announced by her attorneys, Joseph H. and Norman Becker, and by Feiler's lawyer, Robert Cantwell Jr., provides that Feiler maintain the child in a private school.

Feiler, a radio technician, originally asserted that he had placed a microphone at the bottom of a hotel room door and had recorded an alleged rendezvous between his wife and another man. Called upon to produce, he said he had smashed the record.

Mrs. Feiler's sister, Miss Mildred Dunn, 22, who lived with her sister during the marriage, later testified that Feiler had crawled out of bed from his wife's side 200 times and attempted to make violent love to her as she slept in the same room. She said she managed to repulse him every time.

NEW REMAPPING MEASURE PUSHED IN STATE SENATE

Bill Aims to Keep G. O. P. Districts Intact.

Springfield, Ill., April 8 [Special].—Representative Noah M. Mason [R., Oglesby] arrived in Springfield today with a congressional reapportionment bill he said had been approved by the GOP delegation from Illinois and which will be introduced in the state senate tomorrow in the hope of sidetracking the house measure presented by Representative Hugh M. Luckey [R., Potomac], chairman of the lower chamber's apportionment committee.

Mason's measure will be introduced by Thomas P. Gunning [R., Princeton], who was supplied by Mason with arguments in its behalf, leading with the important contention that, unlike the house measure, it would not throw two Republican congressmen in the same district and force them to run against one another.

Mason's District Undisturbed.

Luckey's measure would so realign the district boundaries that several of the Republican delegation would have to campaign against one another if it becomes a law.

Mason said his Washington colleagues thought he would be a good diplomatic agent to send to Springfield since his is the only Republican district left undisturbed by the Luckey bill, so he could not be accused of trying to save his own skin by opposing the house measure.

Like the Luckey bill, Mason's measure would divide the state into 26 districts—13 downstate and 13 in Cook county—and the effort was made to establish a state-wide average of about 300,000 population per district to downstate the average about 275,000, in Cook county, about 325,000.

Division of Cook County.

Cook county districts would be carved as follows: First—Wards 1, 2, 3, 4, 5.

Second—Wards 6, 7, 8, 17.

Third—Wards 9, 10, 19, and towns, Chicago Heights, Harvey, Lemont, Palos Park, Worth, Orland, Bremen, Thornton, Rich, Bloom, and Calumet.

Fourth—Wards 11, 12, 14, 15, 16.

Fifth—Wards 13, 18, 23, and Cicero, Berwyn, Summit, and Stickney.

Sixth—Townships of Proviso, Riverside, and Lyons.

Seventh—Wards 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 27.

Eighth—Wards 28, 29, 30, 31, 34.

Ninth—Wards 43, 44, 46, 47, 48.

Tenth—Evanston, New Trier, Northfield, and Lake county.

Eleventh—Wards 42, 26, 32, 33, 45.

Thirteenth—Wards 34, 38, 41, Skokie, Morton Grove, Elmwood Park, and Townships of Hanover, Schaumberg, Elk Grove, Maine, Leyden, Barrington, Palatine, Wheeling, Norwood Park.

Hasty examination of the realignment proposed by Mason seemed to indicate that it would result in the election of about six or seven Republican congressmen in Cook county, which now has only two.

NON-POLITICAL COURT BILL WINS IN COMMITTEE

Springfield, Ill., April 8 [Special].—The committee on judiciary of the Illinois house today recommended for passage the bill sponsored by the Chicago Bar association to place the election judges of the Municipal court on a nonpartisan basis.

The bill aroused interest because of its proposal that at the end of a four year term the name of each judge would go before the people on the question of whether he should serve another four year term on the court. Speaking in favor of the measure were William H. King, president of the Chicago Bar association; Victor A. Olander of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Judge Oscar F. Nelson of the Superior court of Cook county.

An opponent was John H. Lyle, former Municipal judge. He urged the party system and holding the parties responsible for the judges they elect.

OFFICIAL COUNT BRINGS DAYLIGHT TIME TO QUINCY

Quincy, Ill., April 8 (AP).—Completion of an official canvass of the April 1 city election disclosed today that two propositions reported defeated in unofficial returns had in fact been approved by almost 100 votes each.

The issues involved are daylight saving time, which won by 86 votes, and a proposed pension retirement plan for employés of the city waterworks, which was carried by 95 votes. Unofficial returns reported at the close of the election showed daylight saving time had lost by 10 votes and the pension plan by 14.

City officials said judges of the election had made erroneous unofficial reports on the referenda on election night.

BODY RECOVERED FROM RIVER.

The body of Wayne C. Blair, a factory machinery dealer who had been missing since Feb. 24, was recovered yesterday from the river at Polk street. He was 45 years old and lived at 814 South Carpenter street, Oak Park.

Can a Married Woman Ever Feel Certain?

Many married women take unnecessary risks with their nerves, health, happiness. Why? Generally because feminine hygiene is considered too personal to be discussed. And so many women use overstrong solutions of acids which can actually burn or scar delicate tissues. Today such risks are needless. For science has given womankind Zonite. Non-poisonous, non-caustic, yet kills germs, bacteria on contact. Actually destroys undesirable odors. Protects personal daintiness. Most important, safe for delicate tissues. AFTER ELECTION QUIZ SOUGHT IN MICHIGAN HOUSE

Charges Hit Democrat Road Department.

Lansing, Mich., April 8 [Special].—Republican legislators, reassembling after a four day election recess planned today to introduce a resolution for an investigation into charges that the Democratic-controled highway department is a political machine which violates both state and federal laws in its pursuit of partisan ends.

G. Donald Kennedy, highway commissioner, was returned by a decisive margin in yesterday's election to serve a four year term starting July 1 in addition to filling out the term for which he was appointed when Murray D. Van Wagoner resigned after his election to the governorship last November.

Drafted by Republicans.

The resolution authorizing a legislative inquiry, delayed until after election to avoid any charge of "dirty politics," was drafted by Representatives Alpheus P. Decker, Deckerville, and Audley Rawson, Cass City, the latter house Republican floor leader. It would empower the roads and bridges committee, headed by Decker, to conduct hearings, examine books and records, issue subpenas, and take any necessary steps to learn the facts regarding highway department activities.

These will include possible violations of the federal Hatch act, state constitutional civil service rules, and the constitutional amendment earmarking exclusively for highway construction and maintenance revenues obtained from motor vehicle taxation.

The probe, if authorized, is expected to follow up many of the leads suggested by Vernon J. Brown, auditor general, who charged a fortnight ago that Kennedy was using department employés for campaign work—many for no other activity—and had prepared campaign material at state expense and with state equipment.

Status Quo Undisturbed.

Result of the election, while disappointing to Republican leaders who had hoped to install as highway commissioner Leroy C. Smith, engineer-manager of the Wayne county [Detroit] road commission, and thus wrest from the Democrats their most potent political weapon, left the state government in status quo.

Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, Republican superintendent of public instruction, easily won reëlection over Edward W. McFarland, Detroit Democrat and former liquor control commission chairman, thus assuring continuance of the existing even split of the powerful eight member state administrative board between the major parties.

Chauffeur Gets 30 Days on Reckless Driving Charge

George Schwarz of 7344 Rogers avenue was sentenced in Safety court yesterday to 30 days in jail on a charge of reckless driving. Witnesses told Judge Jay Schiller that Schwarz was driving 40 miles an hour thru a residential district on Chase avenue when his car ran thru a stop signal at Oakley boulevard and struck another automobile, injuring four persons. Schwarz is a chauffeur 40 years old.

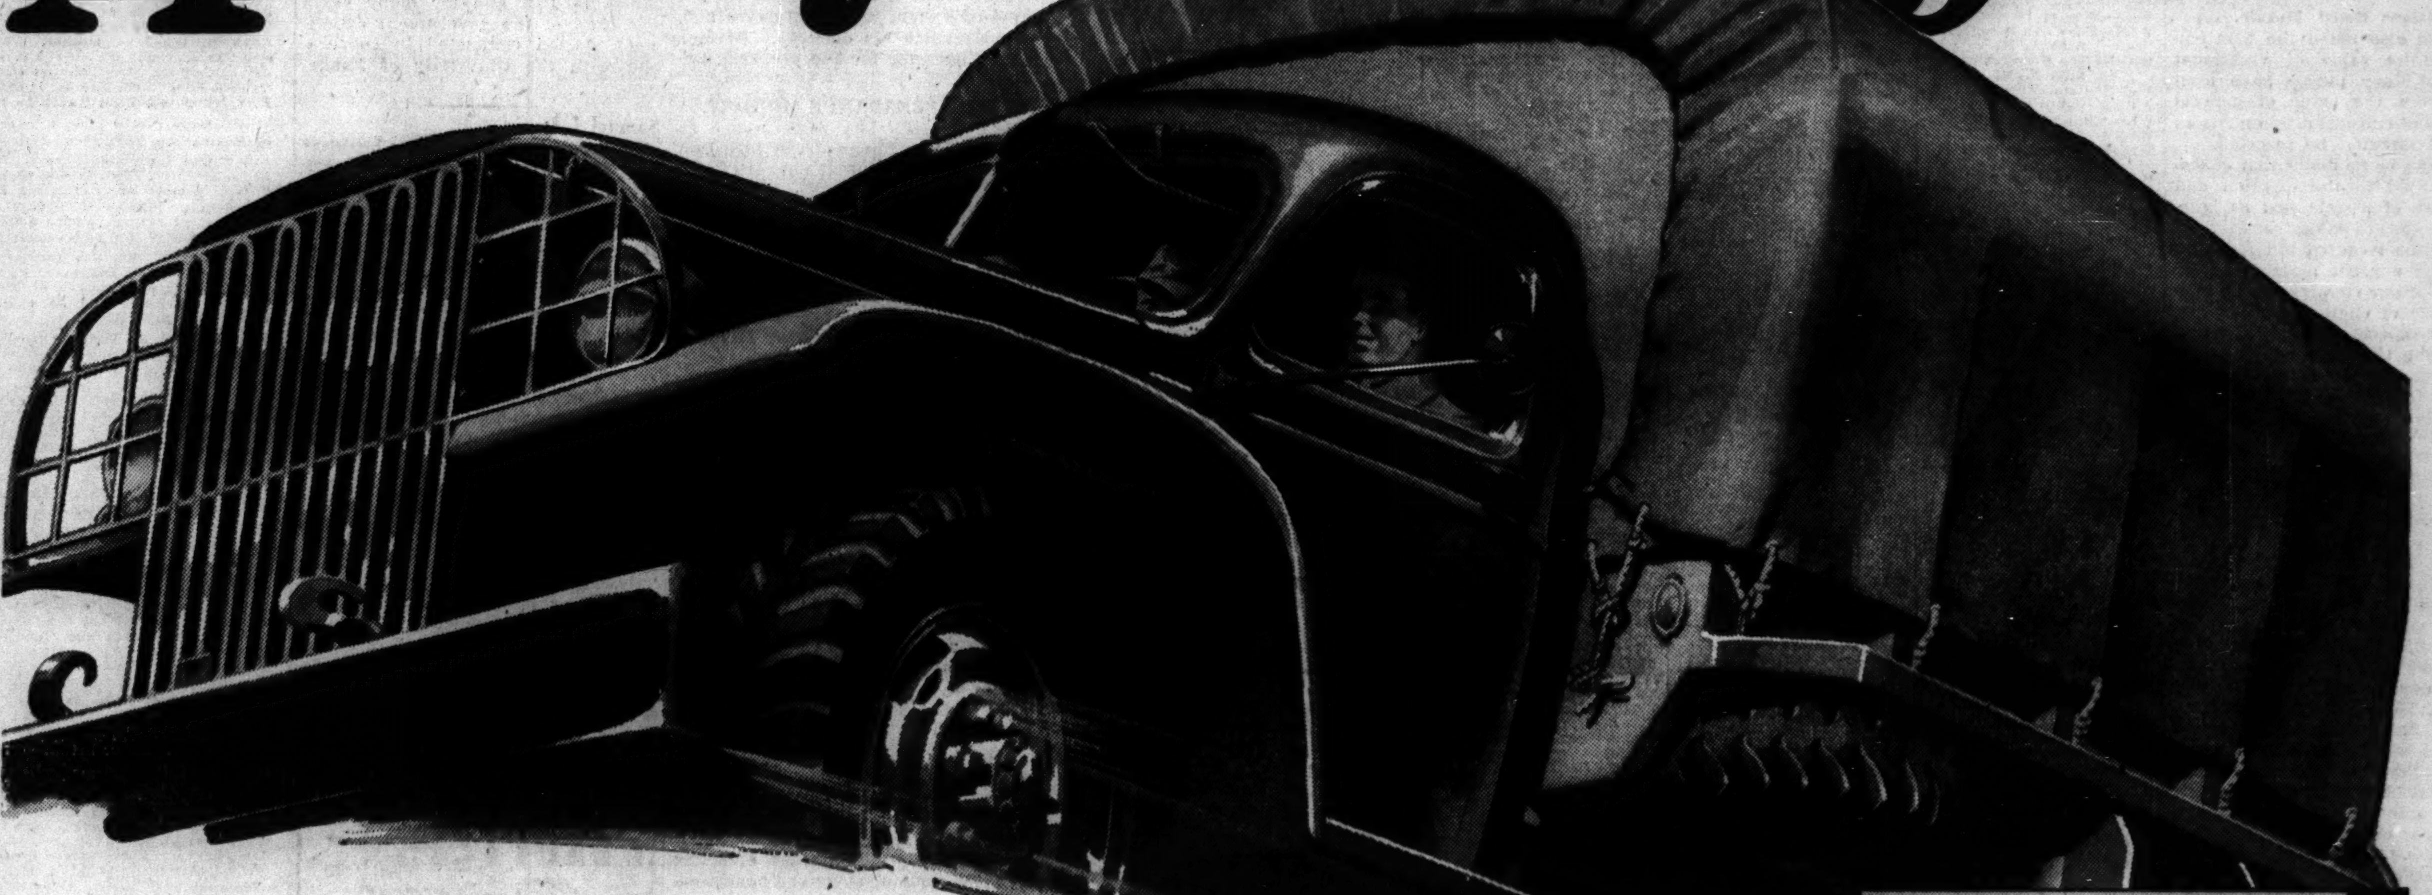
Already On The Job!



Former Janesville Chevrolet and Fisher Body employees, now serving with the armed forces of the U. S. A., inspect newly delivered Chevrolet trucks at Camp Beauregard, La.

. . . and thousands more Chevrolet trucks are on the way, to meet the needs of National Defense!

Placing motors on test blocks at Chevrolet plant, Flint, Mich. Motors are shipped from this plant to be assembled in U. S. Army trucks at Chevrolet Assembly Plants throughout the country, in addition to assembly operations at Flint.

This nation has summoned all Industry to its side and given Industry the biggest job in the world—the job of producing for National Defense.

To Chevrolet, months ago, in the earliest days of the emergency, there came an urgent call for trucks—and still more trucks—for the U. S. Army.

Today, it is a pleasure to report to the American people that great numbers of Chevrolet trucks are already on the job at Army camps in all parts of the country.

Thousands of additional Chevrolet trucks are on the way. . . . Other thousands will continue to roll off our assembly lines as long as they are needed. . . . Smoothly, steadily, in ever-increasing numbers, to help meet one of the most vital needs of modern defense—an army equipped to move swiftly over any type of ground.

America has helped to make the Chevrolet Division of General Motors one of the largest manufacturing units in the world; and, of course, America can count on Chevrolet to contribute its full share to the biggest job in the world—National Defense.

CHEVROLET

CHEVROLET MOTOR DIVISION, General Motors Corporation, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

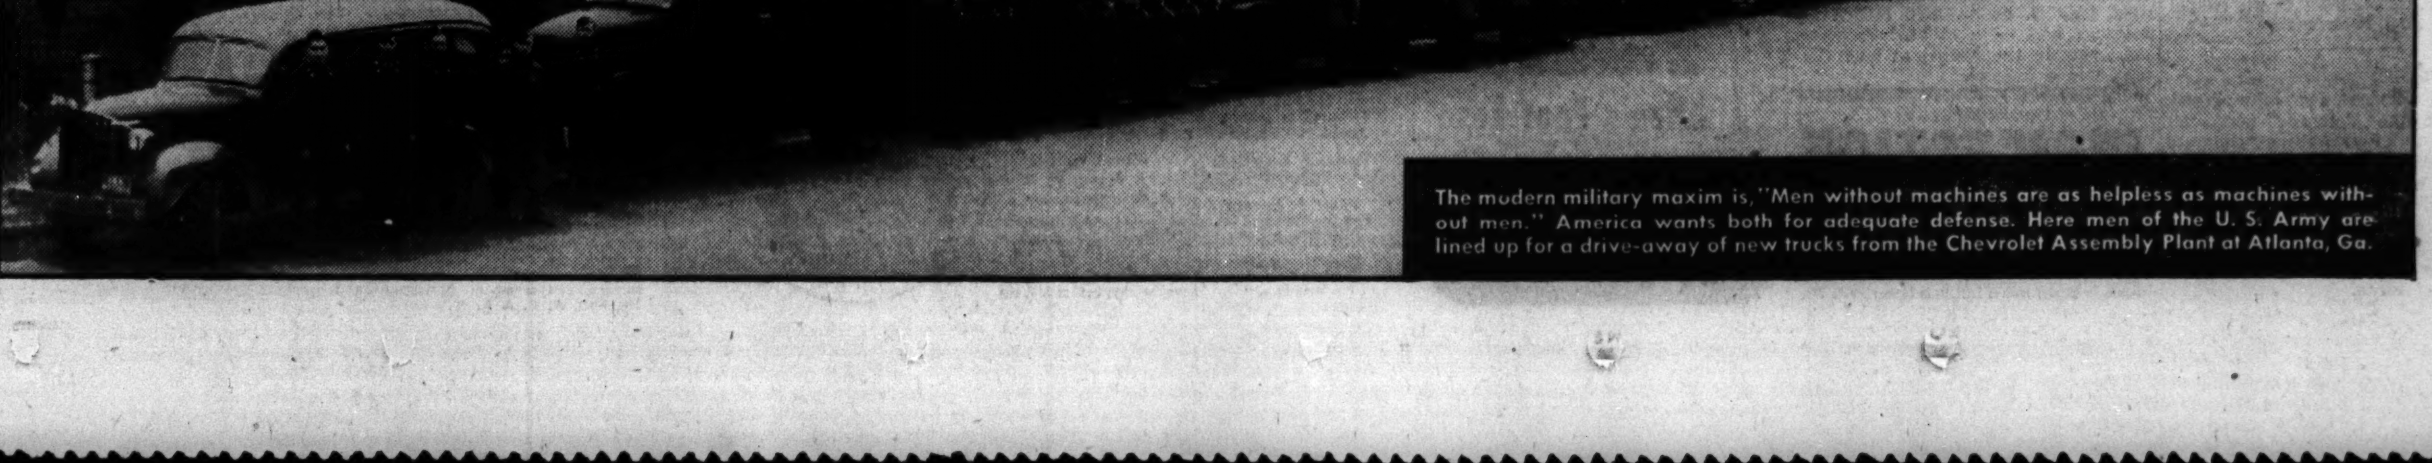
The Chevrolet 4 x 4 is a widely used Army truck. Long lines are shown awaiting shipping instructions at the Oakland, California, Chevrolet Assembly Plant. A concrete example of the part Chevrolet is playing in providing this country with an army equipped to move swiftly over any type of ground.



The modern military maxim is, "Men without machines are as helpless as machines without men." America wants both for adequate defense. Here men of the U. S. Army are lined up for a drive-away of new trucks from the Chevrolet Assembly Plant at Atlanta, Ga.

ILLINOIS TECH'S HEAD TELLS NEED FOR ENGINEERS

Education Program Seeks to Provide Men.

The need for trained technical engineers to aid in the nation's preparedness program was told yesterday by Harold T. Heald, president of the Illinois Institute of Technology, at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary club in the Hotel Sherman.

Recent information, said Dr. Heald, shows that American industry will require the services of nearly 50,000 engineering graduates during the next year. Several times this number of technicians along engineering lines also will be needed.

Program to Train Men.

"In the face of these demands," he said, "is the knowledge that all the engineering colleges in the country this June will produce only about 12,000 graduates. Anticipating a possible bottleneck, industry, government, and the engineering colleges have been taking steps to increase the supply of technically trained personnel thru varied supplementary defense training."

These, he said, include short college courses in engineering, broader engineering curricula in various nontechnical schools, and other classes training men in such vital jobs as tool designing, inspection methods, production planning, explosives, metallurgy, plastics, electronics, and communications.

Vocations Boost Morale.

Dr. Heald also noted the new emphasis on the value of vocational training. "Many people have been talking about the value of general education and cultural attainments as builders of morale," he asserted.

"There can be no doubt that education is an aid to the creation and maintenance of morale just as ignorance tends toward its destruction. At the same time I cannot but feel that it would be a great morale booster to know that our country has an adequate supply of engineers, scientists, production experts, and skilled workmen applying themselves in industry and government to the task of providing our forces with the best fighting tools that can be produced anywhere in the world."

ASSAIL INTERNE DRAFTING

Gen. Manus McCloskey, warden of Cook County hospital, has written Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, surgeon general of the United States army, urging him to recommend to the selective service board that interns at Cook County hospital be granted a longer period of draft deferment.

The warden revealed yesterday that the present 18 month deferment after graduation from medical school would force 32 doctors to leave County hospital each year with but 12 instead of the usual 18 months of internship.

"All of our interns won appointments thru civil service examinations," Dr. O. C. Nelson, the assistant warden, explained. "The civil service lists are posted each February and March. The top 32 men assume their duties the following July 1 and the next 32 the following Jan. 1. Since all of the men graduate in June, those in the second group will be deprived of six months of valuable training unless the selective service board extends the draft deferment period for interns."

Six county hospital interns and 18 nurses have entered the armed forces, it was stated, but no shortages exist.

"Six months' more training here would be far more valuable to the drafted intern than army service," Dr. Nelson said, "especially since he can make up the time lost from the army."

2 U. OF C. SCHOOLS SALUTED ON W-G-N CITIZENS' HOUR

Two University of Chicago schools, University High and the Four Year college, were saluted yesterday on the Citizens of Tomorrow broadcast on W-G-N. Four hundred pupils and leaders of the schools and a group of Indiana educators were studio guests.

Two choral groups provided music—the High School Glee club, directed by Harris Vail, singing Handel's "Verdant Meadows," and the College chorus, directed by Knox Vail, singing "Since First I Saw Your Face."

Dr. Aaron John Brumbaugh, dean of the college, spoke. Three pupils were added to the roll of honor. They are Mae Steffen of Milwaukee, Aubrey Johnson of Benton Harbor, Mich., and Janet Baker of Evanston. Eddie Firestone and Dorothy Gregory, who report school news, told of the Medill Press conference at Northwestern university. Hammond High school won the Medill trophy, scoring highest among 55 high schools.

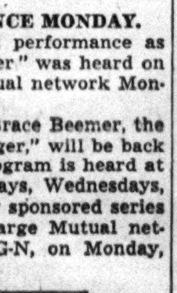
TOUCHES ELECTRIC WIRE; KILLED.

Frank Zientara, 44 years old, an employé of the General American Transportation corporation in East Chicago, came into contact with a charged wire and was killed yesterday while inspecting some new railroad crossing gates near the company plant.

'LONE RANGER' OF RADIO FAME KILLED IN CRASH

Victim of Peril He Worked to Curb—Traffic.

Farmington, Mich., April 8 (AP).—The voice of the "Lone Ranger," a hero to countless thousands of radio listeners for almost nine years, was stilled today by the very hazard he sought to curb—highway traffic.



Earl W. Graser.

Earl W. Graser, 32 years old, was killed in front of the Farmington Methodist church in this suburb of Detroit when his automobile hurtled out of control about 5 a. m. into the rear of a parked trailer. For months Graser, in personal messages to the "friends of the Lone Ranger" had used his program and his voice to promote traffic safety.

Funeral services will be held here Thursday.

But, altho his well known voice is gone the "Lone Ranger" will continue to ride, and "Hi, yo Silver, away!" will still be heard on radio station W-G-N, Chicago. WXYZ of Detroit, key of the network which broadcasts the program, announced shortly after Graser's death that Brace Beemer, the voice of the "Lone Ranger" for a few months at the program's start nearly 10 years ago, would resume his old rôle. Beemer is now narrator for the program.

LAST APPEARANCE MONDAY.

Earl Graser's last performance as radio's "Lone Ranger" was heard on W-G-N and the Mutual network Monday.

Beginning today Brace Beemer, the original "Lone Ranger," will be back in the rôle. The program is heard at 4:30 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. A new sponsored series is to start over a large Mutual network, including W-G-N, on Monday, May 5.

Street Cleaner Fatally Hurt When Hit by Auto

An unidentified street cleaner, about 50 years old, was fatally injured early today under a railroad viaduct in 39th street, between Federal and La Salle streets, when he was hit by a car driven by Walter Mack, 23, of 11414 Champlain avenue. He died in Michael Reese hospital.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 214 persons had been killed in Cook county traffic since Jan. 1. Of these 163 died in Chicago, where 5,700 were injured during the same period.

Measles Epidemic Broken in State; 18.6 Pct. Decline

Springfield, Ill., April 8 (AP).—A break in the state-wide measles epidemic was reported today by the health department which said the number of new cases last week was 18.6 per cent lower than a week earlier. The drop from 4,497 cases two weeks ago to 3,660 last week came after 14 weeks of unusually high incidence over the state. The disease this year to April 7 totaled 34,404 cases, of which 19,458 were in Chicago.

Maurice Saves $100 Roll by Carrying Two Wallets

Maurice P. Angland, 75 East Elm street, a manufacturer, has been carrying two wallets for some time against the chance that he might be held up. Last night a bandit stopped him in front of his home and Angland surrendered his wallet containing $3. The other wallet, with $100 in it, he kept. The holdup man also took Angland's car.

PRE-MARRIAGE EXAMINATIONS

Your certificate is ready the day you are examined!

One big advantage in getting your pre-marriage examination at the Public Health Institute is that, if you are examined before 2 P. M. at 159 or 169 N. Dearborn Street, your certificate will be ready the same day. OBITUARIES

Hjalmar Lundin.

New York, April 8 [Special].—Hjalmar Lundin, 70, once circus strong man and wrestler, died today at Jamaica. Born in Sweden, he came to the United States as a youth. John Ringling, the circus man, met Lundin in 1894 at Pullman, Ill., where he was tossing 600 pound car axles and signed him as a circus attraction. Lundin's feat was to balance upon his body a plank bearing 22 men. Once when Lundin appeared in a benefit performance in Chicago the plank broke and he suffered fractures of both arms. He later became a wrestler. He won the championship of Sweden and in the United States wrestled George Bothner, George Hackenschmidt, Frank Gotch, and Tom Jenkins.

Loring Christie.

New York, April 8 [Special].—Loring Christie, 56, former Canadian minister to the United States, died today of a cardiac condition. He was minister from September, 1939, until last February. A native of Nova Scotia, he was educated at Dalhousie university and at Harvard. He was induced by George W. Wickersham, attorney general in the Taft cabinet, to accept a post in the state department in Washington. He returned to Canada later to be legal adviser to the department of external affairs. He was secretary general of the British empire delegation to the Washington naval conference of 1921.

William Remsen Appleby.

Boston, Mass., April 8 [Special].—William Remsen Appleby, 76, founder and dean emeritus of the University of Minnesota School of Mines since 1935, died today. He was dean of the school and professor of metallurgy from 1891 until retirement six years ago. Prof. Appleby was in charge of a party that examined coal and iron properties and operations of the South Manchurian railway in Manchuria in 1921 and for many years was head of the government experiment station conducted in coöperation with the University of Minnesota.

Samuel J. Davis.

Samuel J. Davis, a Chicago business man for 40 years, who resided at 8120 South Kimbark avenue, died Sunday in Miami, Fla., where he was vacationing. Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. today in the Scottish Rite cathedral, 935 North Dearborn street. Mr. Davis was a 33d degree Mason and was a life member of Dallas lodge of the Masonic order in Pittsburgh, Pa. He was also a member of the Wiley M. Egan chapter of the Royal Arch Masons and was a member of Apollo commandery, No. 1, Knights Templar. His widow, Rose, survives.

Mrs. Sigrid Curtiss.

Mrs. Sigrid Eckman Curtiss, wife of Prof. David R. Curtiss of the mathematics department at Northwestern university, died in an Evanston convalescent home yesterday at the age of 59. Her home was at 2752 Eastwood avenue, Evanston. She was active in the Radcliffe club of Chicago, the University guild, the University circle, and in women's activities of the First Methodist church, Evanston. Besides her husband, she leaves two daughters and one son.

MISTS OF HISTORY TRACE ORIGIN OF THOSE NEW HATS

Spring Modes Varied as Scheherazade's Tales.

Just how or why a certain style of hat becomes fashionable is as much a mystery to the men and women who design hats as it is to the women who wear them.

An effort to give an historical tinge to this Easter's hats, which are as varied as the 1,001 tales of Scheherazade, failed completely yesterday. There is no single popular style this spring.

In this failure at least lies historical analogy, because in the turbulent decade of the 1820's 10,000 different shapes of hats were worn in Paris alone. One designer, attempting to explain today's trend, said: "In time of change, such as this is, women wear everything—and anything."

Each Has a Precedent.

Yet of the many diverse styles now shown none can be termed completely original. Each has its historical precedent, whether or not the wearer is cognizant of this. Consider the many present variations of the skull cap. In 15th century France it was known as the chaperon; the broad piece of material then hanging from its back to the wearer's shoulder now has been replaced with a veil.

One Chicago designer said that when in Paris he used to go to the Louvre for inspiration, but now—"I just wake up in the middle of the night," he glowed, "and," with a snap of his fingers, "I have an idea."

As an instance of his ideas he produced a series of tiny new spring hats. Several consisted of single birds so deftly fashioned that each made a small, curved hat nestling to the head. The ladies of Paris wore similar hats in 1794, sir, as did the ladies of America in 1867.

A Bumblebee Flight of Fancy.

Many of his popular new hats are small frontal disks held in place by bandeaux that fasten around the head. The disks are laden with various objects, such as a field of daisies alive with bumblebees, beautiful ears of corn made of wooden beads, plastic cherries, wax lilies, or simulated porcelain roses.

Yet the ladies of Paris wore such ornamental disks in 1799. Earlier, under the leadership of Marie Antoinette, they wore complete vegetable gardens on their bonnets. And during the reign of Louis XIII. a lady's hat was a collection of objects symbolic of that which was dearest to her. Thus a soldier's wife wore a miniature fort with a sword turned upward and a lady with five children wore a hat with five dolls.

Many of the flower laden hats of this Easter definitely spring from the '90's, when all hats, both broad brimmed and turbaned, were fashioned to flatter the pompadour hair dress. One designer said the trend gradually is working back toward the brimmed bonnet of civil war days. This had a stiff brim and long ribbon streamers that tied beneath the chin. Yet the first widespread use of the tiny flowered turban was in 1793, again in France.

New? Yes, Sir, In 1814!

Stiff pink roses, now highly popular, were a raging novelty in 1814, or 10 years after the appearance of the fashionable capote, the first hat to boast a veil.

One wide brimmed hat, which 1941 fashion experts refer to as showing the Chinese influence, first appeared in 1862. It was known then as a mushroom hat, as it was on its 1907 reincarnation. The small brimmed hat that looks like a jockey's cap is seen often this spring in many variations. It first was hailed as fashionable in 1806, when it appeared as the jockey bonnet, and again in 1860.

"There's nothing new," one designer said. "All our designers get their ideas from libraries. However, one of our designers saw an accordion this year that caused her to design a hat."

The designer produced the hat. It was pleated deftly in folds that opened and closed as the folds of an accordion. But so, on a much larger scale, was the calash of 1765, altho it was inspired by the folding top of the French carriage, caléche.

UNION PRESIDENT ADMITS HE GOT $6,959 AT PARTY

Denies Gangsters Shared in Fete Costing $15,276.

A revealing picture of what happened to the money that rank and file unionists paid to attend a testimonial dinner for Anton J. Imhahn, president of local 399 of the Operating Engineers' union, was given in a financial statement furnished yesterday to Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's police.

Imhahn said receipts for the affair, which was handled by William T. Brooks, a business agent whom Gilbert suspects is the autocratic ruler of the union, amounted to $15,276, and that after expenses had been deducted he [Imhahn] got the remaining $6,959 as a "gift."

Rent Tuxedos for Committee.

Among the itemized expenses were $105 for renting the tuxedos worn by the banquet committee, $101 for ushers and $349 for the printing of tickets. The Stevens hotel is said to have received $5,200 for food and rental of a ballroom and there was an added $664 for "extra meals."

"Fight tickets" were listed at $165, photographs at $350, and an orchestra at $260. Fred Evans, described as a strolling musician, was counted in for $33 and vaudeville actors were down for $300. Other items were: Spotlight, $10; flags, $35; federal ticket tax, $715, and miscellaneous, $27.

State's Attorney Courtney ordered an investigation of the dinner after complaints had been received from union members that Brooks, described as a close friend of the gangsters Danny Stanton and Frank Nitti, used stern methods to force the ticket sales. Stanton was suspected of having a controling voice in the union's affairs.

Denies Gangsters Got Money.

Imhahn denied that Brooks, Stanton, or Nitti had gotten any of the banquet money, as Courtney's informants charged. Gilbert asked the union president why he was the recipient of such a large present.

"Well," he said, "I had some debts and the members thought I ought to have a new car. They just wanted to do something for me."

Brooks formerly was a member of the electricians' union and Gilbert said he had found no evidence to prove Brooks had ever been an engineer, one of the qualifications for holding his office. Gilbert added that the investigation of the union would be continued.

INDICT TRUSTEE IN BANKRUPTCY AS EMBEZZLER

The federal grand jury returned an indictment yesterday charging Harry Dubia of 6 Scott street with embezzling $21,232 in funds entrusted to him as a federal court trustee in bankruptcy. The indictment contains 18 counts. A maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine is possible on each count. The evidence against Dubia, who is 40 years old, was presented by Robert C. Eardley and Lawrence J. Miller, assistant United States attorneys. Judge Philip L. Sullivan set Dubia's bond at $2,500. It was expected that he would be surrendered by his attorney, A. Bradley Eben.

NAB GEMS, FLEE UNDER FIRE ON MICHIGAN AVE.

Three robbers seized $80,000 worth of unset diamonds from a New York jeweler yesterday in front of the Congress street entrance of the Congress hotel, just off Michigan avenue. They escaped as their victim fired six shots at them.

The jeweler is William L. Lewy, 47 years old, head of a firm bearing his name. He was stepping into a taxicab to call on Chicago jewelers when two men ran up. One seized the bag in which Lewy was carrying the stones before the jeweler could press a button to release the satchel's tear gas protective device. The other pushed Lewy into the cab and slammed the door. Both then hopped into a waiting car and a confederate drove them south in Michigan avenue.

Sergt. Maurice Flynn of the park police, driving north in Michigan avenue, saw the robbers' car speed past at 7th street. Altho he was unaware of the robbery, he gave chase, but a traffic jam delayed him so long in turning that the robbers quickly distanced him.

JUDGE PROMISES CO-OPERATION IN GAMBLING CASES

Will Confer on Rules of Conducting Raids.

Judge George B. Weiss, now assigned to the Racket court at 11th and State streets where gambling cases are tried, announced yesterday his intention of seeking a plan of coöperation with the police department. He added that he wants the arresting officers to coöperate with him, too.

At issue between Judge Weiss and the police is the question of raids on handbooks without search warrants. On Monday Judge Weiss dismissed the charges against John Capone, brother of the notorious Al, and four others arrested in what appeared to have been a commission "book" and relay station for handbook operators.

Allman Defends Raiders.

Police Commissioner Allman asserted that the police had acted properly and legally in arresting Capone and the others, warrant or no warrant. He said every judge on the Municipal court has a different view on what the police should do or should not do in making arrests in gambling cases.

"When we learn just what evidence a judge considers as sufficient to justify a conviction, we endeavor to submit that kind of evidence," Allman said. "Then, within a day or two, a new judge is assigned to the Racket court and his interpretation of the law is different, and he rejects evidence his predecessor ruled was legal and sufficient."

An Old Judicial Custom.

Asked why he had granted a motion to suppress the evidence in the Capone case, Judge Weiss said:

"O, that's been the custom ever since prohibition days. If the police don't have a search warrant, we always grant a motion to suppress the evidence."

Assistant State's Attorney Clement Dernbach, legal adviser to the police on gambling house raids, agreed with the judge.

"I never object to the granting of a motion to suppress in such a case," he said.

Dernbach agreed to join with Judge Weiss in seeking a conference with Commissioner Allman to iron out methods of procedure for police raiders.

Two Perish in Edmonton Fire; Two More Injured

EDMONTON, Alta., April 8 (AP)—Two persons lost their lives and two others were injured in a downtown fire here today. The dead were James S. Moore, 40 years old, and Mrs. Frances Pollock, 60.

DOG THIEF FINED AS COURT LIKENS HIM TO KIDNAPER

Stealing a dog "is in some ways as bad as stealing a baby," asserted Judge N. J. Bonelli in the Fillmore street court yesterday as he imposed a fine of $25 on Harry Sodikoff, 250 North Hamlin avenue, a taxicab driver, on a charge of picking up a dog and driving away with it. In court, the dog owner, Mrs. Helen McCarthy, 3241 Washington boulevard, pleaded for leniency for Sodikoff on the ground that Sodikoff had a wife and baby to support. Judge Bonelli denied the plea. Sodikoff admitted picking up the dog, but said he thought it was lost.

TENANTS DRIVEN OUT BY SMOKE.

Tenants of an apartment building at 1950 Warner avenue were driven to the street yesterday morning by smoke from a fire originating in defective furnace pipes. Chief Robert Wallace of the 20th battalion estimated damage at $500.

LID IS CLAMPED DOWN ON AURORA GAMBLING SPOTS

The lid on gambling in Aurora was on yesterday, after State's Attorney Charles G. Seidel of Kane county delivered an ultimatum to nine suspected gambling operators.

He called them into his office Monday night after Andrew J. Carter was inducted as the new mayor of Aurora. Seidel told the suspected operators that hereafter handbooks, pinball games, slot machines, punch boards, and other gambling games were out.

He said he had stopped gambling in Elgin and elsewhere in Kane county, but had held off in Aurora until after the mayoral election. He had then obtained Mayor Carter's promise of coöperation. Sheriff Marcus W. Damisch was present during the meeting.

ARGENTINE LAKE OF SALT TURNS INTO A BLESSING

Once Spurned, It Is Now Famed as Resort.

BY HAROLD TATAM.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CARHUE, Argentina [By Air Mail]. —Within a few leagues of this town lies Argentina's famous salt lake [Laguna Epecuen], which at one time was looked upon by the townsmen as nothing better than a howling waste of water and heartily cursed for its reputation of attracting summer showers which might otherwise have fallen on the parched earth. Today it draws thousands of visitors here every year and is therefore looked upon as a blessing.

Many of the pilgrims to its shore are invalids who come in the hope of finding a cure for their ills in its curative waters, but there are many others who come to experience the sensation of bathing in water so saline that it is difficult for a man to sink in it. Epecuen is said to be considerably saltier than the Red sea, and any one who unwittingly swallows a littl will accept the statement without argument.

Curative Power Long Known.

The curative properties of its waters were known many years ago. The "oldest inhabitant" of this town never grows tired of relating how every summer victims of rheumatism and other ills, attracted by the more or less legendary stories of marvelous cures effected by its water and especially by its mud, came to try their luck, fully convinced they would return to their homes sound in wind and limb. Some of them were greatly benefited, but others were not.

It was not until about 15 years ago that Lake Epecuen was properly exploited. Its waters were then analyzed and found to have many curative salts and to compare favorably with the waters of European resorts. Hotels and houses were built on its shores, and an advertising campaign was entrusted to publicity agents in Buenos Aires. Soon the one time despised salt lake became the Mecca of pleasure seekers as well as invalids.

Bathers Get Music, Too.

Little can be done to relieve the dreariness and monotony of the huge expanse of placid water except to focus a battery of loud speakers from the shores for the distraction of bathers who demand music of sorts wherever they go.

To the elderly and possibly captious visitor there is something incongruous in the close juxtaposition of jazz bands, dance floors, and movies with this expanse over which for centuries no bird has flown and in which no fish has swum, but which can put new life into human beings who bathe in it and incase themselves in its mud.

The "oldest inhabitant" of Carhue, a grizzled veteran who has all the appearance of the 90 odd years he claims to have known Lake Epecuen, says that even before his birth the lake was famous.

"In the days of Rozas" [which means, roughly, a century ago], he says, "argumentative gauchos disputed the assertion that the lake was very, very deep in the center and a party of them, greatly daring, ventured to navigate its waters in a flat bottomed boat reinforced with a rawhide lining. At a point far removed from shore they found its depth to equal the length of their combined lassos"—a somewhat vague computation, since neither the number of gauchos nor the length of their lassos is known to the narrator.

Once Domain of Indians.

Until 1870 or thereabouts Lake Epecuen lay within the domain of the Indians, who were finally ejected from its vicinity by troops under Gen. Roca, then engaged in the "conquest of the Argentine desert." The crumbling remains of the little forts erected as outposts by the soldiers are still in evidence in the neighborhood of Lake Epecuen, where the Indians made their last real stand against the invaders.

Many strange stories of those days are vouched for by the "oldest inhabitant." Since there is no one to dispute him, the listener is apt to accept the yarns with a grain of salt.

Michigan Guides' Meet to Be Held on Saturday

Newaygo, Mich., April 8 [Special]. —The second annual Michigan Open Guides' meet, hailed as an effort to find the national champion of hunters' and anglers' mentors, will be held here next Saturday and Sunday. Competitors will be tested for rifle shooting, bait casting, outdoor cooking, trap shooting, boat polling, and fly casting. The event will close with a 14 mile boat race down the Big Muskegon river from Croton to Newaygo.

PASSION PLAY OPENS SUNDAY AT BLOOMINGTON

Bloomington, Ill., April 8 [Special]. —Beginning Easter Sunday, more than 200 men and women of Bloomington will present, for eight consecutive Sundays, 63 scenes from the life of Jesus Christ. The occasion is the 18th annual enactment of what has come to be known as the American Passion Play.

None of the participants is a professional actor. Christus is portrayed by Harold D. Walters, an insurance broker. Clara Koogle, who has the rôle of Mary, mother of Jesus, is the wife of an electrician. Caiaphas, the high priest, is depicted by the Bloomington chief of police. The character of Judas is taken by an attorney, and that of Pilate by a man in the trucking business.

Delmar D. Darrah, who wrote the play and directs the performances, believes that, because the people who surrounded Jesus were from every walk of life, similar persons of the modern world can best portray the various types of residents of Biblical Judea.

The spectacle is held in the Scottish Rite temple.

American Republics Join for Travel Conference

Washington, D. C., April 8 [Special]. —Invitations from the Mexican government to the 21 American republics and the dominion of Canada to be represented at the Inter-American Travel congress, to be held in Mexico City next September, have been accepted in each instance. Francisco J. Hernandez, chief of the travel division of the Pan-American union, said today that this means the entire western hemisphere will have a voice in the proceedings.

BUSINESS GAIN INDICATES RISE IN TOURIST TRADE

Resort Areas Report Good Winter Season.

New York, April 8 [Special].—The increase in the national income will result in a big gain in pleasure travel in 1941. This was predicted today by Douglas Malcolm, statistical expert for the American Express company.

"The outlook for increased tourist business for the coming summer is based on the sharp increase in the national income," he said. "As reported by the department of commerce, the income total for 1940 was 73.4 billion dollars—an increase of 4.4 billion over 1939, and the highest since 1929.

Index of Wages at 96.

"Net income of corporations was from 20 to 25 per cent higher, and dividends were up. The index of wages stands at 96. Regular pay rolls between March and December of last year rose to 60 billion dollars.

"These figures should logically be reflected in similar gains in the travel business."

Malcolm's survey showed that, on the whole, the winter season just closed was one of prosperity for the transportation and resort interests.

Receipts in Florida totaled 175 million dollars—slightly above those of the year before. Miami took in 70 million, a gain of four million. An all-time high in the number of visiting motorists was reported by southern California. Boulder dam had 42 per cent more visitors in January than in January of 1940.

Canada's Income 82 Million.

Canada's income from the tourists was 82 million dollars last year. The dominion and its provinces plan to spend 1½ million on advertising and promotion this year. The ads will emphasize the fact that Americans will find no trouble in crossing the border and will not be bothered with restrictions or red tape after they reach Canada.

Mexico looks for a heavy season. The flow of traffic along the highway from Laredo, Tex., to Mexico City has increased markedly in the last few weeks. Tours by railway are being well patronized.

South and Central America, the survey indicates, will entertain an unusually large number of North Americans this spring and summer.

SAUSAGE TREE'S A PRANK, AND NOT BREAKFAST ITEM

Miami, Fla., April 8 [Special]. Nature's occasional prankishness finds expression in the sausage tree, kiglia pinnata, seen by tourists on Ingraham highway, south of Miami.

The tree takes its name from the inedible fruit it grows. The fruit, resembling a huge sausage, hangs from the lower branches.

Rope-like stems, bearing "sausages" nearly three feet long and weighing 15 pounds each, give the tree a strange appearance.

Tropical Allure

The sarong is the traditional attire of Tahitian girls. These young women are typical of the islanders who will welcome the passengers on a South seas cruise this summer.

San Francisco, Cal., April 8 [Special].—Hawaii, Samoa, and Tahiti, regarded by travelers as among the most romantic spots on earth, will be the goals of a cruise starting from this city May 23. This was announced today by S. G. Walton, general passenger manager of the Matson Line.

Hawaii and Samoa are visited frequently by tourists, but in recent years Tahiti has been almost erased from the travel map. The forthcoming cruise will be the only voyage to that island in 1941.

The trip will be taken on the Matson liner Mariposa, and the passengers will be under the protection of the American flag. About 10,000 miles will be covered. The journey is to last 25 days, with sightseeing programs provided in Honolulu, T. H.; Pago Pago, Samoa, and Papeete, Tahiti.

Walton said that, for those wishing a longer stay in Hawaii, there would be earlier sailings from San Francisco and provision for joining the cruise when the Mariposa reaches Honolulu.

MAMMOTH CAVE AREA TO BECOME U. S. PARK JULY 1

Washington, D. C., April 8. — The interior department has announced that it will take over the Mammoth cave area in western Kentucky for operation as a national park next July 1.

The announcement said the Great Onyx and Crystal caves had been excluded from the area to be obtained, because the government was not certain it could acquire title to those properties by July 1.

Without these two caves the area to be operated by the government will consist of 47,800 acres, or almost 3,000 acres more than the minimum requirement.

13 KUNGSHOLM CRUISES SET TO CARIBBEAN

New York, April 8 [Special].—The Kungsholm, only ship flying the flag of a foreign nation and still engaged in cruising service out of the United States, will go on a series of 13 journeys this spring, summer, and fall. This was announced today by G. Hilmer Lundbeck, managing director of the Swedish American Line.

The program will begin May 17 and last until Nov. 18. Ports of call include Port-au-Prince and Cap Haitien, Haiti; Havana, Cuba; Nassau, the Bahamas; Kingston, Jamaica, and Colon, Panama. On several of the cruises there will be a visit to the islands of the so-called white Indians in Panama's San Blas bay. Each trip will last from 9 to 13 days.

To date, Lundbeck said, the Swedish American Line has operated 212 cruises and carried on them a total of 81,000 passengers.

Washington Cherry Festival Dates Set for April 12-13

Washington, D. C., April 8 [Special]. —April 12 and 13 were announced today as the dates of Washington's 1941 Cherry Blossom festival. Park officials said the 672 cherry trees on the banks of the tidal basin would be in bloom by that time.

LINER AMERICA SCHEDULES 17 12 DAY CRUISES

New York, April 8 [Special]. — A program of 17 12-day cruises on the new liner America has been scheduled by the United States Lines.

The America arrived here today from her last cruise in the company's intercoastal service, and the new schedule will begin on April 12. Other voyages will follow at fortnightly intervals thruout the summer and fall.

The itinerary will take the ship to San Juan, St. Thomas, Port-au-Prince, and Havana, so that at no time will the vessel be in belligerent waters. The distance covered in each instance will be about 4,000 miles.

Company officials say the ship has carried nearly 10,000 cruise passengers in seven months of service.

Eric Knight Writes One of First Major Novels About England in Wartime.

BOOKS

Authors of "Show Me a Land" Produce Another Memorable Historical Novel.

Britain at War Is Setting for Exciting Novel

"This Above All," by Eric Knight. [Harpers, $2.50.] Published today.

"Reckon with the River," by Clark McMeekin. [Appleton-Century, $2.50.] Published last Friday.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

"This Above All"—is one of the first major novels about wartorn England, by a well known English writer. Eric Knight, will be remembered for "The Flying Yorkshireman" and "The Happy Land."

In his new book Mr. Knight creates a vivid, swiftly moving drama of life in Britain after the evacuation of Dunkirk and during the air raids and bombings that followed. The persons of this drama are taken from many walks of life, from many conditions and circumstances. They are all shown "sticking it" thru thick and thin.

For a while its hero, Clive, one of the last to leave Dunkirk, wavers in his convictions. Disillusioned about the world in general and social conditions in England in particular, he goes thru a period of great depression and uncertainty. His love for a young woman, gently reared and protected from most of the realities he has known, finally saves him and restores his balance.

There are few descriptions, few explanatory passages in this moving book. The plot is developed thru dialogue almost entirely. And this gives to the story an acute feeling of reality as well as a tense quality that is cumulative, reaching a power that sweeps the reader along to the memorable climax and the final dénouement.

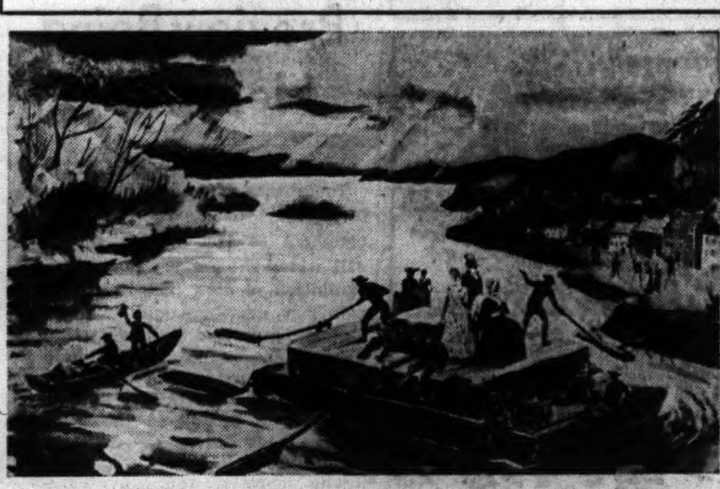
Dorothy Park Clark and Isabel McLennan McMeekin, authors of "Show Me a Land," again collaborate under the name Clark McMeekin to produce a historical novel of lively interest and warm, human value. The story starts in 1805 in New York state on a farm in Cherry valley where Ma'am Cambrin, one of the first settlers of the area, is about to die. She has reached a ripe old age after a busy life filled with struggle to conquer the soil from the encroaching forest and the Indians.

"Captivated" by the Mohawks as a young girl, she had learned their tongue and called one of their chiefs her brother. Many years later he had given her a prayer book in the language of his tribe, and as she lies dying Ma'am Cambrin asks for this book. For the first time she discovers a piece of birch bark hidden in its pages and learns that the Indians have given her an island in the Ohio, off the Kentucky shores, an island on which is a great cache of silver.

This call to adventure brings the old lady back from the gates of death. With her great-nephew, Jess, and his family, she sets out on a homemade river boat to find her long unclaimed property. The book tells the story of the search. Men of history, Aaron Burr, Blennerhasset, and others are glimpsed. But most of all this is a tale of the hardihood and persistent courage of the pioneers.

Readers of "Reckon with the River" will long remember the aged Ma'am Cambrin for her salty humor and the drive of her brave spirit. Her character colors the entire story.

"Reckon with the River".



Reproduction of jacket design by Ferdinand Warren for the historical novel, "Reckon with the River," by Clark McMeekin, reviewed today by Edith Weigle.

Belgium Under Nazis---Here's an Inside Story

"Under the Iron Heel," by Lars Moën. [Lippincott, $2.75.]

BY GILBERT TWISS.

Belgium is submitting calmly to the German occupation, but here and there the seeds of discontent are growing as the rations become shorter and there are fewer materials to keep the factories busy, Lars Moën relates.

Meanwhile, the German soldiers massed in the country facing England suffer from inactivity and yearn to be with their families in Germany—and have time to reflect on what might be happening to them under British bombing, says the author.

To assume that the morale of the German army is endangered because of this is wishful thinking, Moën declares, but he asserts the morale is far from its height of June, 1940.

Moën is an American widely traveled and versed in Europe and was working in an Antwerp film laboratory when the invasion came. That he also once had been a newspaper reporter the Belgians and the Germans did not know, and they usually talked with him freely.

One of his most startling statements is that his conversations with German flyers "indicated a definite possibility that somewhere in the remote regions of Ireland are German aviation and submarine bases."

Moën believed this could be possible only with the connivance of the IRA [the outlawed Irish Republican army] and without the knowledge of the Irish government.

Among the Belgians there were many at the start who were definitely inclined toward the Germans, says the author, but now there are more who are turning to the British side.

The author gives an excellent picture of the behavior of German soldiers and flyers in Belgium and the population's reaction to them.

Chicago's Past in Architecture and Social Life

"The Elegant Eighties," by Herma Clark. [McClurg, $7.50.]

"Architecture in Old Chicago," by Thomas E. Tallmadge. [University of Chicago Press, $3.]

There are many ways of writing the history of Chicago. Two of the most unusual ones have been chosen by the authors of these two extremely interesting books—thru the social life and thru the buildings which men raised to house that life and to work in. In both of these books there is something vivid and zestful and quaint and courageous and inventive and just a little swashbuckling—the early Chicago spirit.

Herma Clark, whose charming letters have been a feature of THE CHICAGO SUNDAY TRIBUNE for some years under the caption "When Chicago Was Young," chronicles actual events in Chicago's social and cultural history of the 80s thru the eyes of an imaginary Martha Freeman Esmond, whose pleasantly gossipy pen was concerned with the frivolities of life as well as the more dashing historical events. Out of her confidences to her friend in New York the reader relives the life of a prominent Chicago household in the 80s more vividly than many a more serious history has made possible.

Thomas Tallmadge, before his tragic death on Jan. 1, 1940, had completed the manuscript of this volume on the history of architecture in Chicago up to the time of the World's Fair in 1893. Published now as "Architecture in Old Chicago," it is a distinct addition to the shelf of important Chicagoana, as well as being especially interesting to his fellow architects.

Tom Tallmadge had a creative gift with words as well as with his architect's tools, and he could make out of his technical knowledge something extremely interesting, and sometimes very amusing. This book is a case in point. The spirit of Chicago, the men who made it, even the life that they lived have all managed to get within the covers of this volume.

A delightful reminiscential foreword by John T. McCutcheon adds to Miss Clark's volume and a friendly biographical introduction by Charles Collins to Mr. Tallmadge's, making the two books inclusively Chicagoan.

Another book by a Chicagoan is the anthology of "The Basic Works of Aristotle" [Random, $4], annotated and analyzed illuminatingly by Richard McKeon, dean of the division of humanities at the University of Chicago. It is a momentous popularization of a great philosopher's most vital work. F. B.

Maugham Art Is Apparent in a Short Novel

"Up at the Villa," by W. Somerset Maugham. [Doubleday-Doran, $1.75.] Published last Friday.

BY FANNY BUTCHER.

We were talking the other day—Mignon Eberhart, widely known writer of mysteries, and I—about the incomparable art of Somerset Maugham, to both our minds the most skilled of all present day short story writers. She pointed out something to me which I had not noticed before—that in the larger proportion of his stories physical violence plays an important part. I had always looked upon Mr. Maugham as a chronicler of human emotions, and so supreme is his skill that in my memory of his best stories, all of them unforgettable, the fuse that touched off those emotions was forgotten.

In his latest, "Up at the Villa," also physical violence plays the pivotal part in the plot, for its denouement would not have been what it was if a violent death had not "conditioned" the characters, and yet "Up at the Villa" is not a story of physical violence at all. It is the tale of a beautiful woman's tragically impulsive action and how it brought death to one man to whom she hoped to give happiness, disillusionment to a man she deeply respected, and love to one whom she didn't, and to herself.

"Up at the Villa" is a sophisticated tale about sophisticated people—members of the English colony in Florence in the days when that lovely Italian city drew cosmopolites from all over the world. It is a novelette, a short story in the sense that a section out of a life, not the entire life, is its chronology; a novel in the sense that its characters are as completely realized in these few days out of their lifetimes as if Mr. Maugham had told their whole life story.

Somerset Maugham wrote in the introduction to the last collection of his short stories, "The Mixture as Before," that he would never write another short story. No admirer of that difficult and highly satisfying literary form can regret his recantation of that vow.

Highly Amusing Satire

"The Gang's All Here," by Harvey Smith. [Princeton University Press, $2.50.] Published Monday.

What John P. Marquand did so devastatingly to some of the 25th reunioners of Harvard in "H. M. Pulham, Esquire," Harvey Smith does to the boys who go back after a quarter of a century to "Old Nostalgia" [which it takes less than half an eye to recognize as Princeton].

Mr. Smith has done some brilliant brain surgery on the nerves and reflexes of the genus. Princetoniana, but the gang that's all here might be any bunch of 60 celebrants at any college man's reunion, from parson to prize heel, from directors of millions to WPA. The brief sketches which make up this modern [often side-splitting] Spoon River Anthology are the factual outlines of 60 lives, types as well as individuals.

The background is Princeton richly and lovingly embroidered by satire, but the people who P-rade across the foreground are the old boys and some of their wives who show up at any 25th college reunion anywhere. Here in a few pages, sometimes in a couple of paragraphs, are 60 portraits, done more often than not in imperishable caustics.

Mr. Smith tempers his satire, however, with unconcealed affection for his specimens, just as John Marquand does in his satires on Boston. And Mr. Smith is robustly funny most of the time. Among his portrait sitters' traits you'll find something of most of the people you know, nicely cooked with laughing gas.

You will also meet some rare birds in his pages. Adelbert L'Hommedieu X. Hormone, about whom he writes at greatest length, is a sort of Nostalgia Paul Bunyan, but Mrs. Agatha M. Peters, with her suit against Nostalgia for alienation of her husband's affections, is straight from practically any professionally collegiate husband's fireside and her testimony as funny as a crutch.

Mr. Smith, in making the customary statement about the characters and situations in the book being fictitious, says: "Any similarity to real persons or situations is purely coincidental."

"The Gang's All Here" is one of the season's best laughs. If readers can clear the hurdle of its being published by a solemn university press it may be one of the season's best sellers.

Texas Longhorn's Biography Makes Fascinating Story

"The Longhorns," by J. Frank Dobie. [Little-Brown, $3.50.]

This is the biography of one of the most colorful critters ever to play an important part in American history—the Texas longhorn. Now almost extinct, this animal really made the cattle industry possible, for it was molded by nature to survive the stinginess of the southwest's arid lands.

Mr. Dobie has dug up facts and yarns and a passel of excellent photographs to make a fascinating story. It is full of exciting writing, especially when stampedes and storms punctuate the narrative. It is seasoned with humor. And it is illustrated with cracking good drawings by Tom Lea. The cover and frontispiece, a color reproduction of Lea's famous stampede mural, is a prize in itself.

The author of "Apache Gold and Yaqui Silver" and of "Coronado's Children" has done us a distinct favor by writing this book. W. D.

Here's Top Notch Horror Story by an Expert at Type

"Some Must Watch," by Ethel Lina White. [Harpers, $2.]

You may remember "The Wheel Spins," from which Alfred Hitchcock made his chilling movie, "The Lady Vanishes." Its author, Ethel Lina White, has written another which is at least its equal. She is a master of plot, timing, character development, atmosphere, and suspense.

This latest is the story of a curious but timid young woman who has just taken a domestic job in a strange country house, isolated in a wood, and of one night she spent there. In the house are old Lady Warren, bedridden, dying, eccentric, who used to pot rooks with a rifle; her son, the professor, an academic recluse; his sister, a bumbling bookworm; his son, whose passionate young wife loves the one male guest; a very strange nurse; a cook who loves brandy, and her obtuse husband. There have been a series of maniacal murders in the neighborhood, but those in the Summit feel secure, all but the curious young girl. And for her, as the eerie night grows older, the defenses of her stronghold crumble, one by one, in a mounting tension of horror. J. H. T.

STRANGE JUDAS

By Douglas Newton

[Copyright: 1941: By Wilfred Douglas Newton.]

INSTALMENT XXXIII.

TORTURE CHAMBER.

"Keep your voice down, man," Don Barron warned, for he had heard the big man swear outside. But the mischief was done. August whipped open the door and came in with his pistol ready. Motioning them to the farthest corner, he moved across to the window.

Still covering them, he used his free hand to lift the top of what they had thought a window seat, and, from the box inside, hooked out a big cylindrical bundle of ropes and staves. This he carried, backing from them, thru the door, which he slammed and bolted in leering triumph.

"Our last chance gone west," Don Barron groaned. "That's the reason for those hooks—a rope ladder; a fire escape to overcome the risks of the narrow staircase."

Twysden shut the window box and dropped onto it in blank despair:

"Barron," he croaked, "I guess the worst bit of luck that ever came your way was coupling up with me in this business. I seem to have bungled every damn thing."

Don Barron felt too down himself to answer. He was overwhelmed with a sense of failure that even his stoicism could not fight. He had been beaten all along the line, and now there was nothing left but the tender mercies of Otto Schmarz—and from what he guessed of Otto Schmarz those mercies were going to be painful, for if ever there was a sadist that pallid and unwholesome wretch was it.

He saw no glimmer of hope ahead. No loophole anywhere. It was even ridiculous to think of escaping from a stronghold like this set in the heart of the German army. Even if that rope ladder had been left, he doubted if it could have taken them far in the circumstances.

And he saw but the faintest chance of outside help—Knust for instance, if he had escaped himself, might get aid from others of the German Freedom group, but what could they do against a fortress like this?

Sigi?

Sigi was actually more remote as a hope. She had gone off into the blue on her work, risking and sacrificing herself, no doubt, but entirely out of reach. She had vanished from his sight and would never return to his sight again. That hurt him a great deal. Strange how slowly she had come to mean so much to him and yet how powerfully and certainly. He sat on the framework of the bed, his back to Twysden, his hands gripping hard for fear of showing what the memory and the loss of Sigi was meaning. If Hertha hadn't obscured, half obscured any how, Sigi's real quality, they might at least have made known what they really meant to each other.

Hertha! No hope from Hertha. Nothing to expect from her. Not even fear. She had been Schmarz's woman all the time, that was plain, possibly because the fellow was brutally indifferent to her. She had used her beauty and gifts, sold Darmal to him to win his casual regard. Hertha was blind to anything but Schmarz, she would not even think of helping them.

Twysden, who had been prowling up and down the room, paused listening by the door.

"There's somebody else up here beside that big gorilla," he said. "He's talking to some one."

"Schmarz probably back."

"No, it's somebody who's locked in, too. I heard the key—there it is again. He's locked the door as he came out."

"Darmal!" Don Barron said, jumping up. "It must be Darmal."

He knew in his bones it was Darmal and began to feel a new dread. He remembered Otto Schmarz's smirking satisfaction as he described their presence as opportune . . . was that connected with Darmal? He had a crawling certainty of fear; for if Darmal was here all the evil that Schmarz was capable of would be mixed up in it.

It had grown dark by now. The courtyard was blotted out altogether. If any of the windows they had seen had lights within they had been blacked out for fear of air raids. A gleam of light came under the door as the big man lit up; but he brought no light to them, did not come near them. And hours of this went by before Otto Schmarz returned.

They heard the bustle of his coming in the hall, his neighing laugh, and then a woman's, Hertha's. They seemed to be alone, and intensely happy. He heard the big August answer them servilely.

Presently their door was opened by this man, and held open, Schmarz, still out of sight, called: "You come out one at a time at command, Yankees. Number one now: Mister-er-".

"Twysden," Hertha's voice said with a dreadful giggle.

"Twysden!" said Schmarz. "Come out, Herr Twysden, and no naughtiness—naughtiness will be so painful."

Twysden stiffened and looked at Don Barron, who muttered: "No hope for it. . . . Go ahead."

Twysden went out. The big man shut and locked the door. There was a sound of shuffling, of Schmarz making jokes and Hertha laughing. They seemed a bit tipsy, both of them. . . . The door was opened again.

"You now, Herr—Herr—What is the name of your wooden-faced sweetheart, Hertha?"

"Barron," she simpered.

"Herr Barron—out with you."

Don Barron went out trying to keep a blank face but expecting anything. Schmarz was sitting on a bench in the hall, Hertha lolling against his shoulder. He had one arm about her, the other held a pistol pointed and ready. For an instant Barron had a queer hope that Hertha might make some opportunity for him. She merely pushed her lips close to the evil pallid face, whispering and ending her whisper with a kiss on his ear.

"Is he, by jove," Schmarz sniggered. "Then I'll watch him close. . . . Stand very very quiet, my dangerous Mr. Samson, and put your hands behind you. . . . The slightest movement and I shoot."

Barron knew that Hertha had warned the fellow of his unusual strength. Numb at the completeness of her treachery, he did as he was told, while the big man, August, slipped a rope around his arms at the elbow and secured it with tight knots. As he finished and stood back, Schmarz chuckled: "Take him to join the party."

August pushed Barron into the big drawing room. It was furnished with luxury and blazing with lights. Twysden was already there; bound as Don Barron was and standing sullenly near the windows. He seemed to have got as far away from the couch as he could, for on that couch was another man, not bound, but looking ill and weak. It was Paul Darmal.

At the sight of Darmal, Barron knew that evil was in the air.

Very deliberately going to a big, old-fashioned buffet and mixing drinks for himself and Hertha, who had plainly already had too much, Schmarz looked his victims over with a sly thin glee. Once more Don Barron saw the film of dampness break out on his pallid face, and knew the man was contemplating attractive brutalities. He lifted the glass to Hertha and to the two and grinned: "Well, here's to success!"

He drank and set down his glass with slow relish, walked like a great cat to the couch.

"I think it must be success tonight, Herr Darmal. You have not done what I wished; no not even for the sake of this beautiful lady who is more than a daughter to you, or to save yourself from—er—painful experiences. But now we have this American to whom you owe so much. Surely you will not allow a devoted fellow, who has risked everything for you, who has come all the way from America at the peril of his life on your account, to suffer? You cannot possibly repay his great sacrifices by adding to his—shall we say—discomforts? That would be more than your sense of justice and humanity could countenance—or even bear. . . . For he is such a tough looking man, he can endure so much; I'm sure you will not want that. I'm sure you will do for me these trifles I ask I'm——"

"That is enough," Darmal said in a weak voice. "You have maltreated me, tortured me, and I did not yield. This American knows why. He understands I cannot speak, may not, will not, whatever happens to him or me. I——"

"The first great novel of the War"*

A MAN just escaped from the Hell of Dunkirk . . . A GIRL who had "enlisted for the duration" . . . A SETTING of England with her back to the wall . . . together they make up a superb love story which has received the most unparalleled endorsement from everyone who has read an advance copy. It is a book which will arouse in you a passionate admiration for the heroism of the plain Englishman who carries the load of war. It is completely realistic, yet so moving that you will read it with a lump in your throat. On reading it, bookseller after bookseller has doubled, tripled and even quadrupled his initial order, with the result that the advance sale is unprecedented in our experience. What manner of novel is capable of arousing such astonishing, universal enthusiasm? Why not ask your own bookseller today?

James Hilton, British author of the best-selling Random Harvest, says: "It is the first great novel of the war. It sounds the note of a new England as challengingly as it has yet been heard. It is sheerly readable enough to sell half a million copies and contains a love story that reminds me of 'A Farewell to Arms'."

Louis Bromfield, distinguished American novelist, says: "A tremendous and significant work."

Products of Blind Workers on Exhibit for Their Benefit

A diversified exhibit of articles made by sightless craftsmen under the guidance of the Blind Service association is on display in the club women's bureau at Mandel Brothers.

Included in the array are crocheted wash cloths, potholders and bath mats, woven baskets, hand tulled leather belts and bags, brooms, flower pots and dish towels. All are on sale, the proceeds going directly to the blind makers. The exhibit will continue thru tomorrow.

Many of the blind Chicagoans who have been assisted by the association have been in attendance at the sale. Among these are a young lawyer, who was given a guide dog by the association and a sightless woman who, taught by the association to use a Braille instrument for making change, now works as a cashier.

April 9, 1941.

Universal day—The early bird gets the worm today, but you mustn't be the worm! Be aggressive and alert.

If you were born in August—there could have been quite a contrast in your early life or you might have had only one side of this powerful number 8. If you had the best part of it, from a material point of view, then you soon learned the value of money and became accustomed to use it freely and to expect others to let you lead and dominate them because you had more power than they had. You could have been a bully or a snob with that setup, but let's hope you didn't let that part of the number get into the picture. The other side of the story could have been that you felt the need for more money always and were conscious of the lack of material advantages. You might have placed too much emphasis on money and social climbing, or been overwhelmed by the lack of worldly goods.

Time on Hands Is Problem of This Housewife

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

"If you found yourself at home again after a busy working life of 15 years' duration, what would you do with your time?"

Mrs. K. puts the question to us all, readers. She tells that before her marriage she used to like to putter around the house, but that the home in which she was raised housed seven beside herself, and there was much puttering then to do.

Circumstances are such now that she no longer has to punch a time clock in the morning in the downtown district. She can stay at home and do nothing. Only, she explains, she can't stay home and do nothing, and there's the rub. She's always been active, energetic, and capable. She has no special talent for painting or music; never had a hobby to carry on with; isn't a very good cook, so has a woman come in and cook dinners for her, her teen-age daughter, and her husband. But time hangs heavily on her hands, she complains. She admits she used to like to sew, but has lost the hang of that, too. At 43, she thinks she's too old to take up studies.

If, at 43, you feel too old to tackle something new, that's the moment of all moments to tackle something new. What does one want to do with her fortunately free days? Vegetate? Go down hill faster than the proverbial snowball? Lose out with husband and daughter for having become a dead weight on their hands? That's what happens when a woman succumbs to lethargy. Don't get to depend upon loved ones for everything.

There are so many things one can do beside playing bridge and window shopping. One can start as a rank amateur in music and get fun out of it; out of art, too; out of reading. Give a set period daily, 15 minutes at first if it's all you can take at a sitting, to mental improvement.

French Exhibit Preview Being Held Tonight

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

Tonight members of the Art institute and their guests, including the members of the French consulate, will attend the preview of the French exhibition of 19th and 20th century paintings, drawings, and water colors lent by museums and collectors of France. Tomorrow the show will be open to the public and will continue till May 20. On April 11, 18, and 25 and May 2, 9, and 16 the institute will be open during the evening until 10 o'clock.

Tho many of the canvases were shown in San Francisco and in New York recently, Chicago is the first American city to see the entire collection which left Paris in 1939 and toured South America. Twenty-one French museums and 71 collectors have lent the 170 paintings and 100 drawings and water colors that make up this important exhibition.

Beginning with David and the classic school, the survey of Gallic art covers the phases of the various movements or periods down to the present day. Ingres, famous exponent of the neoclassic movement, is represented by his epic canvas, "Turkish Women at the Bath," and by four other works, including the famed "Portrait of Madame Gonse."

Courbet, Degas, Pissaro, Manet, Monet, Renoir, all the brilliant artists that made Paris the art center of the world, are in the exhibition. And the modern movement is seen in the paintings of Cézanne, Gauguin, Van Gogh, Rouault, Derain, Matisse, Dufy, Braque, Utrillo, Vuillard, La Fresnaye, Lurcat, Roy, Segonzac, and Picasso.

There is something for every one in this collection of masterpieces of French art—for the student, the connoisseur and collector, for the conservative and the radical, for the traveler who remembers Paris with nostalgia.

WEDDINGS

Announcement is made of the approaching marriage on April 21 of Miss Kathleen O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. O'Brien of Crafton, Pa., and Robert F. Jerome, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Jerome of Highland Park. The ceremony will take place in the morning in St. Philip's church, Crafton. After a wedding trip south Mr. Jerome and his bride will be at home in Rogers Park.

Miss Jean Burson and Frederick Burns Mangel of Los Angeles will be married at 5 o'clock on Saturday in the home of the bride's father, Harry H. Burson of Kenwood avenue. After a reception in the Burson home Mr. Mangel and his bride will depart for Los Angeles to make their home. Frederick C. Mangel of Salt Lake City is the bridegroom's father.

Miss Jane Hayes, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert H. Hayes, and George P. Binckley, son of Mrs. Anna Binckley of Druce Lake, Ill., and St. Petersburg, Fla., will be married at 10:30 o'clock next Saturday morning in the Howe Memorial chapel of Northwestern university. Mr. Binckley and his bride will go to Florida on a wedding trip and will be at home after June 1 at Druce Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Levi of 5018 Woodlawn avenue announce the marriage yesterday of their daughter, Marian Lee, to Sidney M. Chesler. The ceremony took place at the Windermere hotel. After a wedding trip east Mr. Chesler and his bride will be at home at 5330 Harper avenue.

Archbishop Samuel A. Stritch will officiate at tenebrae in Holy Name cathedral tonight. This service is one of the most impressive of the Holy week period and is observed on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights of Holy week in virtually all Catholic churches.

Literally meaning darknesses as translated from the Latin, tenebrae is a service in which 14 candles are set in a triangular frame before the altar. One candle representing Christ, the light of the world, is pure white. The others are unbleached wax and represent his disciples and apostles.

The unbleached candles are extinguished one by one as Psalms are read, leaving at last only the pure white candle glowing. This is placed behind the altar, leaving the church in darkness for a moment, signifying Christ's death on the cross. Then, accompanied by a sound, the candle is again replaced in token of the resurrection. The archbishop will conduct all three services of tenebrae which end Friday night.

Heads the Easter parade!
America's most delicious ham...
Armour's STAR!

3 PRACTICAL ARMOUR'S STAR SUGGESTIONS

STAR Ham and Gay Salad Nests!

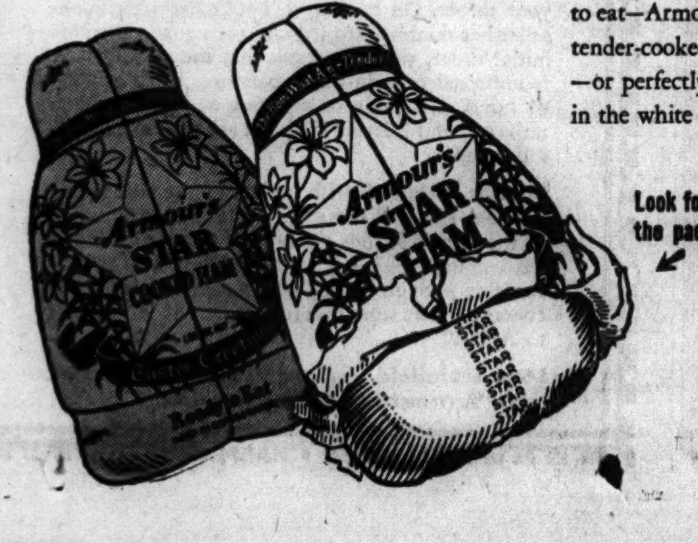
Wrap ham in inside glassine wrapper. Bake fat side up, at 325°, 18 minutes per lb. 45 minutes before done, remove paper and rind, score fat. Glaze with 1½ cups brown sugar mixed with ½ cup honey. Continue baking, basting with mixture. Garnish with tulip designs cut from candied orange peel. Serve with salad nests made of canned peach halves in water cress, with tinted Cloverbloom cheese balls.

So tender it melts in your mouth ... Sugar-cured and slow-smoked to a new high in rich, mild flavor!

FEAST OF FEASTS is Easter! And there's no finer choice for this happy occasion than a magnificent Star Ham! It's specially processed in two exclusive ways to give the tenderer, quicker-cooking, milder ham America prefers.

First, this choice ham is sugar-cured the new, tenderer way by Armour's own secret process. Then slow-smoked by Stop-Watch Control over fragrant hickory and hardwood fires to the peak of mildness and flavor delicacy.

Rich in health values—one good serving of Armour's Star Ham supplies a full day's thiamin (Vitamin B_1) requirement for the average person. For your family and your guests, be sure to choose the ham that heads the Easter parade of good things to eat—Armour's Star! Buy Star Ham tender-cooked in the yellow wrapper—or perfectly smoked, ready to cook in the white wrapper.



Look for the name "Star" both on the package and the ham itself.

Makes mouths water ... Oranges, Grapefruit and Fried Star Ham

Want something refreshingly new for breakfasts, bridge luncheons, evening party snacks? Here it is! Simple, thrifty and EASY! Just fry thin center slices of Armour's Star Ham and place on buttered toast. Serve surrounded by alternating segments of orange and grapefruit. The juicy tang of the fruit combined with the mild flavorful Star Ham provides a taste sensation your family and guests will delight in! Be sure to insist on Armour's Star Ham. Its extra tenderness and flavor is the making of this dish!

Bountiful Easter Breakfast Star Bacon and Poached Eggs

Traditional as the Easter bunny himself is a bacon and egg breakfast for Easter! And here's one that's tops in flavor—with Armour's Star Bacon. Smoked over fragrant hickory and hardwood fires, sugar-cured, extra firm, for bigger, even slices after cooking—Star Bacon is rich with that sweet old-time flavor. Broil or fry plenty of strips and serve sizzling hot with poached fresh Cloverbloom eggs on toast. It's a hearty feast that is bound to make Easter happier for you and yours!

Chicago Symphony Concert Dominated by Richard Strauss

BY EDWARD BARRY.

Yesterday's Orchestra hall concert of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, which Frederick Stock conducted and at which Rose Pauly appeared as soprano soloist, was dominated by the many sided Richard Strauss.

The program found place for the gentle, melodious, boyish Strauss [the Serenade for Wind Instruments], the fervent Strauss of the songs ["Allerseelen," "Schlechtes Wetter," "Cäcilie"], the Strauss who dabbled in philosophy and who had learned to put forth his ideas with an almost unprecedented sonority and magnificence and persuasiveness ["Thus Spake Zarathustra"], and the Strauss who with fair success attempted to feel himself into environments as different from his sunny Munich as night is from day and who was actually an authority on the mental ills of maladjusted young women ["Dance of the Seven Veils" and Finale from "Salome"].

But the Strauss temperament can never be entirely concealed, and this gave unity to an apparently highly diversified program. It has been said that thru much of Strauss' music runs a comfortable refrain that might be rendered as "How good the beer is here in Munich!" and altho one who is still a slave to the man's genius would prefer to describe the dominant Straussian theme somewhat differently, it cannot be denied that even in such unexpected places as the "Dance of the Seven Veils" one finds hints of something contented, suburban, and reassuring.

Both the conductor and soloist at the concert yesterday are authorities in their differing ways on Strauss' music and are deeply in sympathy with his idiom. Dr. Stock's presentation of "Zarathustra" was very musicianly in that it laid the score before us in all clearness, but at climactic points the grandiose and almost bombastic quality of the music was allowed its full value.

Altho Mme. Pauly's treatment of the little songs may be criticized by some on the score of too great tenseness of style, there can hardly be two opinions of her performance of Salome's horrifying closing monolog. She leaped into it as easily as if the emotions attendant upon receiving prophets' heads on silver salvers had been familiar to her from girlhood.

This was the final program of the Tuesday series. The Thursday-Friday subscription concerts end on April 17-18.

Women Executives to Tell Young Girls How to Obtain Jobs

A list of recommendations for young girls seeking employment will be drawn up by more than 100 Chicago women executives at a meeting at 12:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Merchants and Manufacturers club, Merchandise Mart. Mrs. Anne V. Zinser will preside and Maj. John L. Griffith, chairman of Chicago Youth week to be celebrated from April 21 to 28, will speak. The meeting will be held in connection with Chicago's 20th annual Youth week celebration and follows the week's theme "Help Youth Help Itself." A committee headed by Mrs. Margaret Hewitt, dean of Career Institute, was appointed on April 3 to draw up a 10 point program of recommendations for young job seekers.

The Dartmouth party will be given at the Stevens hotel and the proceeds will go to the association's scholarship fund.

Front Views and Profiles

By June Provines

Notes on Rose Pauly.

Rose Pauly, dramatic soprano who sang an all-Strauss program yesterday afternoon with the Chicago Symphony orchestra, has been in Chicago since her Thursday-Friday appearances with the orchestra last week, lunching with her old friend, Mrs. Charles Swift, dining with the Stocks and the Langes, and shopping in Chicago stores. She went to hear Marian Anderson Sunday afternoon and came away enthusiastic about the old Auditorium theater as well as Miss Anderson's singing.

Mme. Pauly, who in private life is married to a New York doctor and who has a 14 year old daughter in boarding school in the east, was born in the Hungarian town of Eperjes. She made her debut in Hamburg and from there went to Cologne, where she was "discovered" by Otto Klemperer. She is famous for her singing of Strauss' Elektra, but her own favorite rôle is that of Kundry in Parsifal. Mme. Pauly eats a big steak about two hours before an evening performance—steak and salad. Yesterday before her appearance with the Chicago Symphony she ate a combination breakfast-lunch—beef hash and strong coffee, if you like particulars about the famous. She likes very strong coffee. At home in New York Mme. Pauly is awakened by her masseuse every morning at 6, then goes out to play golf.

Variation on a Familiar Theme.

Robert L. Lederer wonders why the song hit You Walked By wasn't dedicated to Bing Crosby's horses.

Portraits and Painters.

We've been hobnobbing with art authorities. At a pre-preview of the Masterpieces of French Art exhibition that opens tonight at the Art institute, some one quoted a famous French art critic. Before 1500, he said, most portraits looked more like the sitter than the painter; after 1500 they looked more like the painter than the sitter.

Confirmation of this observation is offered in two portraits of the same man that are in the exhibit. The man is Alfred Bruyas, art patron of the French city of Montpellier.

"Delacroix, a vivid, nervous romantic, has given Bruyas his own strain of withdrawn melancholy," says our art authority friend. He tells us that Bruyas reminded him of Hamlet. Courbet, vigorous realist that he was, portrayed his model in the pink of health, robust and strong.

The two pictures hang side by side in the exhibition, both lent by the museum of Montpellier, France.

Crippled Lad's Letter.

During the annual Easter seal sale the Illinois Association for the Crippled tries to focus attention upon the crippled children of Illinois. A letter from the association incloses a theme written by a boy at the Spaulding School for Crippled Children. Class assignment was to write an imaginary letter home from the war front. Thomas Jelsa's letter:

Dear Helen:

War is terrible, men died like flies. But there are other soldiers who don't. How is Joe Mary and yourself dear. I wish I was home with you and the children. . . . Please send me a carton of cigarettes and three pairs of soxs.

Red Jackets Capture Eye of Shoppers

BY REA SEEGER.

The bright spot of any wardrobe will be the little red jacket. Tailored, boasting two to four pockets, fitted or boxy in outline, these vivid accents delight the feminine half of the world the same way a red wagon fascinates small boys. Soft flannels, diagonals, and smooth tweed textures are the choice. Some have white pearl buttons the size of a 50 cent piece, others have red bone buttons and still others go dress parade with gold or silver metal buttons.

Many of the red jackets are teamed with smart flared skirts of the same fabric and color. The casual loose swinging red jackets are ready to top daytime spectator sports clothes and summer dancing dresses with the same exhilarating snap.

Soft fleecy woolens are made in a clever new way . . . gathered in around the waistline and over the gathers a wide tie belt with notched collar and huge patched on pockets. Fitted jackets also have the patched on pockets but anchored in position with saddle stitching in the same color as the wool.

You can wear red jackets with printed dresses, with separate skirts, with checks, stripes, and plaids. A dark green skirt topped with a bright red jacket, beige with red, copper, violet, gray, cadet blue, and gray or yellow all provide the spice of unusual and daring combine for the color contrast tricks used by every clothes collector to make the wardrobe seem larger or more versatile. The woolens are plentiful now, later, corduroys, velveteens and ribbed heavy silks resembling faille and bengaline will arrive to complete the summer collections.

Time for Trek from City to Country Nears

BY JUDITH CASS.

MOVING day is coming all too soon for those who are moving from one city residence to another, but for those to whom May 1 means moving to the country April is disappearing too slowly. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Adams are not waiting until May 1 to move, for on April 18 they will go from 936 Lake Shore drive to 2430 Lake View avenue. The building in which they have been living for some years is to be made over into small apartments, so all the tenants there are having to find new homes. The Adams family, as usual, will be in Lake Forest for the summer, but they do not go north until after the Francis W. Parker school is closed, for the two younger children are students there.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gross are building a new house on the James E. Baggots' property in Lake Forest. Mrs. Baggot is Mrs. Gross' mother.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hollins Jr. Taking House in Lake Forest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald V. Hollins Jr. will be making their home in Lake Forest after this spring. They have taken the house in Edgewood road that Mr. and Mrs. R. Martin Stevenson have been occupying for several years. Mr. and Mrs. Stevenson are moving to Washington, D. C. He is a naval architect. Mrs. Stevenson has been spending the winter in Arizona with her father, Edmund J. Doering, and sister, Mrs. Harold Hartog, and their children.

The house Mr. and Mrs. F. Sewall Gardner will have soon will be ready for them. It is in East Deerpath avenue, Lake Forest, and until recently has been occupied by the James R. Addingtons. The former Betty Keith and Mr. Gardner have been staying with her father, Stanley Keith, since returning from a wedding trip to Jamaica.

The junior DeWitt Buchanans are moving May 1 to the cottage on the Thorne estate.

The Marvin B. Pools, who live in Barry avenue in the winter, already have opened their Lake Forest house for the season. They returned recently from a trip to Belleair, Mountain Lake, and Naples, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Williams expect to be able to move from Evanston into their new home in Northfield today. They have been delayed by muddy roads which made the passage of moving vans hazardous.

Alicia Wilson Barber's Engagement Announced.

Romantic news of interest is contained in the announcement Mrs. Charles Smith Barber of Evanston is making of the engagement of her daughter, Alicia Wilson, to Dr. E. Robbins Kimball Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Kimball of Franklin, N. H. The wedding will take place at 4:30 o'clock the afternoon of May 3 in St. Mark's church, Evanston.

Miss Barber attended the Milwaukee Downer school and was introduced to society in Baltimore, the home of her maternal ancestors. She is a member of the Evanston Junior league. Dr. Robbins, who is practicing in Chicago, is a graduate of Harvard university and of the Yale medical school.

As president of the Art institute Potter Palmer will head a receiving line of trustees who will welcome members at the formal opening of Masterpieces of French Art from 8 until 10:30 o'clock tonight at the institute. Thru the LOOKING GLASS

Look what the bunny can bring!

1. A tiny flacon of fine perfume in, of all things, a miniature garden sprinkler. One of the cutest things you've ever seen, a tiny watering can in pastel woods, filled with a perfume bottle and some little posies. You can have your choice of several perfumes, ranging from a luscious gardenia, thru a couple of grand blends and on up to a little amber number that would be hard to beat if it's oomph you're looking for. This is an Easter special, surprisingly inexpensive.

2. Cologne and dusting powder in the exquisite scent of forget-me-not. The dusting powder is in a pink box with light splashes of blue forget-me-nots, the cologne in a vase shaped bottle—one of the prettiest bottles to appear in years. The fragrance is enchanting, very delicate but lasting. It's dainty ad different, exactly what the ultra-feminine woman loves to own and use.

3. For children: Marvelous Mother Goose blocks five inches square. Open them up and you'll find Baa Baa Black Sheep, Mary and her little lamb, Pussy in the well and the Cat with his fiddle—all modeled in castile soap. There are other new soap figures that are almost as much fun, including a white baby bear snuggled into a trundle bed, waddling ducks and a ludicrous bunny wearing a lace cap and holding a parasol. A hat box filled with soap eggs completes his Easter ensemble.

Charles W. Dempster, Mrs. Augustus W. Maxwell and Mrs. Frederic W. Upham are some of those in charge of the party.

Deaver-Miller Wedding to Take Place April 26.

Miss Janes Miller and Darwin Holloway Deaver have chosen Saturday, April 26, as their wedding date. The Rev. Hugh Elmer Brown will perform the ceremony at 8:30 o'clock in the First Congregational church, Evanston, and wedding guests will go on to the Country Club of Evanston for a reception to be given there by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Miller.

Miss Elizabeth Reeve of Leonia, N J., will hold Miss Miller's bouquet during the ceremony. The bride's cousin, Miss Marian Hall of Winnetka, Miss Lucy McCoy and Miss Doris Bollenbacher of Evanston, and Miss Elizabeth Ann Forbes of Shaker Heights, Cleveland, O., make up the quartet of bridesmaids.

Mr. Deaver's best men will be Boyd N. Everett of Lake Forest, and ushering will be George Miller, the bride's brother, Francis Boland of New York, and Chester N. Goltra, John G. Patterson, John H. Sennott, and Frederick Rector of Evanston.

Mr. Deaver, the son of Mrs. Glenn H. Deaver of Topeka, Kas., and his bride will live in Evanston.

Chicago Red Cross Delegates Are Named.

A visit to Washington, D. C., is in store for 48 Chicagoans who have been appointed by James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, to attend the annual convention of the American Red Cross. The conference will be held in Washington from April 21 thru April 24.

Among those representing the Chicago chapter will be Miss Margot Atkin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Dewey, Mrs. Richardson Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. Forgan, Mrs. Charles Garfield King, Miss Harriet McLaughlin, Mrs. Louise de Koven Phelps, Mrs. Clive Runnells, Mrs. Melvin A. Traylor, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, and Mrs. Farwell Winston.

Frank J. Loesch is celebrating his 89th birthday today but his physicians won't permit him to receive any visitors or even to answer the telephone in his apartment at the Drake. Mr. Loesch expects to be out and about in a few weeks, however.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pennington Jr. Are Parents of Son.

Mr. and Mrs. James S. Pennington Jr. [Eleanor Wetten] are being congratulated on the birth of a son, their first child, on April 2 at St. Luke's hospital. The baby, who has been named for his father, is a grandson of the Albert H. Wettens of Chicago and of the James S. Penningtons of Los Angeles, Cal.

A son, Robert Hixon Hanson, was born last night in St. Luke's hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Francis Hanson of Lake Forest. It is their first child. Mrs. Hanson is the former Peggy Hixon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hixon of Lake Forest.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

How to Write a Movie Column in Another Easy Lesson.

Hollywood, Cal., April 8.—Sol Z. Waffle, executive producer of Waffle-Colossal Pix, Inc., will spend $300,000 for film rights to Mary Dribble's unpublished, or Karakul, novel, "Blackout in My Heart." Sol can't read, but a man with $300,000 to spend doesn't have to. For $3 he hired a guy to read the book for him. . . . Mary Dribble can't write, but the three hundred thousand is a great comfort to her. . . . Who's the Woman in Black who spends an hour every day jumping on John Barrymore's profile? The one in the sidewalk at Grauman's Chinese. . . . Baby Sandy's all washed up. Fell in mud. . . . Is Lupe Velez carrying an unlighted pine knot six feet long, looking for somebody? . . . Whatever became of Paul Muni? There's an unconfirmed report he's still up in the north woods wooing trees, but on his own time and not 20th-Fox's. . . . Make a bet right now that next year's Academy award will go to handsome Amadeus Applegapple, who in a recent drawing room comedy had to make three tries at a cigaret lighter before it would work. Most human touch since Cuddles Laughton burped in "Henry V-8."

Hays' office ban on sweaters puts chill on film femmes. . . . Baby Sandy fell in the mud again. . . . Local cops trying to find out who killed William Desmond Taylor. . . . Found a man yesterday who hadn't seen "Citizen Kane" at a secret showing. Reported him to the Hays office, which ordered him secretly shot. . . . Sandy all washed up once more. Who she think she is—Babe Leroy? . . . Barrymore says the woman in black might be one of his mothers-in-law. . . . Look-alikes: Tarzan and Weissmuller, Mickey Rooney and Andy Hardy, Penny Singleton and Dorothy McNulty and Blondie. . . . An agent is anybody who sits with his face to the restaurant door and plays gin rummy. . . . An actor is anybody who sits with his back to an agent. . . . Baby Sandy just saw "Citizen Kane." . . . Jimmy Stewart is losing his slouch in the army and MGM may have to sue.

"Citizen Kane" has just seen Baby Sandy and will have to be remade. She was all over mud. . . . The recent blending of Sam [Include Me Out] Goldwyn and Walt [Fall of Man] Disney should arouse a couple of low pitched screams from Dorothy Thompson. . . . You can make a small bet—aw, shucks, make it a big bet—that the next Academy award will go to Laszlo Z. Szlapsy, refugee character actor who played the doctor in "Where Did You Come From?" He crashed into a confinement case without commanding, "Water—heat lots of hot water!" . . . And the femme award may go to Delys Delovely, who managed to get thru four pages of pictures titled "Day with Delys Delovely," in a weekly magazine without letting 'em get one shot of her pulling on a stocking. . . . Bulletin: The Hays office will ban the magazine.

'Baby' Tells Mother How to Dress Him

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co. Inc.]

Some time ago a mother wrote to ask me if I would publish again an "article" that had appeared in this department, purporting to be written by "himself," the baby. I have just come across a clipping of it. So it is repeated, today, by request:

"Dressing Me," by the Baby.

"I don't see why my mother and my nurse get so impatient with me if I cry when I'm being dressed and undressed. If any one has a right to be impatient it's ME. If they'd think about it a little they'd understand why.

"The one thing in the world babies want is to be free. We want to move our arms and legs, our heads and bodies, our fingers and toes, just as much as we like, from the time we're born. Instead, we are put in shirts and petticoats and diapers and dresses and shoes and stockings and sweaters and then covered up with the covers often snugly tucked in, for hours and hours and hours.

"We hate having our fingers get caught and turned back in the sleeves of our dresses or slips, and our soft wiggly toes caught in the stockings. We hate to have our clothing allowed to stay stuck over our heads because it's too tight, or hasn't a big enough placket or some one has forgotten to unbutton it.

"I wish all our mothers and nurses knew how to slip their hand and fingers into our sleeves from the outside, reach in and gather our little fingers together inside theirs, and then pull our hands thru. Our fingers can't catch that way. I wish they'd always have our socks large enough so that we can move our toes and develop our muscles. I wish they'd turn the sock inside out first, then make a little pocket of the toe and slip it on our feet easily without any of that bending back that hurts.

When there's a breathing spell . . . pause and Turn to Refreshment

A pause is so welcome in between times. That's the time to turn to ice-cold Coca-Cola and enjoy its delicious taste and delightful refreshment. You'll like it. So when you pause throughout the day, make it the pause that refreshes with ice-cold Coca-Cola.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

A good chop suey has crispness about it. The celery, the bean sprouts, the other vegetables which go into it aren't cooked long enough to become soft. You never find a restaurant chop suey containing overcooked vegetables, and never should encounter formless celery in the homemade concoction. Keep chop suey vegetables crisp. This dish should give the teeth a little exercise.

Vegetable Chop Suey.

[Serves six].

¼ cup butter
½ cup green pepper, cut in strips
½ cup sliced onion
1 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
1½ cups sliced celery, with leaves
2 tablespoons flour
½ cup bouillon or liquid drained from canned vegetables
1 cup canned bean sprouts
½ cup shredded toasted almonds
¼ cup soy sauce
Salt, pepper
Hot cooked rice or fried noodles

Sauté green pepper, onion, mushrooms and celery in butter for two or three minutes. Sprinkle flour over vegetables. Add bouillon or vegetable liquid. Cook until thickened. Add bean sprouts, almonds, soy sauce, and salt and pepper to season. Heat thru and serve on hot rice or noodles.

To make meat or chicken or shrimp chop suey, just add 1 cup of any one of them. Meat or chicken should be shredded. Precooking will save time. If the meat is raw, cook it in the butter until tender before adding vegetables.

Fresh papaya is available in some of our markets these days. It's a tropical fruit, of course, and not inexpensive, but if you've a yearning to try something new, how about a slice of chilled fresh papaya, served like melon? Some of the black seeds should be included with the serving, for they are spicy and good. This exotic fruit is rich in vitamins A, B and C.

Papayas grow from the trunks of trees and look like melons, or like a combination of cantaloupe and pineapple. Their bright orange flesh is appetizing.

If you'd like a frozen papaya dessert, try this freeze, which may be made from papaya in the jar or from papaya marmalade, if the fresh fruit isn't available.

Papaya Freeze.

[Serves six to eight].

1 cup seived papaya pulp
1½ cups orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sugar
2 cups top milk

Mix ingredients thoroly and freeze in ice cream freezer. Or, if you haven't a freezer, use the refrigerator tray and add a teaspoon of gelatin soaked 5 minutes in a little of the cold milk, and dissolved in more of the milk which has been heated. Stir several times during freezing. If papaya marmalade is used, omit sugar.

Serbian Churches to Head Jugo-Slav Fund Campaign

Bishop Dionisije of the Serbian Orthodox church will go to Washington this week-end to discuss plans for a Jugo-Slav relief fund drive at the Jugo-Slav legation in Washington. He says committees will be organized in all Serbian churches thru the country to raise a fund of from 10 to 20 millions for the relief of Jugo-Slav war victims. Bishop Dionisije will announce details for the Chicago campaign next week.

ARRID

Young Singer Acclaimed as Genuine Find

BY CECIL SMITH.

Two or three times a year the whole elaborate machinery of formal debut recitals in small halls actually seems worth the trouble when a young musician of undoubted gifts and potentialities introduces himself to the public under these otherwise chilling circumstances. Charles Fredericks, baritone, who sang in Curtiss hall last night, is one of this season's genuine discoveries.

His voice is so beautiful and smooth in quality, and his attitude toward his music is so serious and steady, that a successful career seems a foregone conclusion in his case.

At present his voice is placed a little too low for operatic usefulness—he had to transpose two standard arias downward—and his upper tones do not yet have the ease and lift they need. But his middle range is so wonderfully mellow, and indeed his whole voice is so good, even when he does not support it enough, that it is a pleasure just to sit and listen to such a naturally beautiful tone.

Interpretatively, as vocally, he is still in the formative stage. On the one hand, he brought expressive meaning and interesting nuance to the evening star song from Wagner's "Tannhäuser," and he projected Delibes' "Bonjour Suzon" with agreeable lightness.

The "Di provenza" aria from Verdi's "La Traviata," on the other hand, was delivered too much in clocklike barrel organ style; the "Largo al factotum," from Rossini's "Barber of Seville" in its lowered key, was still in a preliminary studio stage; and his voice has not yet the mature power for "Nimico della Patria," from Giordano's "Andrea Chenier."

If he does not push himself into stiff professional competition before he is wholly ready, and if he does not mistake his lyric voice for a dramatic one, Mr. Fredericks may count on a notable future.

Robert MacDonald was his capable accompanist last night.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Most players get panicky at the thought of an adversary holding more trumps than they themselves hold. The panic becomes even greater at a redoubled, vulnerable contract. They should take a lesson from the declarer in the following deal:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 spade	2 diamonds	Pass	Pass
3 hearts	4 diamonds	4 hearts	Pass
Pass	5 diamonds	Double	Pass
5 hearts	Pass	Pass	Double
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

West opened the diamond king, and declarer ruffed. Then, seeing that it would be imperative to establish the long spade suit, South laid down the ace and a low spade. West's king was ruffed away, and declarer now returned to his own hand with a trump. Naturally, he was not pleased when West failed to follow, but he did not allow this to throw him off stride. Another low spade was ruffed with dummy's queen, and then declarer deliberately ruffed himself down further by leading a diamond and ruffing it with the jack of hearts.

At this point East was two cards longer in the trump suit than was the declarer, but this did not worry South greatly, for a simple reason: He felt absolutely sure that West would not have "stretched his neck" with a five diamond bid on less than a seven card suit and, in that case, East, on taking control with trumps, would be unable to put his partner on lead.

After cashing the ace and king of hearts, declarer started to run off his good spades. East followed to the jack, and ruffed the next round. But then he could win only his one remaining trump. The forced club lead from his hand went into the combined tenace of declarer and dummy for the fulfilling tricks of the contract.

★ Your Stars Today ★

By WYNN

Wednesday, April 9.

Today can be made very constructive and progressive if we will combine the best of both old and new ideas. But there is warning against taking for granted the justice of our emotions; don't trust selfish inclination, be impersonal.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if birthday is today, is one of financial reaping and adjustments. Very ambitious, don't overreach. Mind keener, train and apply it. Cultivate persons in authority. Danger: July 21-Aug. 14; Sept. 17-Oct. 3; Nov. 23-Dec. 20.

Tomorrow.

Try it out in the morning if you are sure it is your best plan.

Do you want an individual interpretation for your own personal date? Send 10c for your 1941 horoscope to WYNN, Tribune Astrologer, 286 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, date of birth, and address.

Scandinavians Here to Reaffirm Faith in Democracy Today

Today, the first anniversary of the Nazi invasion of Scandinavia, will be observed by Americans of Scandinavian birth or descent as a day of reaffirmation of their belief in democracy.

The observance is nation-wide, sponsored by the American Scandinavian committee, which was organized solely for the day, object of which is to emphasize the present plight of Scandinavia. Its program includes prayers for the eventual liberation of the small occupied nations and expressions of sympathy for their peoples.

In Chicago a large massmeeting will be held at 8 p. m. in Logan Square Masonic temple under the auspices of the Chicago Denmark committee, a unit of the National America-Denmark association. Francis Hackett, author of "I Chose Denmark," written before the Nazi invasion, will speak, and a 125 voice chorus will sing.

George P. Jensen is chairman of the Chicago committee in which 42 Scandinavian organizations are enrolled.

ROOKIE NAVIE HOLDS CUBS IN LAST 2 INNINGS

Mike's Single Ties Score in Ninth.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lubbock, Tex., April 8.—Mike Kreevich this afternoon put the White Sox back in the race for the spring baseball Sox-Cub championship when he drove out his fourth hit and second homer with one on in the 11th inning to give the south siders a 9 to 7 victory. The spring series between the Chicago major league rivals now stands at four victories for today's winners to five for the Cubs.

Walter Navie, southpaw rookie from the Texas league, held the Cubs hitless in the last two innings.

The Cubs made five errors, and three of these were contributing factors to their defeat. With good support Larry French would have been a hero of parts, for he knocked two homers to help keep the Cubs in front until he tired and withdrew at the start of the eighth inning. The Cubs were ahead, 7 to 6, and the game was about to end that way, under able relief pitching by Vance Page, when Billy Myers threw the ball away with one out in the ninth.

Cubs Score Two Off Lyons.

A tie score bloomed from Myers' throw. Paul [Swede] Erickson pitched the tenth and eleventh innings and was the victim of Kreevich's homer with Taft Wright on base as a result of a single.

Ted Lyons was French's adversary at the start of the game. But Ted was excused after three innings after the Cubs had accomplished a 2 to 0 lead on a total of five hits.

The Cubs had a 3 to 0 lead after French knocked his first homer off Bill Dietrich in the fourth inning, but they didn't make another hit or run off Dietrich until French hit his second homer with two out in the sixth. The Sox in the meantime had made two runs, both of which ripened from doubles by Bill Knickerbocker and Wright, with errors complicating things.

Hajduk Drives in a Run.

Luke Appling's double, and a single by Chester Hajduk produced a run in the Sox sixth, making French's homer in the Cub half the Cub edge.

In the seventh the Cubs increased their lead with a three run splurge, and it proved to be their last production of the day.

Then the Sox began the overtaking process in earnest. In the seventh a single by Dario Lodigiani, a triple by Wright, an error by Bill Herman, and Kreevich's first homer again lifted the Sox within one run of a tie.

Page held Appling, Hadjuk and Julius Solters to infield failures in the eighth. Lodigiani, first up in the ninth, flied out. Myers picked up Wright's grounder and threw it past first, Wright reaching second, whence he scored the tying run on Kreevich's single. Kreevich stole second and went to third on Al Todd's bouncing throw thru the infield. But Page made George Dickey bounce to Rip Russell. Pinch batter Dave Short was given an intentional pass, then Lou Novikoff backed against the left field fence for Knickerbocker's fly.

I Should Have Known.

Had I no revelation but your smile
I should have known there was a heaven above,
For in your eyes so innocent of guile
I would discern an image of God's love;
If rose-thorns never left their telltale scars,
And night's white candles never pierced the blue,
I still should know of roses and of stars,
Seeing their spotless loveliness in you.

And had the angels been unknown to me,
Those ever-faithful guardians of man,
I should have seen in your fidelity
A counterpart of the angelic plan;
For tho I were a brother to the clod
Your beauty would have lifted me to God.

Sittin' Back o' Third.

On a Sunday hot and sultry
With Old Sol just beating down,
When the old burg's just a-sizzlin'
And you must get out of town;
I've a cure for that old feelin'
If you'll please just take my word,
Take a car ride to the ball park,
Get a seat just back of third.

Be they Sox or Cubs, no difference,
Either one puts on a show
Of class and skill and daring
When the ump shouts out "Let's go."
With a hot dog in the left hand
And a cold drink in the right,
Yes, sir, that is solid comfort
And a mighty cooling sight.

In the afternoon at 3 p. m.
Or evening, sir, at eight,
Cool off, relax, and feel at ease,
For you'll not have to wait
For thrills and real excitement
As you sit among the herd
You'll feel that life's worth living,
If you're sitting back of third.

LEE, DUE TODAY, WANTS TO VISIT GALLAGHER NOW

Changes Mind About Chat with Wrigley.

Bill Lee, who has had a busy spring frolicking with his bird dogs and broadcasting his baseball contract woes, will beat his Cub mates into Chicago by almost two days. The big right handed pitcher is scheduled to arrive late today and carry his fight for one of his old-time documents to Jim Gallagher, the Cubs' general manager.

This is the day, too, that John Rigney comes home to recuperate from the effects of a serious throat infection. The big White Sox right hander will arrive at 1:30 p.m. at the Dearborn street station. Sox officials are hopeful that Rigney will be in uniform Saturday when the Sox and Cubs meet in Comiskey park in the second of their three-game spring series, which precedes the opening of the championship season.

Lee Changes Attack.

In his earlier negotiations with the Cubs, Lee talked of appealing to Owner P. K. Wrigley for a salary readjustment. He apparently has since learned, tho, that he must do his arguing with Gallagher, who was installed as general manager after the 1940 season ended.

Gallagher said all he knows about Lee's activities is what he has read in the papers, and that he has had no word that the pitcher is on the way to see him. The Cub official gave no indication that he is weakening in his stand against Lee's demands for more then $12,500, which represents a cut of $5,000. Lee lost 17 games and won nine last year, his poorest season since joining the Cubs in 1934. In his seven seasons with the Cubs, Lee has won 115 games and lost 87.

Before he set out on the journey to Chicago from his Plaquemine, La., home, Lee said:

"I've had my tonsils out and I'm over the sickness that had me down last year. I've got four or five years of good ball left and the Cubs know it."

Parks Get Some Paint.

He added he hoped to have more luck talking to Gallagher than he has had in writing him.

There are no new developments on the Cubs' other holdout, Hank Leiber. The club and the outfielder are continuing the correspondence they started months ago. Gallagher sat down at his typewriter yesterday and aimed another communique to Hank in Phoenix.

Both Wrigley field and Comiskey park have been liberally daubed with paint, thus brightening the appearance of both structures. Seats have been repainted and a new concession stand has been built at the north side plant.

Bill Killefer, old time Cub catcher and manager, now pilot of the Milwaukee club, visited Cub headquarters yesterday. He said he will put a good club in the American Association race.

PASSEAU PICKED TO PITCH OPENER AGAINST PIRATES

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lubbock, Tex., April 8.—Both Managers James Dykes of the White Sox and James Wilson of the Cubs today announced their pitching plans for opening day and several days thereafter. When the Sox open in Cleveland Tuesday Bill Dietrich will have the pleasure of matching his skill with that of Bob Feller. On the same afternoon in Chicago Claude Passeau will work for the Cubs against the Pirates. The Sox pitchers for the three subsequent afternoons will be Eddie Smith, Thornton Lee, and Ted Lyons. Larry French will pitch the season's second game for the Cubs, Vern Olsen the third and Charley Root the fourth.

In the interests of gate receipts Diz Dean has been advertised to work against the Sox on Thursday when the two teams meet in Wichita. Manager Wilson doesn't wish to appear as a harsh taskmaster but he'll endeavor to get a nine inning job out of the famous invalid.

Three of the Cubs picked on a sucker in a cumulative rhummy game on the train ride over from El Paso last night but today they acknowledged they had overmatched themselves. The hand picked sucker was one of the baseball writers who went to bed with $29.90 of baseball money.

Manager Dykes broadcast from a local station at noon today and he hoped that at least some of his players were listening in. He spoke indirectly in their behalf by declaring that if the Sox didn't hustle and even up their series with the Cubs he would be afraid to return to Chicago.

The Sox and Cubs will tarry at Amarillo, Tex., tomorrow for the 10th chapter of their preseason thriller. Vern Olsen will southpaw for the Cubs, hoping to go the distance. Dykes will continue splitting the mound work, probably using Jack Hallett and John Humphries.

Manager Wilson dashed out to consult Larry French after the latter had been blasted by four hits in the seventh. Larry assured the boss he was all right. Bill Knickerbocker knocked French's next pitch over the left field wall but it went foul by inches.

Bruins Rally in Last Period; Top Wings, 2-1

Boston, Mass., April 8 (AP).—After being held in check by the Detroit Red Wings' airtight defense for almost 54 minutes, the Boston Bruins gained their second straight Stanley Cup hockey series victory, by a 2 to 1 margin tonight, before 15,000 in the Boston Garden.

Cain Outraces Two Wings.

The Wings, after smashing the Boston power attacks with their stout blue line defense, broke the scoreless deadlock early in the third period, when Mud Bruneteau caged a passout shot after the puck had been carried around the Boston net.

The visitors held their advantage for about 10 minutes, until Desse Smith drove the puck into the Detroit backboards. Herb Cain outraced two rivals for possession and Terry Reardon tied the count by beating Goalie Johnny Mowers with a shot from the left corner of the crease.

Score on Freak Play.

After the following face-off, Cain and Harold Jackson put on a lively fight in center and both drew major penalties. While they were off, Milt Schmidt jumped the Red Wings and after carrying over, passed right to Roy Conacher, who decided the game by blasting a 25 foot shot into the Detroit cage with less than three minutes to go.

GALENTO LOSES TO BUDDY BAER IN 7TH ROUND

Washington, D. C., April 8 [Special].—Tony Galento, a tired old man, wheezed to his corner at the end of the sixth round of his scheduled 10 round bout with Buddy Baer in Uline arena tonight, ordered his seconds to cut off his gloves and refused to come out for the seventh round. So Referee Ed La Fond awarded the one-sided contest to Baer. The official ruling was that Baer had won by a technical knockout in the seventh round.

Galento claimed he was sick and that in addition he had suffered a broken left hand early in the bout. A preliminary examination failed to show any break. He was taken to Casualty hospital for an X-ray examintion.

A near-riot was provoked by Tony's sudden but not quite unexpected decision. At the end of the sixth he had stopped about everything except the buses running outside the arena.

He Just Quits

Tony lurched to his corner, blind and gory. He made a despairing gesture to the referee, who shook his head. So Tony motioned to his seconds to get out the scissors. They snipped the strings on both gloves before La Fond saw them.

Then La Fond rushed to the corner and ordered the gloves put on again. Photographers swarmed into the ring. When Tony refused La Fond appealed to Police Chief E. W. Brown, chairman of the boxing commission, who was sitting near Tony's corner.

Tony's seconds shoved the referee around and for a moment it appeared as if it would take the police to come to the rescue. While the crowd of 8,500 hooted, the bell rang for the seventh round and Baer bounded across the ring. He aimed a right at Tony's round head, but was restrained by commission officials,

Tony Starts Fast.

Galento, his face swollen, was a thoroly beaten fighter as he sat puffing in his corner during all the excitement. He had started fast and backed Baer into the ropes with a pair of hard rights in the first round.

In the second round, which was declared even because both boxers landed low blows, Baer had the advantage by clubbing Galento's body as Tony continued to bore in. The Californian took every round from there on as Galento tired rapidly.

17,456 CHEER CHALLENGER IN ST. LOUIS BOUT

Champion Floors Foe Only Once.

BY JACK MAHON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., April 8.—This is a tale of terror with a silver lining that came into the life of squat Tony Musto, Chicago ex-grocery clerk who thought he could win the heavyweight championship of the world. Like some 15 who went before him, Musto tonight suffered the fate of those who lacked the necessary ammunition to defeat the bomber and fell, the victim of a nine round technical knockout at the hands of Champion Joe Louis before 17,456 fans packed in the steaming St. Louis arena.

Musto, bleeding from a cut over the right eye and a badly battered nose, was stopped on a technical knockout for the second time in his career when Referee Arthur Donovan, imported from New York for the occasion, halted the contest after 1 minute and 36 seconds of the ninth to save the baby tank of boxing from further needless punishment.

Crowd Cheers Musto.

It was Louis' 16th straight successful title defense, but it was Musto, leaving the ring with a battered smile, who received all the cheers. He may have been cut up externally but the champion's punches failed to dim the spark and spirit of a fighting heart and Tony went out to his dressing room, chin up.

Louis went out into the darkness head down as the huge crowd screamed a scornful symphony of Bronx cheers in condemnation of an unsatisfactory victory.

The crowd, which contributed an all time local record gate of $52,933.75 to watch Louis for the first time, realized Musto was outclassed, tiring fast and a cinch to be beaten, but booed Louis for failing to knock out the courageous little guy. Tho all he had was a bewildering crouch and a fighting heart, Musto took several of Louis' best right and left uppercuts, never stopped coming and was still boring in, a battered determined gnome, when Donovan stopped the fight.

Tony Down Only Once.

Louis had Musto's nose bleeding as early as the fourth round and cut his right eye in the seventh. Yet he could not put Tony on the floor for a second time. Louis had him down for a count of one in the third but, try as he might, he could not make the tank stop moving in from there till the finish.

And when the finish finally came it found Louis content to coast into a hollow triumph on the strength of a straight, tantalizing, cutting, left jab which didn't hurt Musto but was damaging enough to continue the bruising effect on his face.

Tony took his worst shellacking in the seventh and eighth rounds when his eye was split open by a left hook and several uppercuts and jabs increased the damage. He received a great hand as he wobbled to the haven of his stool at the end of these rounds.

No Chance to Throw Right.

In the ninth Louis started to peck, peck, peck with that straight left. The champion held his right cocked and the fans waited for him to throw it—the punch that would end the fight. He didn't.

The crowd realized it and started to hoot and whistle. They wanted a clean knockout—no charity from a strange referee. Louis wouldn't fire the right. He continued to stab that surgical left into Tony's face and suddenly Donovan, parting them from a clinch, looked at Musto—and stopped it.

Musto made a quick, frenzied little protest, but didn't persist too long and finally was persuaded to bounce into his corner. Except for that jag-saw face, Tony was in good shape.

It was a peculiar fight. Louis, just as he did against Arturo Godoy when the Chilean first introduced the Hunchback of Notre Dame offense into the heavyweight picture, refused to extend himself and risk downward punches.

Musto lived up to his promise to act like a roly-poly doll and crouched and bobbed and weaved repeatedly. This made the action dull in several rounds as both fighters clinched and missed more than they landed effective punches.

Tami Mauriello Stops Wildcat O'Connor in 6th

New York, April 8 [Special].—Making his first appearance since his one round knockout of Steve Belloise here recently, Tami Mauriello, Bronx middleweight, tonight stopped Walter [Wildcat] O'Connor of Carbondale, Pa., in the sixth round of a listed 10 rounder in the New York coliseum.

MICHIGAN GOLF TEAM LOOMS AS BIG 10 FAVORITE

Aims at National Title in Ohio Meet.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Whether the University of Michigan golf team will surprise the Western conference in the Big Ten meet as its ardent supporters claim, or even finish second as in 1940, the Wolverines and rival conference squads are unanimous in hoping that the Big Ten will be victorious in the National Collegiate tournament.

Ohio State is the first Western conference university awarded the tournament. The 44th meet will be held June 23-29 on the Ohio State course, where a year ago Illinois won the Big Ten golf championship. Unlike the conference tournament, the N. C. A. A. individual competition is decided by match play. The qualifying rounds determine the team championship which was shared in the 1940 tournament at Manchester, Vt., by Louisiana State and Princeton. F. Dixon Brooke of Virginia was the individual N. C. A. A. champion.

Low 64 to Qualify

Qualifying rounds of 18 holes will be held June 23 and 24 and the low 64 then start four days of match play over the 18 hole course. John Burke of Georgetown, with 143, was the 1940 medalist. Bob Palmer of Michigan, runner-up for the Big Ten individual championship, shared in driving championship in the N. C. A. A. meet with an average of 266⅔ yards. This was the only mention the Big Ten received in the list of honors.

Palmer was only one stroke back of Ohio State's Billy Gilbert in the Big Ten meet last year. He has been graduated from Michigan and so has Jack Emery, who was No. 2 man on the Wolverine squad. Black and Tussing, who were three and four on the Michigan team in the conference meet and who finished 14th and 26th, respectively, also are not listed. Since Capt. Goodwin Clark of Chicago did not return to Michigan, Fred Dannenfelser, a senior from Toledo, O., has been named acting captain.

Home Boys Important.

Two other veterans form the nucleus from which Coach Ray Courtright hopes to build a successful team. They are John Leidy and Dave Osler, both of Ann Arbor. Leidy won the Ann Arbor city junior championship in 1927 and qualified for the National Collegiate meet last spring. Osler was medalist in the Ann Arbor tournament in 1938, 1939, and 1940, and won this tournament in 1939. John Barr and Cliff James, who won reserve letters last year, are in the battle for regular positions.

Dick James, a sophomore brother of Cliff, is another candidate, as is Dave Ladd, a senior who has played considerable golf but has never reported for the varsity.

Outstanding sophomores are Ben Smith, Fort Meyers, Fla.; Robert Fife, Highland Park, Mich., and Bill Courtright, son of the Michigan coach. Smith won the Florida state high school championship in 1938 and 1939, was third in the All-Southern high school tournament in 1938, was a member of the Western junior championship team last year, and was awarded the Trueblood trophy as Michigan's outstanding freshman golfer.

23 Men on Squad.

Fife was a member of the Western junior championship team and semifinalist in the Detroit district junior tournament. Courtright was runner-up in the class A junior championship that same year and reached the quarter-finals of the Michigan State amateur tournament last year.

Eight players who won their freshmen numerals are listed on the Michigan roster of 23 men. The Wolverines open their schedule Monday in Atlanta, Ga., against Georgia Tech.

RECORD ENTRY IS FILED FOR DOZEN TROTTING STAKES

Goshen, N. Y., April 8 (AP).—Twelve early closing events have drawn a record entry of 250 trotters and pacers for the annual Grand Circuit meeting here July 28-Aug. 2, Racing Secretary Al Saunders announced today.

For the first time in the 15 year history of the Hambletonian stake, Goshen will stage a preview to the $40,000 harness Derby one week before the 3 year old stake. Twenty of the 26 Hambletonian candidates are eligible for the trial.

The historic meeting will be featured by more dashes and less heats and one new stake—the $6,000 Coaching Club Trotting Oaks for 3 year old trotting fillies. The Harriman cup for 2 year old trotters has attracted the largest number of entries with 50 eligibles.

HE PUTS FROSH FOOTBALL AHEAD OF WIFE--AND WPA

SALEM, Mass., April 8 [Special].—Mrs. Edward Toczylowski sued for divorce today—on the grounds that her husband is an apparently incurable freshman football player.

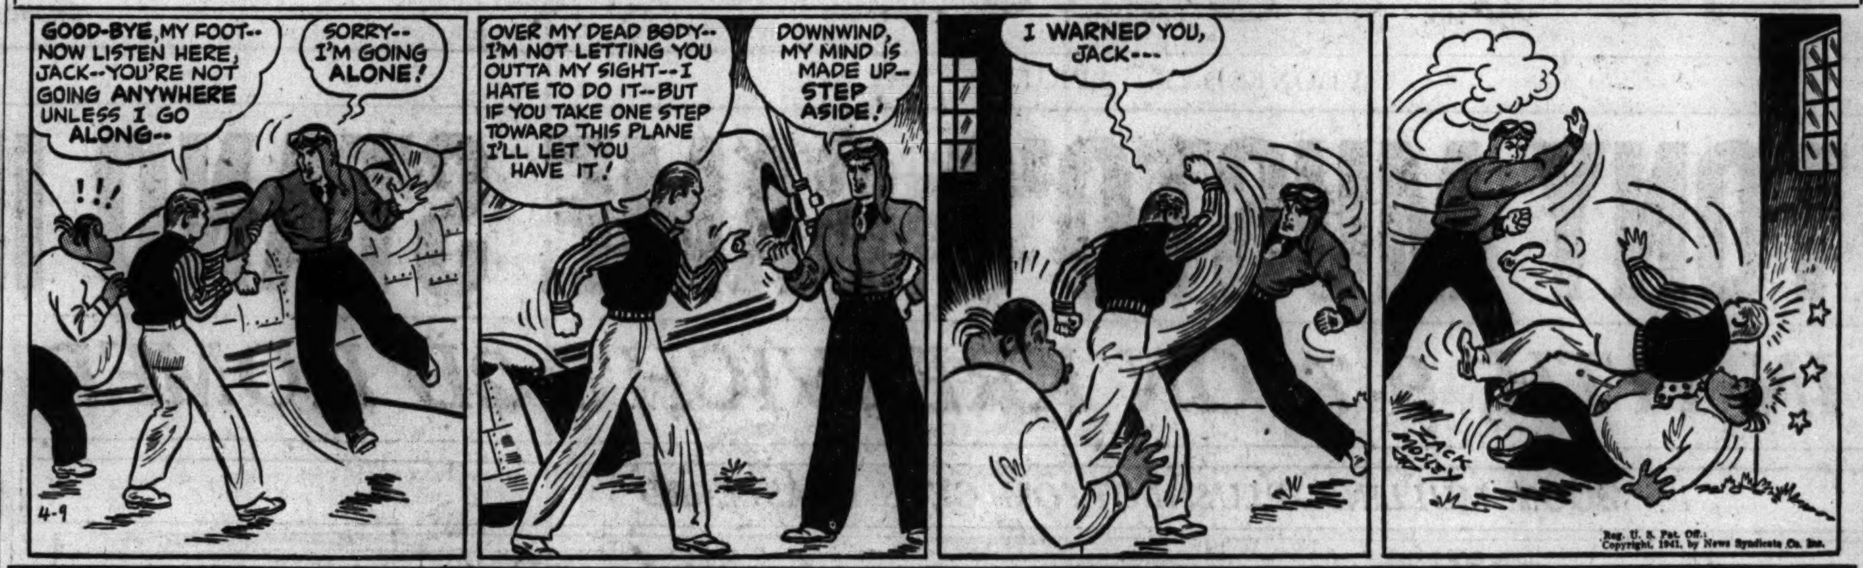
He's been playing, off and on, for five years now, she said, and the prospects are that he'll play again next year.

In 1937, she testified, he left her to enter a California college; the next year he played at Holmes Junior college in Mississippi, and in 1939 he abandoned her and their three children to enter Louisiana State college. When not playing football, she said, he worked for the WPA in Lynn, Mass.

Mrs. Max Hirsch, Wife of Turf Trainer, Dies

New York, April 8 (AP).—Mrs. Max Hirsch, wife of the noted trainer of racing thorobreds, died today at her home in Queens Village, Long Island, after several days' illness. She was about 50.

SMILIN' JACK—WHEN OLD FRIENDS PART



GOOD-BYE, MY FOOT-- NOW LISTEN HERE, JACK--YOU'RE NOT GOING ANYWHERE UNLESS I GO ALONG-- SORRY-- I'M GOING ALONE!
!!!
OVER MY DEAD BODY-- I'M NOT LETTING YOU OUTTA MY SIGHT-- I HATE TO DO IT--BUT IF YOU TAKE ONE STEP TOWARD THIS PLANE I'LL LET YOU HAVE IT!
DOWNWIND, MY MIND IS MADE UP-- STEP ASIDE!
I WARNED YOU, JACK---

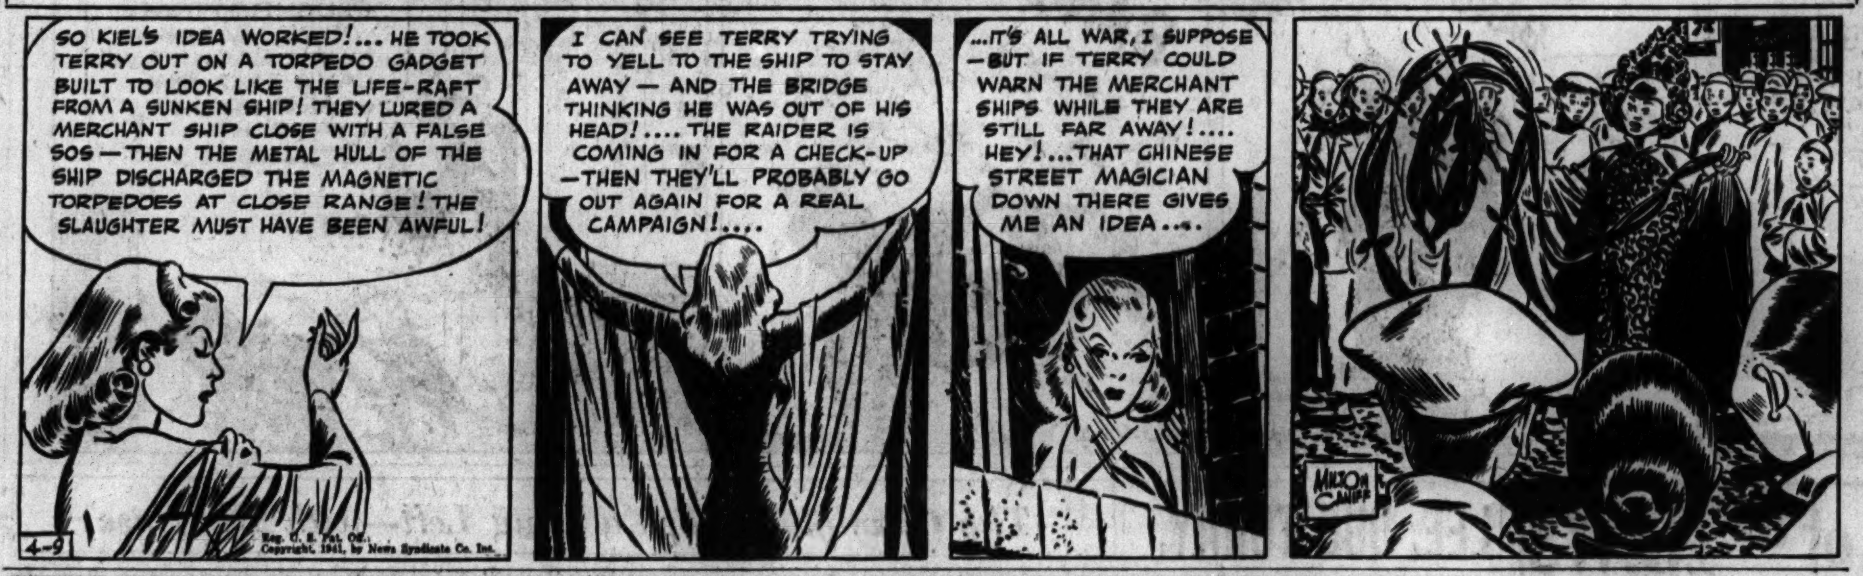
TERRY AND THE PIRATES—PRESTIDIGITATION CAUSES ANIMATION



SO KIEL'S IDEA WORKED!... HE TOOK TERRY OUT ON A TORPEDO GADGET BUILT TO LOOK LIKE THE LIFE-RAFT FROM A SUNKEN SHIP! THEY LURED A MERCHANT SHIP CLOSE WITH A FALSE SOS -- THEN THE METAL HULL OF THE SHIP DISCHARGED THE MAGNETIC TORPEDOES AT CLOSE RANGE! THE SLAUGHTER MUST HAVE BEEN AWFUL!
I CAN SEE TERRY TRYING TO YELL TO THE SHIP TO STAY AWAY -- AND THE BRIDGE THINKING HE WAS OUT OF HIS HEAD! .... THE RAIDER IS COMING IN FOR A CHECK-UP -- THEN THEY'LL PROBABLY GO OUT AGAIN FOR A REAL CAMPAIGN! ....
...IT'S ALL WAR, I SUPPOSE --BUT IF TERRY COULD WARN THE MERCHANT SHIPS WHILE THEY ARE STILL FAR AWAY! ... HEY! ... THAT CHINESE STREET MAGICIAN DOWN THERE GIVES ME AN IDEA ....

BOSS HOSS WINS FIRST RACE IN 11 ATTEMPTS IN '41

Miami, Fla., April 8 (AP).—Boss Hoss, a castoff of the E. R. Bradley stable, won his first 1941 race in 11 attempts today. His triumph came in the Indian River handicap, top attraction on the Tropical Park card, and was worth $14 to those who laid $2 on Boss Hoss' nose. The public choice, Tonypandy, wound up third behind Waugh Pop.

A long shot, Miss Shopper, raced to a $43.50 for $2 decision in a 4 furlong event for 2 year olds. She paid $14.80 to place and $6.70 to show. The filly showed her heels to Son Islam and Drawby, both more highly regarded.

One of the smallest daily double payoffs of the season—$15.90—was returned to the backers of Queen Echo in the first race and Selann in the second. Queen Echo paid $6.80, while Selann came in at $6.20.

Barlund Will Testify Against His Manager

In a letter received yesterday by Paul Damski, manager of Gunnar Barlund, the Finnish heavyweight said he would testify against Damski when he appears at a hearing conducted by the Illinois Athletic commission next Monday. The meeting was ordered by Sheldon Clark, commission chairman, as a result of Barlund's unexpected surrender to Billy Conn in the Chicago Stadium last Friday.

The commissioner questions Damski's refusal to permit Gunnar to continue the fight after the seventh round because of a cut right eye when Dr. Frank A. Lagorio, chief medical examiner for the commission, examined the wound and expressed the opinion the fighter was not seriously handicapped.

Barlund Will Retire.

In defense of his unprecendented action Damski differs with Dr. Lagorio. He says the cut was of a serilus nature because it was on the eyelid and there was no way of stopping the bleeding without jeopardizing the boxer's sight. Al Ramo, trainer and second for Barlund, backs up Damski.

But, Barlund disagrees. In his letter he charged he was able to continue and Damski had no right making it appear as if he quit. Gunnar also said he would quit fighting and asked his manager to tear up their contract. It still has two years to go.

The Berwyn Kiwanis will sponsor an amateur boxing show tonight in Morton High school, 24th street and Austin boulevard in Cicero. Puggy Sluka, who is in charge of arrangements, announced Barney Ross, Johnny Coulon, and Battling Nelson, former world champions, will referee.

CINCINNATI OR BOSTON MAY GET CLEVELAND RAMS

Owners Consider Sale for Estimated $150,000.

Cleveland, O., April 8 [Special].—Edward P. Bruch, president of the Cleveland Rams, announced today that the club's board of directors is considering "a substantial offer" for its National Football league franchise and team.

Bruch declined to amplify his statement, but it was understood the offer was $150,000. A group in Boston is known to be interested in securing a National league franchise and there also has been a report that Powel Crosley, multimillionaire manufacturer and owner of the Cincinnati Reds, has been investigating the possibilities of placing a team in the football league.

Report Deficit Is $100,000.

The reported offer of $150,000 would be sufficient to cover the Rams' losses during their four years in the league. The present deficit, according to a local newspaper, is slightly in excess of $100,000.

Both Boston and Cincinnati formerly held franchises in the National league. Boston was represented by the Redskins, who were moved to Washington by Owner George Marshall in 1937 after five years in the New England town. Cincinnati entered the league in 1933. It played one season, winning three games, losing six, and playing a tie. The next year its franchise was moved to St. Louis. After a year in St. Louis it was turned back to the league until it was taken by a Cleveland syndicate in 1937. Earl [Dutch] Clark, former Detroit all-league quarter back, has been coaching the Rams for the last three years.

Some of the Ram directors are said to be opposing the sale, pointing out that new clubs usually suffer losses for several seasons in the National league.

Needs Commissioner's Approval.

Any sale or transfer of the Ram franchise would have to have the approval of Elmer Layden, commissioner of professional football and president of the National league, and the unanimous consent of the nine other franchise holders. Previously it took only the unanimous consent of the owners, but under the new constitution, adopted at the league meeting in Chicago last week, Layden can veto sale of a franchise even tho all the owners approve.

If the offer referred to in Bruch's statement comes from Cincinnati, the Cincinnati team would replace Cleveland in the western division of the league. If a sale involved transfer to Boston the new team would be placed in the eastern division and Pittsburgh would be switched to the west to give the league a balanced schedule.

San Mateo, Cal., April 8 (AP).—Count Anklet, owned by Mrs. F. West of San Antonio, Tex., came thru on the rail in the stretch turn and finished first today in the sixth race at Bay Meadows track. Xenoras Fox was second and Joharie, the favorite, third.

Anglers' Dream of Life in Stream Soon Comes True

BY BOB BECKER.

With crappies and bluegills taking flies in the channels around Fox lake, smelt running up the streams and rivers from Lake Michigan, and Wisconsin anglers getting ready for the walleyed pike run in the Winnebago waters, Chicagoland fishermen are at the door of another season on lakes and streams.

There are very few changes in the Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota, and Indiana fishing laws. The Illinois laws remain identically the same as last year, with the pickerel season opening May 1 and the northern zone bass fishing opening June 16. Bass fishermen in the southern section of the state can start tossing plugs May 15, and the central section bass season opens June 1.

About the only fishing open to Chicagoland anglers now is the crappie and bluegill fishing in the Fox lake chain, but in a few days fishermen can head for the territory above Oshkosh for the walleyed pike run from Lake Winnebago up the Wolf river. The towns of Butte des Morts, Winneconne, Weyauwega, Omro, Fremont, and Oshkosh are the headquarters for the pike run. The Wisconsin trout season opens May 1 in the streams emptying into Lake Superior in Ashland, Bayfield, Douglas, and Iron counties, but for all other streams anglers have to wait until May 15. The regular walleyed pike and pickerel season opens May 15, muskies may be taken May 25, and the Wisconsin black bass season again opens June 20.

The big opening day carnival for Michigan trout fishermen will be April 26 this year. Since this is a Saturday it is probable that many Chicago anglers will be wading Michigan streams that week-end. The Michigan bass season doesn't open until June 25.

Anglers going into Minnesota for walleyes, pickerel, and muskies can start fishing May 15. The bass fishing in that state opens May 29 in the southern zone and June 21 in the northern part of the state.

The Indiana bass season opens concurrently with the northern Illinois season—June 16. The pickerel, pike, bluegill, silver bass, and crappie season in Indiana opens on the same date.

DOROTHY KIRBY SHOOTS 72; LEADS IN AUGUSTA MEET

Augusta, Ga., April 8 (AP).—Shooting a phenomental 72, men's par for the route, Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta established a new Augusta Country club course record for women today while taking a nine stroke lead after 36 holes of the 54-hole title holders tournament here.

Miss Kirby's 152 gave her a nine stroke margin over Philadelphia's Helen Sigel and Greenville's Jane Cothran, who were tied for second with 161. Miss Sigel turned in a second round card of 80, while Miss Cothran had 81.

RED SOX ROOKIE WHIPS REDS, 3-0, WITH HOME RUN

Spence Gets Long Drive in First with Two On.

Louisville, Ky., April 8 (AP).—A three run homer by Rookie Stanley Spence in the first inning sent the world champion Cincinnati Reds down to defeat at the hands of the Boston Red Sox again today, 3 to 0, giving the American leaguers a 7 to 6 advantage in the spring exhibition series.

Whitey Moore and Elmer Riddle held the Red Sox to three hits, but one of them was Spence's 360 foot effort with Dom DiMaggio and Lou Finney on base.

Charley Wagner and Mickey Harris, two of the best Boston rookie pitchers, yielded only four hits, including two singles by Frank McCormick, who has been slumping.

Cincinnati [N.]........000 000 000—0 4 2
Boston [A.]...........300 000 00*—3 3 0

Batteries—Moore, E. Riddle and West; Wagner and Pytlak.

DODGER SUBS, 5; YANKS, 1.

Durham, N. C., April 8 (AP).—The Brooklyn Dodgers sent their B team against the surprised New York Yankees today and whipped them, 5 to 1, to gain a 3 to 2 lead in their spring series. A crowd of 5,562 saw the Yanks' fielding fall apart while the American league sluggers were held to six hits by Curt Davis and Bill Swift.

Peewee Reese, the only regular who is expected to start the season, was in today's opening lineup. But the reserves did all right in the third inning when they slammed Hank Borowy for six hits, including doubles by Dixie Walker and Jim Wasdell, to score four runs with the aid of two Yankee errors. Frank Crosetti's wild throw let the first Brooklyn run score in the second inning.

The Yanks, held to three hits in the 7 innings Davis pitched, scored in the ninth on Joe DiMaggio's long double and a single by Charley Keller.

Brooklyn [N.]........014 000 000—5 10 1
New York [A.]......000 000 001—1 6 4

Batteries—Davis, Swift and Franks; Borowy, Murphy and Dickey, Rosar.

NEWSOM, TIGERS LOSE.

Charlotte, N. C., April 8 (AP).—Buck Newsom was all set to show a big delegation from nearby Hartsville, his home town, just how a great hurler works today, but lost to Washington, 4 to 2, for the Detroit Tigers' sixth straight setback by the Senators.

Buck, while giving five hits in five innings, wasn't altogether to blame for the defeat. His teammates collected only six hits off Steve Sundra and Alejandro Carrasquel. Tuck Stainback contributed two of the Tigers' safeties, a triple and double.

Bob Uhle, who finished the game for Detroit, also fared badly, walking two and hitting two others while yielding three safeties. Score:

Detroit [A.]...........000 020 000—2 6 2
Washington [A.].....020 010 10*—4 10 3

Batteries—Newson, Uhle and Sullivan, Tebbetts; Sundra, Carrasquel and Ferrell, Evans.

A.'S, 8; PIRATES, 7.

Clovis, N. M., April 8 (AP).—Philadelphia's Athletics took their fourth straight game from Pittsburgh today, 8 to 7, a five run Pirate rally in the ninth falling one short of a tie.

Benny McCoy's third inning single with the bases loaded sparked a three run uprising that started the A's to victory. Freddy Chapman, up from Toronto, slammed a homer in the eighth with two Athletic mates aboard to help clinch the contest.

Philadelphia [A] ...003 001 040—8 6 1
Pittsburgh [N].......010 000 015—7 5 2

Batteries—Shirley, Vaughan, Ferrick, and Wagner; Clemensen, Wilkie and Lopez.

INDIANS, 11; GIANTS, 8.

Pulaski, Va., April 8 (AP).—A wild eighth inning gave the Cleveland Indians nine runs and an 11 to 8 triumph over the New York Giants today.

The Indians were eight runs behind when Hal Schumacher started to weaken in the seventh and permitted two runs on Jeff Heath's triple, Gene Desautels' double, an infield out and a wild pitch. A single, double, triple and seven walks, yielded by Schumacher and Johnny Wittig, relief pitcher, accounted for the Indians' nine runs in the eighth.

New York [N.].....601 100 000— 8 14 0
Cleveland [A.]......000 000 29*—11 14 0

Battries—Schumacher, Wittig and Hartnett; Milner, Jungels, Brown and Desautels.

CARDS WIN AGAIN.

Waco, Tex., April 8 (AP).—Rapped for only six hits, Morton Cooper became the fourth member of the Cardinal pitching staff to go the route this spring, beating the Dallas Rebels, 11 to 1, today. The Texas leaguers' score came on Grey Clarke's home run in the third inning. Martin Marion, Ernie Koy and Johnny Hopp hit homers for St. Louis.

It was the Red Birds' 10th straight triumph. Score:

St. Louis [N]......010 151 003—11 16 0
Dallas [TL] ....001 000 000— 1 6 0

Batteries—Cooper and Padgett; Maltzberger, Demoran, and Cronin.

BEES, 7; BROWNS, 6.

Wichita, Kas., April 8 (AP).—Max West's seventh inning home run with two on base gave the Boston Bees a 7 to 6 victory over the St. Louis Browns today and evened their spring series at eight games each.

The Browns had taken a 6 to 4 lead in their half inning when Johnny Lucadello hit a homer with the bases loaded. Walt Judnich and Elden Auker also hit home runs for the Browns and Gene Moore for Boston. Score:

St. Louis [A] ......001 100 400—6 9 0
Boston [N] ....013 000 30*—7 13 1

Batteries—Errickson and Berres; Auker, Allen, Newlin and Swift.

PHILLIES WIN, 5 TO 1.

Columbia, S. C., April 8 (AP).—The veteran Si Johnson pitched three hit ball for seven innings, and Bill Nagle hit a two run homer today to enable the Phillies to defeat the Columbia Reds of the Sally league, 5 to 1. Score:

Philadelphia [N.]....021 000 011—5 8 0
Columbia [Sal.]......000 010 000—1 5 2

Batteries—Johnson, Pearson and Livingston; Erickson, Peer, Philips, and Rice.

P. G. A. SETS UP HONOR ROLL FOR SERVICE TO GOLF

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Golf, like baseball, now has its Hall of Fame, according to an announcement yesterday by Tom Walsh, president of the Professional Golfers' Association of America. Two amateurs—Robert T. Jones Jr. and Francis Ouimet—and two professionals—Walter Hagen and Gene Sarazen—comprise the first foursome to be honored for their fairway deeds. They were named by a special committee of veteran golf writers, working in conjunction with sports editors and golf writers thruout the country. The committee includes Grantland Rice, chairman; O. B. Keeler, A. Linde Fowler, and Kerr Petrie.

Walsh stated that each year two more golfers' names will be added to the honor roll, which will have a permanent location in the Augusta National Golf club, annual site of the recent Masters' tournament. James M. Cox Sr., former governor of Ohio and one time Presidential candidate, is chairman of the committee which will decide the nature of the tablet or roster which the members of the P. G. A. Hall of Fame will be inscribed.

Two more players will be chosen each year. The only qualifications for membership will be residence in the United States of America, regardless of birthplace. Women as well as men will be eligible, and playing skill will not be the only point of entrance, since others who have contributed outstanding service to the game also will be honored. The section committee will have complete jurisdiction over all annual choices.

The Chicago Athletic association will conduct its annual golf clinic, oldest in the city, for association members and their guests in the club gymnasium on Saturday afternoon. Each spring the CAA has put on these exhibitions by leading professionals as preseason incentive for golf minded members of the association.

Saturday's program will begin at 2:15 p. m. It will include Lawson Little, National Open champion; Dick Metz of Oak Park, winner of the Chicago Open title last summer; Johnny Revolta of Evanston; Horton Smith of Oak Park, and Jerry Cooke, the CAA's own professional. Herb Graffis will be master of ceremonies.

Other changes in these parts include Marty Walsh, brother of National PGA. President Tom, who takes the late Elmer Biggs' post at the Country club of Peoria; Bill Brown, former assistant to Chuck Tanis at Olympia Fields, and Robert Ledger, who has been Fred Gleim's assistant at Shoreacres. Brown takes the Aurora post vacated by the death of Spencer Meister, while Ledger goes to the Deerpath club in Lake Forest. Terry McGovern, who has been stationed at Deerpath, will drop out of golf for the summer months at least, in order to recover from an illness which hospitalized him for four months last fall and winter. Joe Wallace has signed as pro at Acacia.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Chicago District Golf association was held last night in the La Salle hotel.

NORTHWESTERN LOSES, 10-8, TO LOUISIANA STATE

Baton Rouge, La., April 8 [Special]. — Northwestern University's baseball team lost the final game of the series to Louisiana State, 10 to 8, today after surrendering an early lead. Purple pitchers gave 11 walks and yielded 11 hits to account for the LSU win.

Bruno Gargas, sophomore catcher, and Irv Madsen, third baseman, got the only extra base hits for the Wildcats. Northwestern scored six times in the second on De Correvont's single, Madsen's double, and singles by Gargas, Erdlitz, and McKinnon. Score:

Louisiana State......013 301 02*—10 11 4

Batteries—Schofield, Ports, Arnold and Gargas; Broussard and McDowell.

Pressnell Is Important in Cubs' Plans

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Lubbock, Tex., April 8.—Tot Pressnell, quietest Cub in memory of man, is slated to make a big stir in Cub pitching plans for 1941. The 33 year old Ohioan has been around a lot, but never in his major league career has he had a job just like the one he's going to have under Jimmy Wilson. He's to be used exclusively as a reliever according to present plans.

Tot Pressnell.

Pressnell enters the season as a .500 pitcher. He has won 26 and lost 26 as a National league caster, but from now on his efficiency will be rated mostly on the number of games he saves rather than the one he wins.

Five Years with Brewers—Then Up.

Since Pressnell broke into organized baseball with Wichita Falls of the Texas league in 1930, he has spent five years with Milwaukee—1933, '34, '35, '36, and '37. His best years there were 1936, in which he won 19 and lost 9, and 1937, when he won 18 and lost 12.

In 1938, Tot, whose real name is Forest, went to Brooklyn and won 11 and lost 14. In 1939 at Brooklyn he won 9 and lost 7. Despite his better than .500 mark in 1939 with the Dodgers and a mark of 6 victories to 6 defeats in 1940, Tot was optioned to Louisville Aug. 2, 1940, but he was recalled at the end of last season.

He Travels Plenty in the Off Season.

He was sold to the St. Louis Cardinals last Nov. 19, and on Dec. 16 was sold by the Cards to the Cincinnati Reds. The Cubs bought him last Feb. 4. Thus since he last pitched a major league game he has belonged to half of the teams in the National league.

Pressnell's main stock in trade is a wicked knuckle ball, but he has a full assortment of stuff. For many years the Cubs haven't had an able reliever assigned exclusively to emergency duty. Maybe Tot will be the Mace Brown of the Cubs. Charley Root and a few others sincerely hope so.

ILLINOIS WHIPS BRADLEY, 7 TO 1, IN HOME OPENER

Champaign, Ill., April 8 [Special]. —Illinois defeated Bradley Tech this afternoon, 7 to 1, to open its home baseball season.

Paul Milosevich, Illini first baseman, collected four hits in five times at bat and drove in four runs. His triple in the seventh accounted for three runs.

Capt. Al Grant started for the winners, and pitched four innings. He yielded only three hits, all singles.

Chuck Campbell, sophomore, went the rest of the way and was never seriously threatened. Score:

Bradley ....001 000 000—1 4 5
Illinois ....003 001 30*—7 10 2

Batteries—Wallin, Homyk, Koch and Case; Grant, Campbell and Brewer.

LOMBARDI LOSES $300.

4 Classic League Squads Tune Up for ABC Event

BY C. H. BEUKEMA.

Bowlers on four Classic league teams, the Monarch, Pabst, Koenig, and Schlitz beer fives, will tune up for the last time previous to their American Bowling congress competition when the Classic rolls tonight at De Luxe recreation, 2606 West North avenue. The Pabsts meet Schlitz, Monarchs oppose Michelob, Koenigs meet Rupperts, and Ambrosias bowl Blatz. . . . While the champion Monarchs are to command the most of the attention at the ABC tournament Friday night, Waukegan also will have a big following there. Ten Waukegan teams are scheduled on the 11 o'clock squad. The Waukegan delegation of 61 leaves Friday morning.

The 10th annual Holland-American tournament, a doubles and singles event, will be held May 2, 3, 6, 9, and 10 at Legion recreation, 7550 South Cottage Grove avenue. Post entries before midnight April 29. H. J. Buikema, 7352 South Sangamon street, is secretary. Telephone Aberdeen 7128. . . . Loyola Men's Shop defeated the Brown Derby team, 2,983 pins to 2,708, in a match at Playdium. Howard Mills of the winners rolled 227, 237, 253—717, while Dave Cohen got 663 and Louis Omens, 632.

Eli Maricich came up with 633 and Ray Dickover with 631 as the Health Department won the odd game from the Gills in the City and County Employés league. . . . Detloff Florals dropped two matches over the weekend. They lost three to the Kruse Service stations in a Greater Chicago Traveling league match Saturday and were beaten, 2,859 to 2,760, by the Desplaines Bowling Palace five Sunday.

Reservations must be in by April 19 and entries close two days later for Petersen's 26th singles classic, eight games across 16 alleys, to be run May 7-11 at Palace recreation, Detroit. The estimated prize list, based on 16 squads, will total $12,800, including $2,000 and a diamond medal for the winner.

Bruins Rally in 3d Period to Top Wings, 2-1

up the decisive play, Conacher was heading for the bench, for the Bruins had attempted to change forwards on the fly. Conacher wheeled around and raced with Schmidt and his speed carried him well inside the lone Detroit defenseman.

The sides did not regain full strength until the last minute when the Wings tried to force matters by yanking Goalie Mowers and throwing six forwards into a futile closing drive.

The Bruins opened this best four out of seven cup series here Sunday with a 3 to 2 victory. Immediately after tonight's game, both teams left for Detroit where the third game of the series will be played Thursday.

SLUM MEASURE REPORT DELAYED IN LEGISLATURE

Minority Group to Seek Amendments.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Springfield, Ill., April 8.—A subcommittee of the Illinois house of representatives today postponed its final report on the pending neighborhood redevelopment corporation bill. A majority of the seven committee members was ready to report out the bill with a recommendation that it be passed, but held up action when minority objections were raised.

Representative Jenkins

Representative Charles J. Jenkins [R., Chicago] obtained the delay. He asked for time to prepare amendments intended to meet objections of colored groups to the measure as it is now written. Jenkins said he would consult with other colored leaders this week and would be prepared to submit his proposed amendments when the committee reconvenes April 15.

Sought to End Objections.

Sponsors of the bill sought to remove the objections of the colored groups by inserting in the bill a provision that the condemnation powers conferred by the measure would not be used to dispossess a predominant racial group in any redevelopment area. This proposal did not satisfy Jenkins.

Publicly regulated corporations would be given limited powers of condemnation under the proposed legislation. It has been impossible in the past to assemble sites for wide scale rebuilding in blighted areas because a few holdouts could block an entire project. A redevelopment corporation organized under the proposed act would have power to start condemnation proceeding against such holdouts after it had acquired 51 per cent of its building site.

Seeks at Least 2 Changes.

Jenkins indicated he would seek at least two amendments. One would contain an express declination against "race discrimination" by the redevelopment corporation. A second would require each corporation to set aside part of its development area for low cost housing.

The second proposal is expected to meet vigorous opposition from the sponsors of the bill. Representative Arthur W. Sprague [R., La Grange], chairman of the subcommittee, said the delay was taken to give all interests an opportunity to present their views. He expressed the belief that the final report would not be delayed more than a week.

Workers to Ask Pay Boost at Western Union Meeting

New York, April 8 (AP).—The American Communications association, affiliated with the CIO, announced today its representatives, armed with stockholders' proxies, would appear at the Western Union Telegraph company annual meeting tomorrow to demand a general wage increase. Amount of the wage increase to be sought was not disclosed.

COURT TOLD ROLE OF A COTTER KEY IN $750,000 FIRE

Appeal Rejects Packing House Damage Plea.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals in a decision yesterday reviewed a mass of evidence intended to show that a tiny cotter key that dropped out of a gadget on a big lift bridge caused fire damages of $750,000 to the Omaha Packing company.

The court affirmed a verdict of a federal District court jury holding that the packing company could not recover from three defendant railroads that own the bridge.

The bridge, of the vertical lift type, spans the south branch of the river west of Halsted street and near 19th street. The operating railroads are the Pensylvania, the Alton, and the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne, and Chicago.

Seven Levers Control Bridge.

Testimony showed that a bridge tender has to push seven levers to raise the bridge. But on Aug. 4, 1932, when a fire occurred in a nearby elevator and in the plant of the Omaha company, lever No. 3 wouldn't push. The bridge didn't lift. The fireboat Graeme Stewart couldn't get in to help extinguish the flames until it had been held up more than 30 minutes.

Several of the 107 witnesses for the packing concern testified that the proper functioning of each lever depended on the presence, somewhere in the bridge's vitals, of a brass pin two inches long and one-eight an inch in diameter.

They also testified the pin had dropped out because the cotter key wasn't there to hold it in place.

Fireboat Delay Cited.

In the District court trial, which lasted six weeks and ended Dec. 14, 1939, it was argued that the fire spread from the elevator and attacked the packing company property as a result of the delay of the fireboat. The railroads produced 47 witnesses to prove there had been no negligence.

Their testimony showed that the bridge was inspected each week and found to be in order and that it had been raised half an hour before the fireboat arrived. The jury held that this was sufficient to absolve the railroads.

Attorneys for a packing company appealed on the ground that Judge Charles W. Briggle, the trial judge, had erred in not informing the jury the missing cotter key was prima facie evidence of neglect. The opinion of the appeals court, written by Judge J. Earl Major and concurred in by Judges Will M. Sparks and Robert C. Baltzell, held that "in view of the circumstances the absence of the cotter key does not justify the creation of a legal inference of negligence."

Nebraska Natural Gas Company Sale Approved

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Sale of the Nebraska Natural Gas company of Topeka, Kas., to the Kansas Pipe Line and Gas company of Phillipsburg, Kas., for $1,700,000 was authorized today by the Federal Power commission.

REALTORS SEEK NEW REVISIONS IN ZONING LAW

Cook county's zoning ordinance, adopted last August, already is under pressure of real estate subdividers, builders, and others who seek to have the size of residential lots reduced and to have speculative business frontage in certain areas enlarged.

This was learned yesterday when the Cook County Zoning Board of Appeals announced that two public hearings would be held tomorrow on the question of allowing the use of smaller lots than the zoning ordinance permits.

In both instances hearings already have been held and the zoning board upheld by the county board of commissioners in its recommendation not to permit violations of the ordinance.

The new hearings were requested by E. H. Klode, who owns land near Irving Park road and Oriole street, and J. E. Merrion, who owns property near 113th street and Kedzie avenue.

Gold Imports Increase, but Run Below Average

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Gold imports rose to $15,814,060 in the week ended April 2—double the preceding week, but below recent averages. Australia displaced Canada as the chief shipper with $6,247,266. Canadian gold totaled $3,635,864. Silver imports dropped to $620,613, the lowest in weeks. Gold deposited in federal reserve banks under earmark for foreign account increased $648,405 to a total of $1,906,425,966.

OIL INDUSTRY GAINS DESPITE EXPORT LOSSES

E.G.Seubert Reports on 1940 Situation.

Edward G. Seubert, president of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana, yesterday sent stockholders the annual report on the $756,000,000 Chicago petroleum enterprise covering progress made in 1940. His remarks covered broad conditions in the industry as well as the details of his own company's operations. Previously the company's 1940 profit was reported at $33,597,342, equal to $2.20 a share, compared with $34,142,642, or $2.24 a share in 1939.

E. G. Seubert.

Highspots in Seubert's comments on the position of the petroleum industry for 1940 included the following:

1. The industry was able to increase its total business 2.4 per cent despite a sharp decrease in export trade.

Oil Reserves Increased.

2. Reserves of crude oil increased again as more oil was produced than the refineries required. Larger supplies of the various products were manufactured than the markets could absorb, resulting in an increase of about 7.2 per cent in inventory stocks.

3. Prices were generally lower, with motor fuel prices reaching new low levels for all years except 1933. Exceptions were kerosense, fuel oils, and lubricating oils.

Seubert said that sales of the Standard of Indiana group of companies increased 3.3 per cent to 125,298,000 barrels and a value of $349,618,000, without excise taxes which amounted to an additional $95,799,000.

Expenditures in 1940 on the company's properties totaled $48,000,000, of which $20,500,000 was for production facilities, $9,000,000 for pipe lines, $8,000,000 for manufacturing facilities, $9,000,000 for improvement in marketing facilities, and $1,500,000 for marine equipment.

Plan New Improvements.

Commenting on the improvements made to the company's manufacturing facilities during 1940, Seubert said that "plans are in the making for even greater undertakings in 1941 in connection with our constant effort to keep our refineries in the forefront of technical progress."

"Chemical science is continuing to disrupt old refining methods and to stimulate better and cheaper products," he said. "Our research and development organization has grown with this trend and further laboratory facilities are currently being provided. We have continued to improve the quality of our gasolines. Improved lubricating oils have been an outstanding development of the year."

Seubert disclosed that the company constructed 166 miles of 12 inch pipe line from La Plata, Mo., to the refinery at Wood River, Ill. Another construction was 134 miles of line from Ellis county to Washington, Kas., to provide another outlet for East Kansas crude oil to the company's main line from the west. Among the lines considered for 1941 is one from Whiting, Ind., to Indianapolis.

Reports Land Holdings.

On Dec. 31, 1940, the company owned or held under lease 3,115,058 acres compared with 2,164,585 at the end of 1939. These properties included

Chicago Mill & Lumber Co. Profits Gain

The Chicago Mill and Lumber company, producer of hardwood lumber and wooden boxes, realized substantial gains in sales and earnings during the March quarter, R. L. McClelland, president, reported yesterday.

Net income for the period totaled $433,431 before provisions for federal income and excess profits taxes, compared with $143,006 on the same basis in the corresponding quarter of 1940. McClelland said that the sales volume for the quarter was nearly 52 per cent higher than sales in the corresponding period of 1940.

For the 12 months ended March 31, net income before federal income and excess profits taxes amounted to $1,164,170, against $286,012 in the preceding 12 months.

Sales Volume Rising.

"The volume of our sales continues to increase due to larger demand for our products from our regular customers and to armament orders now being received," McClelland said in a letter to stockholders.

He reminded stockholders of a special meeting set for April 21 to consider a proposal for increasing the company's capital stock to 234,970 shares without par value. McClelland said that under the proposed amendment five new shares of capital stock would be issued in exchange for each share outstanding, without any change in the capital, surplus, or the pro rata stock ownership of the stockholders.

Aviation corporation reported net income of $198,093 equal to 4 cents a share, for the quarter ended Feb. 28, compared with a net loss of $196,447 for the same period a year earlier. Unfilled orders as of Feb. 28 amounted to $17,602,312, against $4,131,000 a year ago.

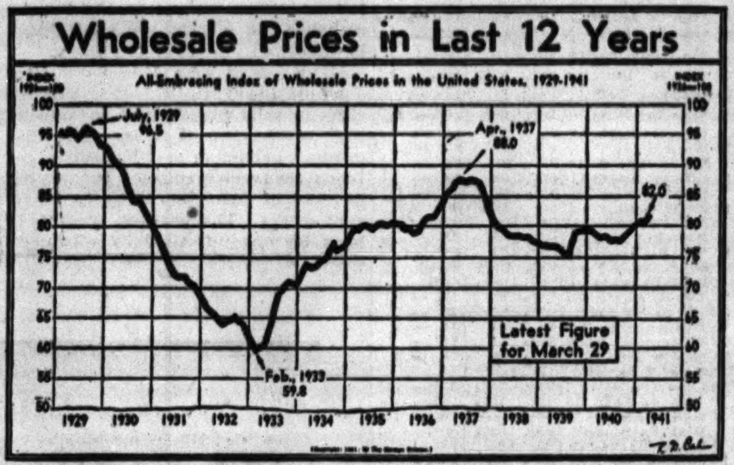
COMMONWEALTH & SOUTHERN SEC HEARING MAY 1

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—The securities commission declared today the corporate structure of Commonwealth and Southern corporation was "unnecessarily complicated" and ordered hearings to determine how it can be simplified.

Commonwealth and Southern already has been cited by the commission for geographical integration of its system. The corporation recently objected to SEC plans to confine it to a single geographical area and announced intentions to contest any such rulings in the courts.

Pure Oil Company Boosts Buying Price in Illinois

Olney, Ill., April 8 (AP).—The Pure Oil company's oil purchasing division, principal buyer of crude oil in this area, announced that its purchase price had been increased to $1.22 per barrel, retroactive to 7 a. m., April 1. Last week the company boosted its purchase price to $1.20 per barrel, an increase of five cents.



Plan Goldblatt Expansion in Retail Field

BY AL CHASE.

Maurice Goldblatt, president of Goldblatt Brothers, Inc., yesterday announced the formation of a new division of the company to operate community department stores on a cash and carry basis in an area extending 500 miles from Chicago.

Nathan Goldblatt, president of Goldblatt Brothers Gold Bond Department Stores, Inc., a corporation formed to carry out the expansion program, said that if the new idea in merchandising is as successful as expected, operations will be extended to include the entire country.

Carry General Merchandise.

The new type of store will carry a general line of merchandise usually handled in department stores with the exception of groceries and heavy furniture. The stores will be mostly one story and basement buildings with some units two stories in height, and will average 35,000 square feet in floor space, Nathan Goldblatt said.

The first unit of the four or five contemplated for operation during the next six months is being built in Milwaukee at South 13th street and Forest Home avenue. A second unit, and the only one so far contemplated for Chicago, will be built in the Belmont-Central avenue area, Nathan Goldblatt said.

May Open 300 Stores.

"If the program goes over the way we anticipate we'll open two or three hundred new stores thruout the country" he said. "For the present we'll confine ourselves to a radius of 500 miles from Chicago. We expect to open stores in cities of 25,000 or more population."

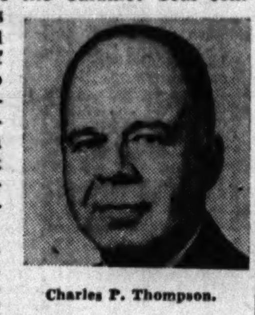
The newly incorporated division of Goldblatt Brothers has Philip H. Fisher as vice president and general merchandise manager. Henry Appelbaum is secretary and treasurer of the division and will be in charge of operation of the new stores.

Average Policyholder's Security 'Holdings' Told

New York, April 8 (AP).—The Institute of Life Insurance announced today that the average life insurance policyholder, with his insurance assets of $473, owns indirectly thru his policy: Industrial, utility, and transportation securities worth $147; mortgages and real estate worth $121; United States government bonds worth $93; state, county, and municipal bonds worth $30.

CHARLES P. THOMPSON RE-ELECTED PRESIDENT OF COAL MERCHANTS

Charles P. Thompson, president and treasurer of the Calumet Coal company, was reëlected president of the Chicago Coal Merchants' association last night at the Chicago Athletic club.



Charles P. Thompson.

Thompson has been an officer or director of the coal association for the last six years. He is a director of the South Chicago Savings bank and the South Chicago YMCA and a member of the Flossmoor Country club and the Chicago Athletic association.

Among the other officers reëlected were Charles J. Holland, first vice president; Fred J. Holdsworth, second vice president; Raymond H. James, third vice president; Frank J. Donovan, secretary, and Joseph D. Biety, treasurer. James D. Rooney is executive vice president. Four new directors elected for two year terms were Frank G. Reed, Elmer J. Anderson, Sidney Klein, and John J. McEnerney.

The coal association has 215 members which handle about 86 per cent of the retail business in Chicago.

ARMS SPENDING RISES ABOVE 30 MILLIONS DAILY

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Almost daily mounting armament costs have pushed federal expenditures above 9 billion dollars for the fiscal year which began last July. Since then the government has spent $9,034,597,748, of which $3,802,896,576 was for armaments, treasury figures showed today.

The proportion of total federal expenditures devoted to military purposes has been rising rapidly, and in the first five days of April about 66 per cent of all the spending was for armaments and at a rate in excess of $30,000,000 a day. If this rate is maintained the defense expenditures this month alone may aggregate nearly a billion dollars.

Receipts so far in the fiscal year were $5,466,785,795, leaving a deficit of $3,567,811,953.

President Roosevelt told a press conference today the treasury had put out $1,800,000,000 in cash for armament purposes in the first three months of 1941, against $1,400,000,000 in the last six months of 1940.

STEEP DECLINE ENDS DEADLOCK IN HOG MARKET

Trading was deadlocked for two hours in the Chicago hog market yesterday as farmers demanded that packers boost prices in line with a recently announced government goal of $9.00 a hundred pounds. When the deadlock was broken, prices tumbled 25 to 35 cents, canceling about half of Monday's gains.

The stalemate was blamed on the government's failure to state when buying of pork products would begin, and in what quantities the purchases would be made toward lifting the value of the live product to the $9.00 level.

Commission men and farmers who accompanied their shipments to market insisted that packers pay $9.00 and hold the product until the promised government purchases begin.

Not Warranted, Say Packers.

Packers, however, declared that regular commercial channels were not absorbing pork on that price basis. They asserted that until the government is more specific about its plans, or places large orders for pork on a $9.00 live cost basis, they would base their purchases on supply and demand factors, as usual.

Many farmers admitted they had misinterpreted the news from Washington. They said they believed hogs had already been "pegged" at $9.00 when top loads soared to $9.10 on Monday's sharp advance, and thought they would get this price for whatever hogs they brought in yesterday.

The supply in the open market, exclusive of shipments direct to packers, totaled 17,000 head, compared with 7,583 on Monday. Several thousand hogs were held off the market on orders from the country in hopes that the government might clear up the mystery within a day or two.

Top Falls to $8.75.

During the day the top hog price fell 35 cents, to $8.75 a hundred pounds. The average, including light and heavy hogs, declined 25 cents, to $8.50. This price still showed an advance of 95 cents over the low day of last week, and was $3.45 above the corresponding day a year ago.

Wholesale markets for fresh pork marked time pending further news on the federal pork buying program.

Top light loins sold at $18.00 wholesale, and the heaviest loins brought $14. The latter, at the peak of the January bulge, reached $16, while top light loins sold up to $20.

Wild price swings were reported in hog markets at other cities, with abnormal price spreads between various packing centers. Omaha, Neb., reported a top price of $9.00, that market retaining Monday's big gains, but St. Paul, Minn., sold the best loads at $8.25. Buffalo, N. Y., was high with $9.25. Pittsburgh, Pa., with $9.10, was the only other market selling hogs above $9.00.

Buy at Reduced Prices.

Large Chicago packers bought hogs freely at the reduced prices after the deadlock was broken, but some of the smaller packers remained out of the market.

Not much change occurred in the markets for other meat animals.

Packing houses under federal inspection slaughtered 3,904,400 hogs last month, the second largest total since 1928, department of agriculture figures showed yesterday. Live stock slaughtered in packing plants under federal inspection was reported as follows:

Wood Obtains Control of Car Firm Board, Fails to Oust Head

Gen. Robert E. Wood, chairman of the board of Sears, Roebuck & Co., last night gained control of the board of directors of North American Car corporation, but failed to oust President L. H. S. Roblee from the board as he had proposed.

Gen. R. E. Wood.

Stockholders at their annual meeting elected William M. Spencer, Chicago, and Ernest L. Nye, New York, to the board, and dropped R. M. Jenkins, Orleans, Ind., as sought by Wood, but voted to retain Roblee. Charles S. Davis, who supported the management in the battle with Wood, was the other defeated candidate.

Both Solicited Proxies.

Proxies had been solicited both by the management and by Wood, who obtained the majority. Roblee, Charles G. Frank, and R. C. Jenkins were reëlected thru the concentration of votes by the management. The Wood group obtained the addition of Spencer and Nye and the reëlection of Wood and N. L. Howard.

Wood declared he had no plan for the sale or consolidation of the company and that any reports to that effect were entirely false. He made the statement in reply to a question by D. Bligh Grasett, Winnetka, one of the stockholders who had protested methods allegedly used by Wood and his committee in soliciting proxies prior to the meeting.

The management group was understood to have charged that Wood planned to sell out the company to General American Transportation corporation, its chief competitor in the leasing of tank, refrigerator, and poultry cars.

Refuses to Answer.

At another phase of the meeting, which was recessed in the afternoon to the evening to permit counting of proxies, Wood refused to answer what he termed an "impertinent question." John H. Ellis, a stockholder who has sought a Securities and Exchange commission investigation of the proxy battle, asked him why he had not taken up his proposed changes with the old board.

Wood said he had stated his case in his letter to stockholders. In that he had declared that the company's record of the last few years has not been satisfactory and that his interest in the matter was that "of securing the election of a board of directors which, in my opinion, will best serve the interests of the company and all of the stockholders."

Cites Increase in Earnings.

Defending the record of the company in his talk to stockholders before the recess, Roblee said that "operations for the year 1940 were the most profitable the company has experienced since 1931." He then cited figures to show that the earnings had risen from $71,500 in 1936, when he was elected president, to $420,000 last year.

Explaining that the preferred dividends were $46.50 in arrears at the end of 1940, Roblee said that the company, now that its refinancing is completed, is "in a position to work out a practical plan for disposition of these dividend accumulations." He added that he was "confident a plan would be submitted to stockholders in the very near future."

SEC BID RULING IS PROTESTED BY BANKER LEADER

Fort Worth, Tex., April 8 (AP).—The ruling of the Securities and Exchange commission, requiring competitive bidding on new utility issues, brought a protest today from Emmett F. Connely of Detroit, Mich., president of the Investment Bankers Association of America.

Connely, attending the seventh annual meeting of the Texas group of the I. B. A., declared the effect of the ruling may be disastrous to the smaller firms or dealers who make up the machinery of distribution.

"It was opposed strongly by a preponderant majority of firms thruout the country," he said. "It is not necessary, in our opinion, to accomplish the purposes of congress for the protection of utility companies and the investing and consuming public."

600 MILLIONS OF RFC NOTES, SUBJECT TO TAX, PUT ON MARKET

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—The treasury offered $600,000,000 of notes for sale today on behalf of the Reconstruction Finance corporation. Investors had a choice between two types of notes. The treasury offered $300,000,000 of ⅞ of one per cent RFC notes maturing in approximately 1½ years, and $300,000,000 of 1⅛ per cent RFC notes maturing in about 2¼ years.

The notes will be the first issued by the RFC which will be fully subject to federal taxes under recent legislation The RFC will use most of the proceeds in connection with its financing of armament projects, but about $175,000,000 was expected to go to the treasury for capital it furnished in earlier years.

GENERAL MOTORS GETS ADDITIONAL BIG NAVY ORDERS

Contracts totaling $56,440,000 were awarded by the navy yesterday. The General Motors corporation was given a $7,650,000 order for 18 submarine chasers, a $12,324,000 order for 158 sets of Diesel engine-driven generators for mine sweepers, $8,841,000 for propelling machinery for 70 motor mine sweepers, and $12,100,000 for propelling machinery for 20 large mine sweepers.

PREPARE NOW FOR POSTWAR ILLS—SLOAN

Discusses Present, Future Problems.

Declaring that altho America's first objective now is "to win the war and not lose the peace," Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the board of the General Motors corporation, last night said that this nation must nevertheless consider how it can best meet the postwar problems. He spoke before the Economic club of Chicago at the Palmer House.

"It appears inevitable," he said, "that when the present defense synthetic activity ceases at the end of the war we will have a lower standard of living, a lower purchasing power. It is up to us to prepare for this period now. Here is what we in General Motors are doing:

"I have set the end of the present world situation arbitrarily at 1944. With this in mind I have asked every one of our operating executives to study his operations from the standpoint of the development of his plant with the very latest instruments of production. Each must consider the development of additional products.

Seek Proper Prices.

"Then each executive must study his existing products with a view to redesigning them so as to eliminate all unnecessary materials and labors. We want to retain quality and eye appeal, but we must produce our goods at prices people will be able to afford."

Sloan said that all industry must have new and better instruments of production so as to create products which will be able to absorb the workers released from armament activity.

One of the gravest threats arising from the impact of the preparedness program on national economy is an inflation caused by higher wages. Increases in wages, such as many labor leaders are now demanding, he said, must inevitably result in spiraling prices, leading to inflation such as existed at the close of world war.

"Inflation is the worst economic disease for it takes the most from those who have the least," he declared.

View on Taxation.

Sloan said that government must help by eliminating taxes which punish industry at the end of the emergency. Taxes which permit business to operate at a profit will enable business to undertake projects which will give men work.

Sloan said the present endeavor to control prices of materials at the source is one satisfactory instrument for controling an inflationary tendency.

One of the most important problems before us, he said, is to superimpose peacetime demands on the preparedness effort. The rising activity caused by the armament program in itself increases the demand for peacetime goods. He said he favored the imposition of purchase taxes on certain goods so as to provide a check on production which will make possible a supply of armament raw materials. He declared he is opposed to arbitrary governmental restrictions.

Business Loans on a Personal Basis

The experience of this bank—the former Personal Loan & Savings Bank—has peculiarly qualified it to treat with small commercial and business concerns—individuals, partnerships, corporations—where credit accommodation may be determined upon personal and other intangible considerations.

We invite inquiries from what are popularly referred to as "the small business man," who may need lines of credit for seasonal or other commercial uses.

BONDS GET BIG PRICE SETBACK ON WAR NEWS

New York, April 8 (AP).—Rails and some industrial and utility bonds tumbled today in one of the biggest setbacks the market has experienced in months.

Many issues were 1 to more than 4 points lower at the close. The decline in rails wiped out a substantial part of the recent advance in that group, particularly obligations of roads in receivership or in varying degrees of financial difficulty in recent years. The market seemed to have become unsettled by war news from the Balkans.

International Hydro Electric broke more than 4 points to 44½. Southern Railway 4s were off 2½ at 60½, Missouri-Kansas-Texas 5s down 2¼ at 25⅛ and New York Central 5s off nearly 2 at 65¼.

United States government loans moved up a bit for a time, then eased in late dealings. Final prices in the over-the-counter market, where trading continued after the close of the stock exchange, were mostly down a shade in the treasury list, traders said.

British empire issues slipped, resulting in losses of a point or more in Australia 4½s of 1956, and Canada 4s of 1960.

GERMANS FAIL TO SHIP U. S. CASH DURING MARCH

New York, April 8 [Special].—For the first time in five months, Germany sent no shipments of United States currency here in March, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York disclosed today.

Receipts from foreign sources during the month amounted to $720,000, compared with $630,000 in February. Exports in March were $415,000, against $1,810,000.

From November to February, Germany sent substantial amounts of United States currency here.

Day by Day on the Farm

By GAIL COMPTON

Farrowing Time Near.

April 8, 1941.

PREPARATIONS are under way at the Fox river farm for the spring litters of pigs. Fifty-four brood sows are expected to start farrowing in the next three or four weeks.

A strict program of swine sanitation is followed on the farm, and it pays big dividends in pigs saved each year. The farrowing houses have been cleaned and aired. Every crack and corner was sprayed with a creosote disinfectant.

As farrowing time nears a careful watch is kept over the sows. They are placed in individual pens. Before entering the pens each sow is scrubbed and washed to prevent her taking any dirt or barn lot diseases in with her.

Stay Inside for 8 Weeks.

The young pigs will be vaccinated and castrated at the proper times, and when about eight weeks old they will be moved outdoors. The sows and litters will go into individual or community type hog houses that have been dragged out to clean pasture. New ground is important in giving the new pigs a good start, as old lots are likely to be infected.

The young pigs probably will be fed in a creep as soon as they are old enough to take food. This method of feeding serves to promote rapid growth and fattens the pigs at the same time. The farm manager's aim is to produce 220 pound hogs in five and a half or six months.

The brood sows and litters are kept as far from the cattle feed lots as possible in order to avoid the possibility of any diseases being interchanged. There is a chance that contagious abortion may spread between the two if it breaks loose. Each day, while in the farrowing pens, the sows and pigs are given clean straw, and the old straw goes out to the fields to be plowed into the ground.

Alfalfa in Good Shape.

In checking up on his fall seedlings the farm manager has found that 40 acres of his alfalfa have come thru the winter in good shape. Another 40 acres is doubtful, but it is a little early to be certain just how the field came out. He fears there may be some damage due to the young growth heaving out of the ground from alternate freezing and thawing.

More new Aberdeen Angus calves are arriving all the time, and this year's crop of calves is expected to be the best the farm has seen. The farm manager is planning to sell some of the bull calves later on when they have grown out more. Out of the first 21 to arrive, 11 were heifers and 10 were bull calves.

FUTURES PRICES OF COMMODITIES TURN DOWNWARD

Affected by Stock Market Dip and War News.

Commodities for future delivery went into a broad decline yesterday with only cocoa and domestic sugar barely able to pull away from the trend. Traders attributed the drop to selling promoted by weakness in securities and disquieting war reports. Hides, rubber, tin, and cottonseed oil had losses ranging to nearly ½ cent a pound.

Hides, recently a buyers' favorite, sagged 0.35 to 0.44 cent a pound to 13.75 cents in the June delivery but the cash market remained steady. Cottonseed oil lost 0.20 to 0.22 cent a pound, with a reversal in hogs and lard adding to the selling pressure. The May position closed at 8.37 cents bid.

Sugar Little Changed.

Domestic sugar futures finished 0.01 cent higher to the same fraction lower on a light turnover. The staple lately has suffered from an idle cash raw market, but yesterday's meager show of strength was based on the trade theory that refiners soon will be inquiring for the raw product, it was said.

Rubber futures were unchanged to 0.30 cent a pound lower at 22 cents for the May position and the cash quotation was unchanged. Silk declined 1 to 2½ cents a pound to $2.76 bid for May futures, while the cash market advanced 1½ cent. Wool tops dropped 0.6 to 0.8 cent a pound to $1.24 bid for May contracts and the cash market was easier. Santos coffee futures were moderately lower.

Copper futures closed unchanged to 0.05 cent lower at 11:30 cents a pound for the May delivery. Tin fell back 0.20 to 0.25 cent a pound. There were no lead futures sales. Cash metals, with the exception of a fractional weakness in tin, held firm.

Magnetic Field of Steel Enlarged by New Process

Dr. L. W. Chubb explains process.

The development of a new process that enlarges the magnetic field in steel used for the operation of electrical machinery was announced yesterday by the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company.

Known as "hipersil," the new material, which is a type of silicon steel, was described as a technical advancement that will aid in conserving steel and copper supplies needed in armament production. Company officials said that the development involved a research expense of $2,000,000 and nine years of work by research engineers at Westinghouse and the American Rolling Mill company.

Explains New Process.

Dr. L. W. Chubb, director of the Westinghouse Research laboratories, said the process had produced "an entirely different magnetic material which has opened new possibilities at a time when the usefulness of previous magnetic steels had been almost completely exploited." He explained that the process lines up the crystals of steel in such a manner that they can carry one-third more magnetic flux, or "magnetism," in one path.

"This discovery is comparable in importance to finding a way to make copper wire carry one-third more electricity without stepping up the voltage, or a pipe that would carry one-third more water without increasing the pressure," Dr. Chubb said.

Savings Are Effected.

The company reported that the Westinghouse transformed division at Sharon, Pa., has been using the new material for cores in transformers in residential districts where electric power of 2,400 volts on the power lines has to be cut down to 120 volts for home use. It was said the material also will be used for all other types of transformers in the future.

Savings in copper and high grade steel alloy of more than 5,000 tons a year can be realized when the company uses "hipersil" for all its transformers, officials estimated. The use of the new material, it was said, also will reduce the weight of transformers, eliminate part of the transformer hum, and speed up the manufacture of transformers 10 to 20 per cent. Westinghouse's executive offices are in Pittsburgh, Pa.

JUSTIN W. DART NAMED TO UNITED AIR LINES' BOARD

Justin W. Dart.

Justin W. Dart, general manager of the Walgreen company, yesterday was elected a director of United Air Lines at the transport company's annual meeting of stockholders in Chicago.

W. A. Patterson, president, said that United's operating revenue for the first quarter of 1941 probably would top the similar period a year ago by 6 to 10 per cent. However, he added that principally because of higher overhead charges the net income would fall short of last year's level.

"The company has about 1,000 more employés than at this time last year and because of the current difficulty of obtaining trained personnel, the air line's staff cannot be cut down," Patterson said.

As a director of United Air Lines, Dart replaced William A. M. Burden, who resigned. Stockholders approved the board's action in establishing a retirement plan for employés, effective as of Jan. 1.

Continuation of material shortages has resulted in a decline in employment of the Glenn L. Martin company, Glenn L. Martin, president, informed stockholders at their meeting in Baltimore, Md.

Employment of this large producer of aircraft dropped to 16,480 as of April 7, from more than 17,000 a short time ago, he said. He said the company should have 20,000 men at work at present to fulfill its production schedule.

Charles J. Whipple, president of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, was elected a director of the Western Electric company at the annual meeting in New York City.

P. L. Jensen and H. S. Neyman were elected directors of the Utah Radio Products company, Chicago.

GEN. MOTORS MARCH AND QUARTER SALES SET ALL TIME PEAKS

New York, April 8 (AP).—General Motors corporation today reported sales of cars and trucks to consumers and dealers in March were the largest for any month on record.

Sales to consumers totaled 253,282 units, compared with 187,252 in February, and 174,625 in March, 1940. Sales to United States dealers totaled 226,592 units, against 208,214 in February and 181,066 a year ago.

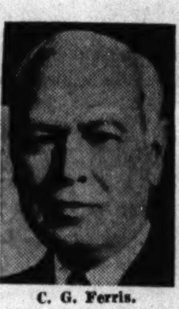
Sales to United States and Canadian dealers, including export shipments, increased to 247,683 units from 226,609 in February, and 193,522 in March last year.

Turnover in the first quarter also set a new peak for any quarter. Consumer sales in the first three months totaled 608,702 units, against 419,308 in 1940.

Sales to United States dealers increased to 653,384 from 506,449.

CHARGE SEAWAY PLAN ENDS U. S. RULE OVER LAKE

Project Fought by Trade Group in Illinois.



C. G. Ferris.

Control over diversion of waters from Lake Michigan at Chicago or elsewhere will be surrendered by the United States if the proposed St. Lawrence seaway agreement with Canada is finally authorized, C. G. Ferris, executive vice president of the Illinois Chamber of Commerce, declared yesterday.

"Any diversion at Chicago in excess of the 1,500 second feet now allowed clearly would be subject to the authority of the international tribunal contemplated in the agreement," Ferris said. "It is possible the present rate of diversion may be reduced by the tribunal."

He said the pending agreement provides that "if any diversion of water from Lake Michigan other or greater in amount than diversions permitted in either of the countries on Jan. 1, 1940, is authorized, an international tribunal shall have final authority."

Opposed by Illinois.

"Illinois heretofore has uniformly opposed all proposals to deprive congress of control over Lake Michigan, or to in any way lodge jurisdiction in an international tribunal," he said.

Ferris said that when the United States entered into a treaty with Canada in 1909, dealing with the waters of the Great Lakes, the negotiators refused to permit the internationalization of Lake Michigan. Canada claimed no rights over Lake Michigan then, he said, and has no powers now. But the pending agreement "proposes both to invest Canada with rights and to clothe it with powers."

"The proposal that congress now surrender to Canada, thru an international tribunal, any share in control over Lake Michigan that could interfere with increasing diversion beyond the present rate, disregards altogether the interests of Chicago and Illinois," he said.

Early Completion Asked.

Washington, D. C., April 8 (AP).—Early completion of the St. Lawrence seaway was recommended by the national resources planning board in a report to congress published today.

The "strategic location" of the Great Lakes area "with respect not only to domestic population but also as a safe place for industry," the board said, "demands the early completion of the St. Lawrence canal to permit the navigation of ocean commerce to Great Lakes ports."

OIL INDUSTRY GAINS DESPITE EXPORT LOSSES

E. G. Seubert Reports on 1940 Situation.

67,045 acres classified as proven and producing, 7,206 as proven but not producing, and 3,040,807 undeveloped. The most notable of the new fields brought in was the Alta Loma field in the gulf coast region of Texas.

Total income of the company and its subsidiaries in 1940 amounted to $363,272,459, including $4,423,105 income from investments. Principal payments made from the total were $198,129,686 for raw materials, transportation, and other operating expenses, $69,087,562 for salaries and wages, $22,196,059 for taxes paid out of income, 3,750000 for deposits in the annuity trust fund and $34,982,682 for depreciation, depletion, amortization, and other items.

Own Tax Bill $24,673,892.

The company's own total tax bill was $24,673,892, which included $2,477,833 additional taxes for prior years charged to surplus. Taxes collected for federal, state, and local governments totaled $95,799,205.

Seubert said that the federal suit filed in September, 1940, against 368 petroleum companies, including Standard of Indiana [if it goes against the companies], would render Standard and the industry "impotent to function economically and to serve the public efficiently." None of the cases has been tried. The suits would separate production and distributing units in the oil industry.

OFFER BIG ISSUE OF CONNECTICUT LIGHT COMMON

An underwriting syndicate headed by Drexel & Co. of Philadelphia will offer publicly today 701,253 shares of common stock of Connecticut Light and Power company at $42.50 a share.

Rated one of the largest utility stock offerings in recent years, distribution will be handled by several hundred investment firms thruout the country.

The shares were formerly owned by the United Gas Improvement company and were transferred recently to the Drexel syndicate in connection with UGI's adjustment to holding company provisions of the public utility act of 1935. The shares represent 61 per cent of the outstanding issue.

Nash Reports First Quarter Sales Set All Time Peak

Detroit, Mich., April 8 (AP).—Nash Motors division of Nash-Kelvinator corporation reported today that its retail sales for the first quarter of 1941 numbered 26,193 new cars compared with 13,070 in the first three months of last year. It was the highest first quarter total in the company's history.

BOMBER WINGS TO BE BUILT AT PULLMAN PLANT

RFC Signs Contract for $1,108,901 Financing.

A large section of the Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company's plant at 103d street and Cottage Grove avenue is to be converted into a factory for making wings for Douglas bombers, officials announced yesterday. The Reconstruction Finance corporation disclosed in Washington, D. C., that a $1,108,901 contract had been signed for government financing of the plant.

About 1,000 men are to be employed at the plant, including present members of the Pullman-Standard personnel and experts to be hired. It is expected that production will be under way by midsummer.

The bomber wing contract involves a total of just under $5,000,000, but it is expected that other orders will be awarded later. Only a part of the vast freight car plant will be used under the present contract. The company already has a large supervisory staff and force of workers skilled in handling aluminum and other light metals used in aircraft manufacture.

At its Hammond, Ind., freight car plant, Pullman-Standard is building medium weight tanks for the British, gun carriages, trench mortars, and shells. It is making a large number of shells at its Butler, Pa., plant.

OUTLYING BANKS SHARE INCREASE IN LOAN VOLUME

Shift Deposits to Escape Tax Assessment.

Nearly all the outlying and smaller downtown Chicago banks increased their loans and discounts in the first three months of 1940, reflecting the biggest demand for bank funds since the second quarter of 1932. The gains were shown in statements of condition as of April 4.

Total deposits, cash resources, and savings deposits of these banks held mainly to the downward trend reported for all Chicago banks. The April 1 tax assessment date was a factor causing deposits to dip below the Dec. 31 volume. Many depositors at this time each year let deposits decline, or transfer funds temporarily into other states or into nontaxable bills.

Merchandise Loans Rise.

Merchandise National bank reported loans and discounts of $9,409,000, compared with $8,888,000 on Dec. 31. Total deposits dipped to $26,181,000, from $27,743,000, and cash resources declined to $12,201,000, from $15,781,000. Savings deposits showed a small loss.

Industrial National bank's loans and discounts rose to $11,561,000, from $11,303,000 at the end of 1940. Moving against the trend, total deposits moved up to $8,435,000, from $7,843,000, and cash resources were $1,305,000, compared with $946,000 on Dec. 31. Savings deposits, however, were smaller.

Chicago City Bank and Trust company's loans and discounts increased to $10,007,000, from $9,697,000 as of Dec. 31. Total deposits advanced to $29,569,000, from $29,456,000, and cash resources declined to $14,495,000, from $14,973,000.

Mercantile National bank reported its loans and discounts advanced to $5,087,000, from $4,963,000. A dip to $18,350,000 from $21,760,000 was recorded for total deposits, and a decline to $7,373,000 from $11,491,000 was listed for cash resources.

Reports Smaller Loans.

Live Stock National bank was one of the few to report a decline in loans and discounts. The April 4 total was $5,200,000, against $6,114,000 as of Dec. 31. Total deposits dipped to $27,075,000, from $29,671,000, and cash resources to $19,184,000, from $21,289,000. Savings deposits, however, showed a gain.

La Salle National bank's loans and discounts moved up to $2,953,000, from $2,428,000, and total deposits to $9,336,000, from $9,234,000. Cash resources declined to $3,126,000 from $3,929,000.

Others reporting increases in loans and discounts during the quarter included the Drovers National bank, Drovers Trust and Savings bank, Amalgamated Trust and Savings bank, Liberty National bank, Merchants National bank, South East National bank, Terminal National bank, and Sears-Community State bank.

NORTH WESTERN RAILWAY ELECTS 3 NEW DIRECTORS

Stockholders of the Chicago and North Western railway yesterday elected three new directors, Leonard E. Hurtz, Omaha, Neb.; Harry W. Harrison, Philadelphia, Pa., and John L. Banks, Superior, Wis.

Shareholders of the Chicago Great Western railroad were told by Patrick H. Joyce, president, that first quarter carloadings exceeded last year by 10 per cent. Ivan A. McKenna, Chicago; William F. Carey, New York, and Robert R. Fauntleroy, St. Charles, Ill., were elected directors.

GOVERNMENTS CUT.

Do you know whether the investment policy of the Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance company has been to increase or reduce its portfolio of government bonds? I would appreciate receiving a brief sketch of the company's development.—K. B.

Answer: The Minnesota Mutual Life Insurance company in 1940 cut its holdings of government bonds from $4,976,034 to $3,246,149. The company's policy is to increase its investment in state and municipal and public utility bonds and in mortgage loans.

At the end of 1940 the company held $13,233,399 in state and municipals, $8,602,256 in public utilities, and $8,651,756 in mortgage loans. Average interest return on its investments in 1940 was 3.65 per cent against 3.9 per cent in 1939.

Financial statistics for recent years follow:

	Admitted assets.	Insurance written.	Insurance in force.
1936	$37,281,000	$34,162,000	$203,692,000
1937	40,926,000	32,833,000	212,688,000
1938	44,473,000	38,034,000	225,535,000
1939	47,780,000	29,995,000	230,003,000
1940	51,278,000	33,237,000	240,461,000

Minnesota Mutual operated from 1880 to 1901 on the assessment plan and thereafter as a legal reserve company. It is owned mutually by its 100,000 policyholders.

BANK DEBITS.

What are bank debits? How do they differ from bank clearings? What is the significance of bank debits statistics published by the federal reserve board?—N. S.

Answer: Bank debits are charges made against individual checking and savings accounts in commercial banks. When you write a check or withdraw money from your bank the debit is the amount deducted from your deposit. Bank clearings represent the volume of checks handled by central clearing houses in various cities.

Because nearly all checks or bank withdrawals are for payments, bank debits are considered a fair barometer of business activity. The debits mirror [1] payments for goods in various stages of manufacture and distribution, [2] payments for services: wages, salaries, rents, dividends, interest, taxes, [3] payments resulting from financial deals such as real estate transfers or security transactions, and [4] gifts, repayments of loans, or withdrawals to obtain currency.

The sensitivity of bank debits to variations in business volume is impaired by the influence of the last two factors, which actually do not reflect the amounts of goods being made or sold or the flow of income.

NOTICE OF REDEMPTION
CENTRAL ELECTRIC & TELEPHONE COMPANY

First Mortgage and Collateral Lien Sinking Fund Bonds, Series A, 4½%, due January 1, 1965.

To the Holders and Registered Owners of the above Bonds:

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the provisions of the Indenture dated January 1, 1940, between Central Electric & Telephone Company and The First National Bank of Chicago and Robert L. Grinnell, Trustees, Central Electric & Telephone Company has elected to redeem on April 18, 1941, all of the First Mortgage and Collateral Lien Sinking Fund Bonds, Series A, 4½%, due January 1, 1965, of said Company, issued and now outstanding under said Indenture dated January 1, 1940.

On April 18, 1941, there will become and be due and payable upon each of said bonds at the principal office of The First National Bank of Chicago, 38 South Dearborn Street, Chicago, Illinois, the principal thereof, together with accrued interest to such date, and a premium of five per centum (5%) of said principal.

Upon surrender of said bonds at said office, with, in the case of coupon bonds, interest coupons maturing after the redemption date, and in the case of bonds which shall at the time be registered as to principal, accompanied by duly executed assignments or transfer powers, there will be paid in cash on account of each bond so surrendered, a sum equal to said principal, accrued interest and premium.

From and after April 18, 1941, interest on said bonds will cease to accrue.

WHEAT AND SOY BEANS DIP UNDER SALES PRESSURE

Lard Falls in Sympathy with Other Markets.

Weakness in securities and other commodities led to selling of grain and lard futures yesterday. Wheat declined 2½ cents and soy beans were down as much as 4 cents before sufficient commission house buying developed to check the break.

Closing trades were above the bottom with losses of 1½ to 1⅝ cents in wheat and 2⅜ to 2⅝ cents in soy beans. Corn closed unchanged to ⅜ cent lower. Oats lost ¼ to ½ cent and rye ⅜ to 1¾ cents.

After a break of 30 to 35 cents in sympathy with hogs and cottonseed oil, lard rallied on buying attributed to cash interests and closed 17½ to 25 cents per 100 pounds lower.

Farmers were reported to have ceased selling cash wheat as the result of the decline in prices, futures having dropped 4⅞ cents from the high of late last week. This wiped out what little profit farmers might have had in their holdings of loan wheat, elevator interests said. Mills were credited with having bought May wheat on the decline.

A big trade in soy beans was marked by heavy selling said to represent commission house profit taking. New buying checked the break. Offerings of cash beans by farmers were reported small. Processors were said to be showing more interest in obtaining supplies.

COTTON

General liquidation developed in cotton futures yesterday following a steady opening. Weaknesses in securities and other commodities had considerable influence, and closing trades were near the bottom with losses of .09 to .12 cent a pound.

The world cotton crop for the 1940-'41 season is estimated at 30,133,000 bales, compared with 27,350,000 bales the preceding season and the record yield of 36,745,000 bales in 1937-'38.

As a result of the British centralization plan, it is believed that 200 spinning mills and 300 weaving mills will be forced to shut down. According to reports from Liverpool, it is expected that a large part of British cotton needs will be met by supplies from the United States.

Cash cotton closed .10 to .12 cent lower, with New York, 11.39 cents; New Orleans, 10.94 cents; Houston, 10.95 cents, and Galveston at 10.80 cents a pound. Futures prices follow:

1941 NAVIGATION IS STARTED AT HEAD OF LAKES

Duluth, Minn., April 8 (AP).—The 618 foot vessel W. G. Mather today plowed into the Duluth ship canal to open the 1941 interlake navigation season at the head of the lakes.

The vessel, flagship of the Cleveland-Cliffs ore fleet, entered the canal piers at 2:36 p. m. after more than a 22 hour battle against heavy windrowed ice.

CHICAGO BOATS GET THRU.

The Inland Steel company's two ore carriers, the L. E. Block and the N. F. Leopold, succeeded in getting thru the ice at Whitefish Bay, Lake Superior, yesterday morning and were en route to Marquette to take on the first loads of iron ore of the 1941 season, officials reported. They are expected to arrive at East Chicago Friday morning.

EARNINGS AND CERTAIN BALANCE SHEET ACCOUNTS The following summaries of earnings and certain balance sheet accounts as of December 31 for the years indicated have been reviewed by F. W. Lafrentz & Co., independent certified public accountants, the regular auditors of the Company since 1917, are stated on their authority, and are submitted solely as a matter of historical record. These figures are after adjustments, as indicated below, and are for the Company and its subsidiaries as now constituted. For the years 1931 to 1937, inclusive, no examination was made in connection with the Offering Prospectus. Figures for the years 1938 to 1940, inclusive, should be read in conjunction with the financial statements, the notes thereto, and the report of F. W. Lafrentz & Co. appearing in the Offering Prospectus.

 For statements of the policy of the Company and its subsidiaries with respect to provisions for retirements, of the deductions for depreciation taken for federal income tax purposes, and of the effect of the new uniform systems of accounts prescribed by the Connecticut Public Utilities Commission, see note 3 to the consolidated earnings statements in the Offering Prospectus.

† The adjusted net income applicable to common stock disclosed in this summary differs from that stated in published reports of The Connecticut Electric Service Company (former parent of the Company) and its subsidiaries prior to 1935, of the Company and its subsidiaries in 1935, and of the Company (unconsolidated) from 1936 to 1940 due to (a) the exclusion from the summary of net losses of two small subsidiaries sold prior to December 31, 1940, and (b) the inclusion therein of earnings or losses of subsidiaries of the Company since December 31, 1935, and of earnings of subsidiaries in 1931 and 1932 prior to their acquisition by the Company. The net adjustments in the respective years are as follows:

$135,719	$46,539	$27,481	$17,163	$9,194	$9,758	$3,764	$1,121 (loss)	$1,425 (loss)	$19,508

Company figures, not reviewed by F. W. Lafrentz & Co., for the twelve months' period ending February 28, 1941, indicate consolidated net income applicable to Common Stock of $3,852,464 or $3.35 per share.

Cash dividends at the annual rate of $3 per share have been paid, from 1931 to the date of the 1935 merger on the common stock of The Connecticut Electric Service Company, former parent of the Company, and at the same rate thereafter on the Common Stock of the Company. The most recent dividend, of 75¢ per share, was declared on February 19, 1941, and paid on April 1, 1941.

* Fixed Capital and Common Stock and Surplus have been adjusted as follows: (a) for the year 1931 to give effect to a subsidiary acquired and merged in 1932, (b) for the years 1931 to 1934, inclusive, to give effect to the write-down in 1935 of fixed capital of subsidiaries in the amount of approximately $754,000, (c) for the years 1931 to 1939, inclusive, to give effect to the elimination of the accounts of The Bristol Traction Company, a former subsidiary, sold in 1940, and (d) for the years 1931 to 1934, inclusive, to give effect to the elimination of approximately $21,595,000 from the common stock and surplus of The Connecticut Electric Service Company (former parent of the Company) upon its merger in 1935 into the Company. At that time there were corresponding decreases (i) in consolidated fixed capital of approximately $18,598,000, representing the difference of approximately $17,158,000 between the recorded cost to the parent company of its holdings of common stock of the Company and the par value thereof and a reduction of approximately $1,440,000 in the recorded amounts of certain other fixed assets and (ii) in investments of approximately $2,997,000 representing the difference between the net recorded cost to the parent company of common stocks of certain subsidiaries and the amount at which the investment in these stocks was recorded on the books of the Company on said merger. Other miscellaneous net charges to surplus between December 31, 1931, and December 31, 1940, include approximately $1,100,000 for premiums on preferred stocks retired.

THE COMMON STOCK WITHOUT PAR VALUE The unissued authorized Common Stock can be issued by the directors at any time. Such stock has no fixed dividend rights and is entitled to dividends only after full cumulative dividends on outstanding preferred stock have been paid. The Company may not pay dividends on such stock except out of net earnings since December 31, 1920, remaining after preferred stock dividends and specified allowances for maintenance, replacements, and renewals. Common stockholders are entitled to one vote per share and their voting rights are exclusive in the absence of certain defaults under the charter provisions relating to Preferred Stock. Holders of Common Stock have no preemptive rights except to subscribe to Common Stock issued for cash and to securities issued for cash convertible into Common Stock. They are entitled to share on liquidation of the Company pro rata after the payment of creditors and preferred stockholders. Attention is called to the possible 25% liability of stockholders under Connecticut law to creditors other than holders of outstanding bonds or debentures issued by the Company. The by-laws prohibit the issuance by the Company of securities representing indebtedness which do not contain a waiver of this liability.

UNDERWRITING Subject to certain terms and conditions the Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus have severally agreed to purchase this Stock from The United Gas Improvement Company at $39.50 per share or a total of $27,699,493.50. Such Stock is being offered to the public at $42.50 per share or a total of $29,803,252.50. The underwriting discounts are $3.00 per share or a total of $2,103,759.00. Payment for and delivery of the stock are to be made on or before April 30, 1941. Drexel & Co. have agreed to deposit with The United Gas Improvement Company their management fee of 20¢ per share, subject to the later determination by the Securities and Exchange Commission as to how much thereof, if any, the Commission will permit Drexel & Co. to receive and retain.

PRICE $42.50 PER SHARE

The Underwriters named in the Offering Prospectus have agreed to purchase from The United Gas Improvement Company 701,253 shares of Common Stock without par value of the Company on the terms and conditions set forth in the Purchase Agreement including the approval of legal matters by Drinker Biddle & Reath, counsel for the Underwriters, and by Day, Berry & Howard, counsel for the Company.

TO FACILITATE THE OFFERING, STABILIZATION OF THE PRICE OF THE COMMON STOCK OF THE COMPANY WAS COMMENCED ON MARCH 24, 1941, AND IT IS INTENDED TO CONTINUE TO STABILIZE SUCH PRICE. THIS STATEMENT IS NOT AN ASSURANCE THAT THE PRICE OF THE STOCK WILL CONTINUE TO BE STABILIZED OR THAT THE STABILIZING, IF CONTINUED, MAY NOT BE DISCONTINUED AT ANY TIME.

Further information, particularly financial statements, is contained in the Registration Statement on file with the Securities and Exchange Commission, and in the Offering Prospectus which must be furnished to each purchaser and is obtainable from only such of the undersigned as are registered dealers in securities in this State.

BEARISH BALKAN WAR NEWS PUTS STOCKS LOWER

Losses in Industrial List Range to 3 Points.

New York, April 8 (AP).—The stock market today went into one of its most severe declines in five months as selling was touched off by what Wall street considered bearish implications of the Balkan war news.

Steels, rails, and industrials bore the brunt of selling, with losses of 1 to more than 3 points. New lows for the year were registered by such pivotal issues as United States Steel and Chrysler. Closing quotations were not far from the day's bottom.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks ended with a net drop of .9 of a point at 41. Except for Feb. 14, it was the severest relapse in the barometer since Nov. 6.

Market Much Broader.

The breadth of the market was exemplified by the fact 823 individual issues were traded, compared with 645 yesterday. Of these, 670 were lower, 42 higher, and 111 unchanged.

Financial quarters apparently viewed as depressing dispatches telling of Nazi successes in Jugo-Slavia and elsewhere, as well as reports of recent heavy British shipping casualties.

Prominent losers included Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, United States Rubber, Santa Fe, Great Northern, South Pacific, Douglas Aircraft, Sears Roebuck, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Allied Chemical, Johns-Manville, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Anaconda, Kennecott, and Western Union.

White Sewing Machine rose 9 points to 50, a new 1941 top, on a single sale, the first since mid-February.

CHICAGO LIST DECLINES.

Prices slipped further on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday in transfer of 28,000 shares. Of the 107 active issues, 76 declined, 11 advanced, and 20 were unchanged. Losses among the trading favorites ranged from ¼ point for Armour and Berghoff Brewing to 2¾ points for United States Steel. Central and South West Utilities was the only one of the 10 volume leaders to show a gain, closing at 3-16, up 1-16.

BORG-WARNER BEGINS WORK ON BELLWOOD PLANT

Borg-Warner corporation yesterday took title to a site 418 by 610 feet on the west side of 25th avenue, a block south of Washington boulevard in Bellwood.

Excavation work has been started for a plant 184 by 191 feet in which coil springs for airplanes and automobiles will be made. Most of the building will be one story with a two story office section. Completion is scheduled for early in June.

The plant designed by Howard F. Colburn, will cost $107,000 and it is understood considerably more than that will be spent on equipment. The site was purchased from the Chicago Title and Trust company for $39,500. The En-Jay Construction company has the general contract.
